

HOW TIGERS STOOD IN BASKETBALL

The fighting basketballers of Orange County Training School had a fine time during their basketball season, playing ten games and participating in two final tournaments, one in Winston-Salem and the other in Burlington, North Carolina.

The Tigers really had ups and downs, but they ended their season near the top. Our losses came from Mill Grove, Lincoln Academy, Jordan Sellars, and Reidsville, but on the winning side we defeated Jordan Sellars, Pleasant Grove, twice, Efland High, West Virginia High, and the City Wildcats of Chapel Hill twice.

The girls didn't succeed in winning any games but they left an impressive mark, showing that they were strong competition, and their strength sharpened for the coming year.

Veterans returning from last year were Elizabeth Regester, Annie Byrd, Helen Stroud, Carrie Alston, Louise Baldwin, and Lenora Geer. The newcomers were Mary Pendergraft, Marie Brooks, and Sarah Grimes. The girls' losses by graduation are very small, only losing captain Elizabeth Regester and Marie Brooks.

Veterans for the boys team were Captain Joe Durham, Willie Edwards, Samuel Boyd, Johnnie Mason, George Webb and Albert Regester.

Captain Joe Durham, who leaves with the class of '45. He expects to attend Winston-Salem Teachers College where he has a scholarship.

N. F. A. Rallies

Boxing Tournament

The N. F. A. sponsored a boxing contest directed by Mr. B. F. Garrett, and exhibited eight contests. The greatest excitement during the bouts was that of Bill Stroud being knocked out in two minutes by Arthur Barbee. Other decisions were Johnnie Mason over Norman Barbee in the third round, James Cates over Russell Watson in the third round, Glenn Roberts over Eric Fearington on the second round, "Lish" Burchette over O. T. Edwards, William O'Kelly over Marion Briggs in the third round, Alvesta Walker over Samuel Head in the third round and the final heavy-weight bout, William Taylor over Jeppie Foushee.

Two prizes were awarded, a five dollar prize to Johnnie Mason and a two dollar prize to Arthur Barbee. There will be a school closing boxing contest sponsored by Mr. M. J. Seales at the close of the school year.

TIGERS CARRY ON

SOFTBALL GAMES

The Orange County softball team was organized early and has played five exhibition games this season. The team is being trained by Coach Seales.

Thus far, we have had all of our engagements with the experience Pre-Flight team of Chapel Hill, which has won three of the final contest, and the Tigers have won two. The Orange County boys are "sparked" by the fast pitching of John Allen, the fine catching of "Lish" Burchette, and the smooth team work of Johnnie M. Mason, Willie Edwards, Samuel Boyd, Joe Durham, George Webb, and Henry Harris.

The Tigers have scheduled other contests with teams from Durham and Braughtown. However the Tigers are the high favorites for the year.

Newcomers were Lish Burchette, Henry Harris, William O'Kelly, Matthew Fearington, Otis Pettiford, Clarence Hargraves and Horace Brewer.

We are greatly indebted to our Coach for the fine work he rendered. The players are proud of him. If you are interested in our team's record it stands as follows:

BOYS:
Name	Points
Joe Durham	70
Willis Edwards	49
Lish Burchette	40
Johnnie Mason	26
George Webb	0
Mat. Farrington	4
Otis Pettiford	4
Albert Regester	4
Henry Harris	6

GIRLS:

VOCATIONAL CLUBS GIVE ANNUAL VALENTINE PARTY

The New Farmers of America, and the New Home Makers of North Carolina entertained a large number of their parents and teachers at their Annual Father-Son, and Mother-Daughter Valentine Party, in the school auditorium, February 14, 1945.

The party opened with games of all types, suitable to the interest of all parents, teachers, and all club members. Following the game was a truth of consequences quiz, that aroused much interest, was led by Marie Brooks and Virginia Edwards. The quiz was on facts concerning the Negro, and his contribution to society.

The bullet-style of service was from a beautifully decorated table covered with a Quaker lace cloth. The center piece was heart-shaped, made of small heart-shaped baskets, filled with candy, nuts, and popcorn, built around a beautiful white birthday cake. It was the birthday of the president of the Home Makers Club.

Elizabeth Regester, and Jennie Johnson presided over the service.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Ben Baldwin. There was dancing for those who were interested. Due to the last draft on the small, there was a shortage of boys.

It is the time of both organizations to bring parents into social life of the boys and girls, that they may become aware of their needs, and may see how they are developing in cultural the graces.

Survey Shows 37% Of Students Work After School Hours

A recent survey was made of the three high school classes, ninth, tenth, and eleventh grades, to determine the variety of occupations held and the average pay received by the boys and girls gainfully employed after school hours.

The survey revealed that there are fourteen different occupations that engage the students. However, because of frequent changes in jobs, this number could not be considered the true number for the school years.

The number of boys employed as waiters was eight. Other boys steadily employed numbered fourteen. These being engaged in numerous occupations, such as paper boys, floor boys, janitors, pot washers, dish washers, cattle tenders and musicians.

The average pay for the waiters is $20.00 per week. The other receive 30-40c per hour.

The number of girls employed is exactly the same as that of boys, a total of twenty-two. Eight are engaged in domestic service, and receive average wages of $9.00 per week. Six are engaged as waitresses and the average pay is $8.00 per week.

The other eight are engaged as dish washers, and received an average of $10.00 per week.

The survey revealed that 37 per cent of the high school boys and girls are gainfully employed after school hours.

N. F. A. CHAPTER OF O. C. T. S. IMPROVES HOG BREED

The N. F. A. Chapter of the Orange County Training School recently organized a Pure Bred Poland China Curve Association with the purchase of a pure breed sow and a pure bred boar.

The Chapter plans to improve the breed of hogs grown in this section of Orange County.

Also, this organization will arrange for mating with the boar for those people in the community who wish to improve the breed of their hogs. Those interested will make the arrangements with Mr. B. F. Garrett, teacher of Agriculture in O. C. T. C.

Officers of the N. F. A. Chapter are as follows: President, Samuel Boyd; Vice President, Alvesta Walker, Secretary, Reuben Cole, Treasurer, Paul Smith, and reporter, Rufus Cole. Cole.

Home Ec Majors From Three Colleges Work Under Miss Ruth Pope

The department of home economics of Orange County Training School renders a valuable service to the teacher training department of several colleges in the State of North Carolina, through the supervision of their student-teachers by Miss Ruth Pope, head of the department.

This year three colleges — Bennett College, Greensboro, North Carolina College for Negroes, Durham, and Shaw University, Raleigh has students doing their practice teaching under Miss Pope.

Miss Ophelia Wright, senior of North Carolina College for Negroes, spent six week in the department. Miss Sidney Kowe and Miss Tuppance, Bennett College seniors, also spent six weeks in the school. The latter developed projects in foods, and in the selection and care of clothing. They also served the first grade at a party.

As Shaw University — the Board of Trustees and the administration — favors the policy of sending its prospective teachers out to teach under supervision for a semester, Miss Harveleigh Rivira, a senior at Shaw University, spent an entire semester as the student-teacher in the Orange County Training School home economics department.

Miss Riviera, the daughter of Dr. Monte Riviera of Mount Olive developed projects in child care, in which she and the tenth grade adopted a mal-nourished child of about two years, but who was the size and weight of an eight months old child, to feed and care for over the semester, in the selection and care of clothing, in helping at home, and in selecting and serving foods for special occasions

The Shadow Box

Greetings students! It has been sometime since I've had a chance to speak, but, I have been watching all movements.

E. R. why do you and J. J. play with G. R. so much? Why it is that P. S. has so many girl friends? U. B. what happened to you and A. B. B.? Did A. R. step into the picture?

Why isn't G. R. and A. R. interested in the girls at Orange County Training School? Do you have outside interests boys? L. N. is still carrying the torch for L. P. Why did B. S. and L. G. sing "Into Each Life Some Rain Must Fall"? Is there any falling into yours? B. S., C. H. is ruining your trade.

V. E. why do you sing, "I'll Walk Alone," so much? Is it because C. B. and P. B. are so far away from you.

M. B. who is it? J. R., C. F., or P. C. or J. Y.? Old love never dies does it A. N.?

Mary M. P. is just crazy about R. H. of the Navy and G. R. and N. B. is crazy about her.

N. R. and B. B. are such a cute couple when C. H. is not around.

F. W. did you have a good time when L. C. was at home?

E. D. W. is singing "I'm A Little On The Lonely Side."

J. J. have you heard "I'll Live True To You?"

D. F. who is it, W. B., J. W., L. L., J. T., or G. R., make up your mind.

E. R. decide between S. B., U. B., R. S., C. H. and fall in love with some one.

one like this usually makes one think of a small person, but not so in this case. I see a face of strength, a stout body but stylish, a lady who says things need not be large merely to be strong. What is her occupation? Just as I thought. It is that of a dietician for the entire State of North Carolina. It is Lucy Cobb. I know she enjoyed eating.

(Takes eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth) Two (2) ladies of the theatre. I know that by the glamorous whiff of perfume. They have stage names, but their real names are: Annie Mason and Lucy Trice.

(Takes twenty-first handkerchief) This bears the character of one who has a wide knowledge of books. In her home town she has established a large library for Negroes. There is no doubt that this person is Alyce Norwood.

Twenty-second and twenty-third handkerchief) Ah, these two seemingly have something in common. Hm-m they are men who brave the dangers of life and build high things through electrical engineering. The handkerchiefs crackle with electricity. These two men represent a new phase in the life of man. Who are they? Horace Brewer and Charlie Fearington.

ESSAY CONTEST CLOSES WITH ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The Tuberculosis Essay Contest promoted by the English department of Orange County Training School, came to a close on Friday, May 11, 1945, in the reading of three winning essays, in the assembly. Three prizes were awarded for the three best essays. The first prize of three dollars went to Lillian Nunn of the senior class. The second prize of two dollars was awarded to Margaret Fearington of the tenth grade. The third prize of one dollar went to Charlie Fearington of the senior class.

Although the contest is promoted by the English classes, under the direction of Mrs. M. D. Turner, it is sponsored by the Orange County Tuberculosis Association, which organization furnishes the prizes.

Riley Barnette presided over the assembly program. Mrs. Turner made the awards.
