

THE FREE WILL BAPTIST.

AYDEN, N. C.
WEDNESDAY, Aug. 22, 1906.

SHORT NEWS ITEMS.

In Town and Through the Surrounding Country:

—Mr. O. L. Joyner, a hotel to-bacco warehouse man was in town last week.

—Mr. Thomas Keel of near Wilson was in town Saturday night and Sunday on a visit.

—Our church here is to have a metallic roof. This is one of the latest roofs going at this time.

—Mrs. J. B. Jones of Wilson was at the Christian church in the interest of the C. W. B. M. of her church at City.

—Mrs. George Case and daughter Vivian, went to Oak City Sunday morning and will remain several days.

—Miss Annie Joyner left Monday for Kinston, where she will remain several days before going to Atlantic.

—Died.—On last Thursday Mr. Allen Humbles in Greene county, lost his one year old child, it was buried on Friday.

—Misses Bessie and Laura Smith who live near Piney Grove church are visiting their numerous friends and relatives.

—Miss Mary Cobb of near Farnville has been spending several days in town visiting Misses Jimmie and Arah Davis.

—As I expect to be in New York for about two weeks, my office will be closed from Aug. 22nd to Sept. 3rd. J. W. TAYLOR, Optician.

—We are pleased to note that little Frank Hart, son of Willie Hart who was very sick a few days ago, is now able to be up again.

—Piney Grove church, Pitt County sends thanks to us for the Seminary. Good. Why not others do likewise. Bro Woodard is alive to our interests.

—Misses Venetia Baker and Olivia Berry, who have been spending some time in Scotland Neck on a vacation, returned on Sunday evening.

—Misses Mary Moye and Rosa Moore, H. G. Jackson and K. F. Bryant, all of Farnville were in town Sunday visiting Misses Jimmie and Arah Davis.

—Miss Linnie Beck spent last week visiting the family of her uncle Jesse Cherry at Red Banks in this county. Was accompanied home by Wm. Cherry and his sister Martha.

—Miss Alice Baker, who has served the public as central at the phone office, and who has been exceedingly clever, left on last Monday to spend a week's vacation in the town of Kinston.

—Any one wishing to get a catalogue of the Free Will Baptist Seminary, write to the Free Will Baptist Pub. Co., Ayden, N. C. All friends of the school should be on the lookout for students. Fall term begins, Aug. 27th.

—Next Saturday will be the annual meeting at the Seminary. Every member should be present. Please do not let small matters keep you away. God's business is more important than home affairs.

—The Kittrell excursion to Richmond was well represented Monday, many going from here and other points. George and his company are all right this time. We wish the attendants and managers a good time.

—We are pleased to see Prof. Peden return from his travels in Ohio and West Va. The doctor is looking well and strong and talks very cheerfully about the prospects of our cause in the West and the hopes of our school here.

—Services were held by the editor at Greenville on last Sunday. He was accompanied by his little daughter Mary. Was chosen to serve the church there for the next twelve months. We ask the prayers of our brethren everywhere in this work.

—We have the pleasure of seeing in town Prof. T. Cook Covington of McColl, S. C., who was the graded school principal here last year. The Prof. seems to be as happy and jolly as a sixteen year old boy. Glad to see our distinguished friends return after being away for a while.

—The musical features of the week of August twentieth to twenty-fourth at Chautauqua Institution, Chautauqua, New York, will consist of three concerts: On Monday evening a performance in which the Male Glee Club and Mandolin Club will take the principal part; on Wednesday afternoon the usual evening concert, and on Friday evening one in which all will feel a familiar interest, "Auld Lang Syne."

Deaths in the Country.

Mr. J. R. Sugg, son of Reuben Sugg, aged 48 years, died at his home near here last Thursday morning. His disease was paralysis of the brain. He lived but a few hours after he was taken. He leaves a wife and seven children. Mr. Sugg was a prominent member of the Odd Fellows Lodge here and a very highly esteemed citizen. His remains were laid to rest at the family burying ground at his home Friday evening the 17th with the burial service of the Odd Fellows who turned out in full force. We extend our sympathy to the bereft wife, children and friends.

JOHN FRANK HELEN DEAD.

Mr. J. F. Helen, who lived near Helen's X Roads, not many miles distant, died Thursday evening the 16th. He died from complications, had suffered very much from a wound, also had heart trouble and other symptoms. Mr. Helen was 60 years old, was a soldier in the Confederate army and lost a leg at Gettysburg in the famous charge there. Was a man of considerable business tact and has held several important positions. Was high Sheriff of the county one term and was popular in all his positions.

He was buried on last Friday evening near his home in the presence of a host of friends. Peace to his sleeping dust and God comfort those who mourn his loss.

Burial services were conducted at the grave by Rev. B. E. Stanfield.

SAMUEL MUNFORD DEAD.

On Monday morning about 3 o'clock, the spirit of Mr. Samuel Munford, who lives one mile from town on his farm, took its flight to the eternal world. He was apparently as well as usual on Sunday the 19th. He retired this way, but soon after being down he complained of his head hurting and requested his wife to apply cold water. Dr. Dixon was sent for and all was done for him possible but he was soon unconscious. A second stroke of paralysis had evidently struck his brain from which he expired at 3 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Munford was a man much above the average in many respects. In his younger days he was a man of great physical strength and noted for his great vitality. He was a very successful farmer and caused the earth to yield forth bountifully from his labors. Over 40 years ago he was married to Miss Cyrena Gardner, from which union they now have living three sons and five daughters. William, who resides here, is a farmer who is at home and Prof. B. F. Munford, who is a teacher in the deaf and dumb school at Morganton, Mrs. Argie is the wife of Edwin Tripp, of Hotel Tripp; Mrs. Bettie, the wife of Kinsley Harney near Ormondville; Mrs. Cornelia, recently married to Oscar Jolly near here. Misses Daisy and Anna are unmarried, the latter being a very intelligent, deaf mute.

Burial services were conducted at the Baptist church by Rev. T. H. King at 2 p. m. Tuesday evening and his body laid to rest in our town cemetery later in the evening. A large number were in attendance.

In addition to being a good farmer, a good neighbor, an affectionate husband and devoted father, he has been for many years a Christian of influence and a power in his church. His county, neighborhood, church and home will miss him. Mr. Munford was a faithful soldier in the Confederate service. A good and useful man has left us, but he will fill a nobler sphere in a better world. Peace to his dust. May God comfort the mourning family and friends.

and seemed so until death. A kind husband, father and friend has gone home to die no more. May God bless the family and friends he has left, they two must soon follow on.

2 That we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family of Bro. Wilson, and while they miss his husband and fatherly care and we his cheerful face in our lodge. Yet our loss is his eternal gain. We bow in humble submission to the will of him who doeth all things well.

3 That a page on the records of the lodge be set apart, sacred to his memory, and these resolutions inscribed there on. Also that a copy of the same be sent to his family, and one to the Free Will Baptist for publication.

Grown Men in School.

Springfield, the "City of Special Schools," offers a wonderful opportunity to its laboring men in the Evening Trades School which Marion Melius thus describes in the September EVERYBODY:
"It is an inspiration to visit this evening school and watch the men—for they are skilled laborers and not untutored boys—working eagerly, almost feverishly, in the machine room, the pattern making room, the plumbing room, the electrical laboratory, or the mechanical drawing room, trying to perfect themselves in their particular line or, rather, to broaden their particular knowledge. For to many men this school has meant emancipation from one monotonous machine which has been taking the life and ambition out of them, and it is rapidly making them all-round mechanics. They are striving for a more advanced education in order that they may command higher wages and possibly, in time, become a power in the manufacturing world; and they are tremendously in earnest. They never heed off to enjoy some social event, they never plead weariness—although the majority of them have been toiling eight hours for their daily bread; they never wish lessons were over. On the contrary, they asked that the school be open six nights a week, and when this was denied them, pleading that it be run from seven o'clock to twelve. But they have been obliged to curb their enthusiasm down to five nights a week, with three or four hours of work each evening."

—Mr. J. T. Hart is having his dwelling remodelled on R. R. street. He will make it two stories in height and otherwise enlarge its capacity. When completed we expect to see in the place of the former small building, a very neat and commodious residence.
