Devotional Thoughts

"If any man will do His will, he shall know of the doctrine." John VII. 17.

If a man wants scientific knowledge, intellectual curiosity is his guide: but if he wants insight into what Jesus Christ teaches, he can only get it by obedience. If things are dark to me, then I may be sure there is something I will not do. Intellectual darkness comes through ignorance; spiritual darkness comes because we refuse to obey. Man never can think himself out of a spiritual muddle. But if we are willing to do His will, everything will be as clear as day. We disobey and then wonder why we don't go on spiritually. If when we come to the altar, said Jesus, there remember your brother hath ought against you — don't say another word, but first go and put that thing right. The teaching of Jesus hits where we live. The Spirit of God unearths the spirit of self-vindication; He makes us sensitive to things we never thought of before. When Jesus brings a thing home by His word, won't shirk it. If you do, you will become a religious humbug. Watch the things you shrug your shoulders over, and you will know why you do not go on spiritually. FIRST GO, at the risk of being thought fanatical you must obey what God tells you TO OBEY IS BETTER THAN SACRIFICE.

EUROPEAN INDUSTRY

fountains on all sides. They provided chairs for us so that we could view the display in comfort.

All the lights in the palace were extinguished and from a public address system, the history of France was reenacted, covering the period of the Louis', including the Revolution. When they portrayed many famous historical characters the lights would go on in the various rooms where they had stayed and they would even show the King going through the lighted corridors to visit some of his friends at night; then there would be a Banquet and a Grand Ball in the Hall of Mirrors, all beautifully described, and the lights would go on as the guests were arriving until the Palace was all ablaze as they approached. As we remember our history, when the Monarchy fell the people came charging the Palace and throwing rocks through the windows, with cries of "Down with the King." All of this was reenacted graphically. On one occasion, at the Royal Ball on a Summer's night, the guests came out on the front porch of the Palace to dance. Immediately the fountains were turned on and colored lights were played on them. The whole spectacle was breathtaking in its beauty. After this part of the program we were invited into the Main Ballroom where they served a beautiful Buffet Supper and entertained us further with an exquisite ballet.

When the meeting adjourned Mrs. Schell and I travelled to England, Ireland, Germany, back to Paris, to Nice and the Italian Riviera, to Rome, Naples, and Capri, then to Madrid, Spain, and finally to Estoril, Portugal, a beautiful watering place. All told we visited about twelve countries and although we covered the territory in a relatively short time it was most interesting. Of course, we flew between countries which saved a great deal of time. For instance, it takes about 5½ to 6 days to go by steamer and train from Rome to Madrid, via Barcelona. Our flight took just 4½ hours.

Mrs. Schell and I enjoyed our trip immensely. As usual, however, we were happy to return home.

I would like to see all Americans who are overcritical of their country take a trip through Europe. They would surely come back far more appreciative of this glorious free land in which it is a privilege to live."
