Crown and Scepter Club Activities

The Crown and Scepter club has begun its year with many things on its agenda. The first project was to enter a float in the homecoming parade, with club representatives riding.

In the Crown and Scepter club there are at present eleven senior members. They are the following: Faye Atwater, Katrena Baldwin, Barbara Burnette, Betsy Cordal, Druscilla Clark, Frances Hargraves, Bertha Headen, Alicia Jones, Beatrice Robinson, Gwendolyn Snipes and Gloria Vickers.

The eligible junior members are now being determined by a committee in the school. They will then be voted on at a later date by the school. Before beginning any of the definite plans, the club is awaiting its charter.

Our advisor Mr. E. D. Lowery is doing a wonderful job in helping our club to be a successful one. Gwendolyn Snipes

SPORTS CORNER

By Floyd Hogan (Jake)

The Lincoln High Tigers were stopped in their first game of the season.

The Tigers opened the season with Jordan Sellars of Burlington, North Carolina, who defeated them 21-7.

The following week they were also defeated by their arch rivals Henderson Institute 13-6.

The third game of the season ended in a tie with Roxboro 0-0.

On October 8 the Tigers defeated Selma 18-0, which was a big Homecoming game for the Tigers.

The Tigers were going for their second victory on October 15, but Hurricane Hazel stopped Lincoln from going to Horton High School.

The Tigers now hold a record of—lost two—tied one—won one, and postponed one, due to the weather.

The Tigers have three more games: October 22—Wise, there; October 29—Nashville, there; Nov. 5—Carthage, home.

Dedication

The first edition of The Echo is dedicated to our new coach, Mr. W. D. Peerman.

TRIBUTE TO COACH AND FOOTBALL BOYS

Here's to the Lincoln High Tigers who have shown a great fight and determination under the leadership of the new coach, W. D. Peerman, who has done a great job of coaching the boys. We hope the boys will keep up the good work.

Let us at Lincoln High raise our voices in praises for our boys who have represented us well on the gridiron and to our coach who has put forth much effort to make the best better. Hillard Caldwell

COMMERCIAL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Lincoln High School Commercial Club elected their officers for the school term 1954-55. They are as follows: president; Wallace Perry; vice-president; Herman Burchett; secretary; Audry Lloyd; treasurer, Hilliard Caldwell; and advisor Mrs. M. G. Frazier.

There are 30 members in the club this year and we hope to make it the best we have ever had. Hilliard Caldwell

Education, Your Greatest Weapon

By Malissa Farrington

"The youth of today should take advantage of every opportunity that is offered them and try to secure an education, because it is the greatest weapon one can possess," says Mr. Charles F. Williams, president of the Lincoln High School Parent-Teachers Association. He went on, "I will work to the best of my ability to make the organization a success."

Attired in navy trousers, sky blue shirt, and brown shoes, as I interviewed him, Mr. Williams talked freely and pleasantly. "When I was elected I was glad to know that the people had enough confidence in me to bestow upon me such an honor. I don't feel that I am indispensable. With full cooperation the Parent-Teachers Association can be the greatest organization in the community. Without it, there will be little success. Any parent interested in his child and who has any love or devotion for his child will support the P. T. A.

program," he added.

Mr. Williams, an insurance salesman, born May 4, 1917 in Durham, North Carolina, attended Walltown Elementary School in his home town and continued his schooling until he was graduated from high school in 1936. Before entering high school, he had the misfortune of losing his father. His mother, having already deceased, he stayed with his sister.

After graduation from North Carolina College at Durham, North Carolina in 1942 he applied for the job of insurance salesman and was successful in obtaining it. Residing in the territory in which he was working was a young woman whom he came to like. As one thing led to another, he was soon leading her to the altar, making her Mrs. Charles F. Williams.

This highly esteemed gentleman is fond of sports. Since traveling is part of his job, he always finds time, but not so often the money, to travel.

Can It Be Possible?

Chapter 1

By Martha Norwood

Science is on the move and man is rapidly progressing. Discovery follows discovery and invention follows invention. Many years ago our forefathers never dreamed that someday a great iron bird would fly from country to country, a great ship would sail from shore to shore, a mere wire would carry one's voice millions of miles or the many other miracles of today would be accomplished.

As time passes man is constantly looking around for a chance to invent, discover, or perfect. More than ever, man's eyes wander to our neighboring planets, Saturn, Jupiter and Mars. Often does man ask himself the questions—are there inhabitants on these planets? Are they as advanced as we are? If interplanetary travel were discovered, would they become our friends or our enemies? Have methods for interplanetary travel already been discovered by our neighbors? All men ask each other the same question—Can IT BE POSSIBLE?

Day dawns in the small city of Chapel Hill. To the inhabitants of this small community, there seems to be nothing unusual about the new day. The people prepare, as usual for another day's work. Yes this town seems to be surrounded by a garb of happiness despite the constant bickering between James and Omeilia and the Jones twins, nor Delores Walker's disappointment at missing her bus to school.

The people of Chapel Hill are unaware that this day will go down in the history of Chapel Hill as its most unforgettable day.
