

Notice To Employees

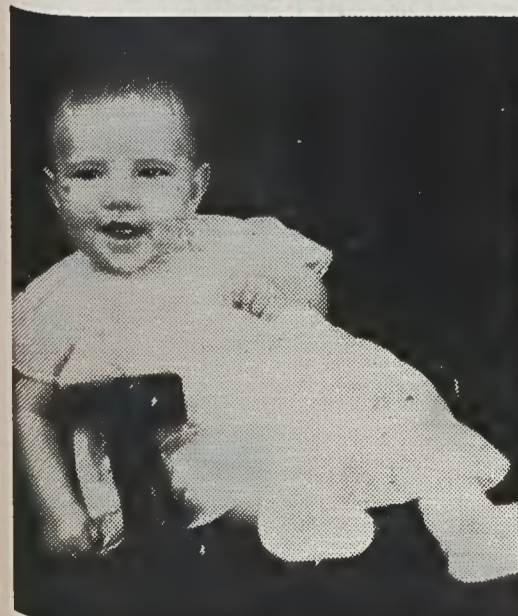

An election will be held on Tuesday, September 13, in which the employees of our Caromount and Wilson plants will decide whether they do or do not want the CIO Union to represent them. The election will be conducted by the National Labor Relations Board and there will be three voting periods at each plant, that is, approximately 4:30 to 5:30 in the morning and 6:30 to 7:30 in the morning and 2:30 to 3:30 in the afternoon. Thus, all employees can vote on Company time without any loss of pay for the time spent voting. All ballots will be brought together, mixed, and counted as one group. We urge every eligible employee to vote.

Shown here, left, is Melinda Strickland who will be an eighth grader at Williford School this fall. At right, is her sister, Peggy Dew, who lives with her aunt in Fuquay Springs. Melinda and Peggy are daughters of Mrs. Marie Strickland Dew of the Final Inspection Department.

Mrs. Theresla Perdue is shown here with her grandchildren, Connie and Gray Perdue. Mrs. Perdue is an employee of the Caromount Mending Department.

Here is little Linda Dianne Carpenter, daughter of Hubert Carpenter of the Caromount Weaveshed. Linda Dianne is four months old.

Reports From Raw Goods And Mending

Vacation At White Lake

"Red" Sessoms and his family went to White Lake during his vacation. His boys were thrilled over the boat rides and all the points of interest pointed out to them.

Vacation With Son

Mrs. Theresla Perdue spent her vacation in Portsmouth, Ohio, visiting her son, Julian, and his family. Julian is a pipe sweater for an atomic plant in Portsmouth.

Sightseeing

Mr. and Mrs. James Gupton went on a sightseeing tour during vacation. They went as far as Cincinnati, Ohio, and had a wonderful time visiting places of interest. They especially enjoyed mountain scenery.

Children At Home

Mrs. Samantha McLamb enjoyed having her children spend some time with her recently. They are Mr. and Mrs. James McLamb and family of Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Warren of Newton Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. George McLamb of Durham. Mrs. George McLamb, Jr., was given a stork shower during her visit and received many useful gifts.

Welcome

We wish to welcome A. F. Everette to this department. His address is Tarboro, R.F.D.

Wedding Announced

Miss Macey Morris, daughter of Mrs. Pauline Morris, was married on August 20, to George Thigpen, Jr. They will make their home at 212 South Tillery Street.

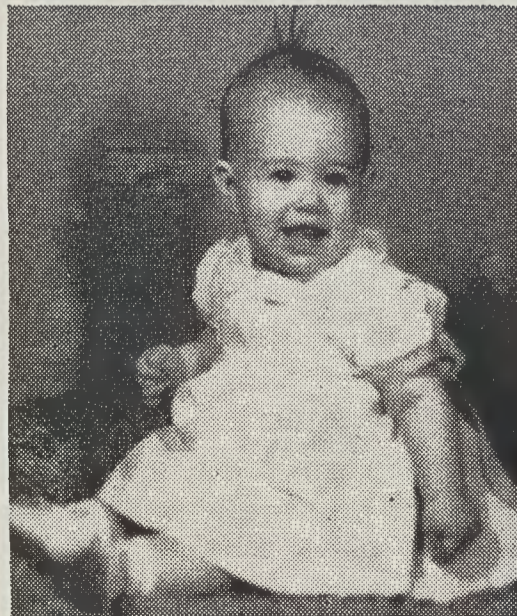

Weekend At Carolina Beach

Mrs. Minnie Inscoe and her family spent a recent weekend at Carolina Beach. Her little boys were afraid of the ocean but her daughter enjoyed swimming and sunbathing.

First Responsibility

Writing in Harper's magazine, Peter F. Drucker makes this point: "I think that we can agree that the first responsibility of management is always to the business enterprise and that, since it is the primary job of any business enterprise to make a profit, management must see to it that it does . . . If an enterprise fails, it is not just the stockholders who take a loss; we all lose. Jobs are gone and wealth is wasted. It is the community that bears the brunt, and we are all part of the community."

Everyone's livelihood depends upon profit. It makes the wheels go round.

Carolyn Ann Sharpe, only a year old, is the granddaughter of Walter and Mary Wells of the Caromount Weaveshed.

LET'S STOP RUMORS BEFORE THEY START...

Your Company's Prosperity is Your Best Security!

In connection with the current poster program on RUMORS at Caromount and Wilson, President M. G. Jones furnishes the following message:

DANGER—DYNAMITE

When we look at a stick of dynamite, it doesn't look dangerous—but we know it can explode in our faces. So we label it, DANGER—DYNAMITE.

Rumors don't appear dangerous, either. But we all know they can be dynamite.

A rumor can have a slow fuse or a fast one. We never know—until it explodes—and that's when somebody always gets hurt . . . maybe your team-mate, maybe you, maybe all of us.

You may have seen it happen . . . one false rumor can ruin a good name. One vicious rumor can hurt a whole family. One senseless rumor can "kill" a company and destroy jobs for everyone. Nobody wants that to happen.

For our own peace of mind—for our own progress—for our own security—let's stop rumors before they start . . .

"CHANGES"

(Continued from Page One)

9. Stainless steel print washers.

The Wilson employees have not been forgotten in this modernization and improvement program. They now have:

1. A new and most modern Weaveshed and yarn preparation building with an up-to-date humidifier and cooling system.

2. A new slasher, high speed beamers, winders and warping equipment.

3. A new parking lot.

4. 41 new C & K W-3 looms.

5. Ten new jacquard heads for W-3 looms.