

SCOUTS

Scout Clarence Hargraves, patrol leader; Second Class Scout Horace B. ... patrol leader; and Second Class Scout Johnnie ... patrol leader.

The Troop at present, being without a scoutmaster, is under the supervision of Mr. Eugene White. There are about fifteen Scouts in the troop. A program of unusual features is being planned for Boy Scout Anniversary Week.

All the Scouts being interested in advancing, they are working to become first class Scouts and to increase the number of second class Scouts.

A PARENT'S SILENT PRAYER

"Dear Lord: You gave your Son to save the world, You didn't count the cost In blood and sacrifice; You gave your son that we might live. Dear Lord— Can I do less? I give the world my son That he may help to save The things for which your Son So nobly died. If when the victory's won, dear God, And you send back my son, I'll press him to my breast and thank you, Lord. And if he goes to join your Son, I'll understand, And through my tears, rejoice To know that my son and the Son of God Go hand in hand. Amen."

ley, The Negro Genius, Wuthering Heights, Inside Europe, Undercover, New World A-Coming. These are but a small number of the new additions.

As the library is open throughout the day, all students have the opportunity of making their study periods and recess period count for something worthwhile. However, while the library welcomes all students, at the same time, it must have regulations that will operate for the benefit and pleasure of all who use it. Disorder has no place in a reading room; thus unnecessary talking could not be permitted in the library.

Too, the policy of the library is to encourage order and cleanliness. No one who comes in to read should find it necessary to litter the tables and floor with waste paper, thus leaving an unattractive place for those who come in afterwards.

HAPPENINGS IN LITTLE PLACE

By J. H. Jonett

Our Lord Jesus lived for 30 years amid the little happenings of the little town of Nazareth. Little villages spell out their stories in small events. And He, the young Priest of Glory, was in the carpenter's shop. He moved amid humdrum tasks, and petty cares, and village gossip, and trifling trade, and He was faithful in that which is least. He wore his crown on other than state occasions. It was never off His brow.
