

JOHNSON FIELD BOASTS "SUPER" HOSPITAL

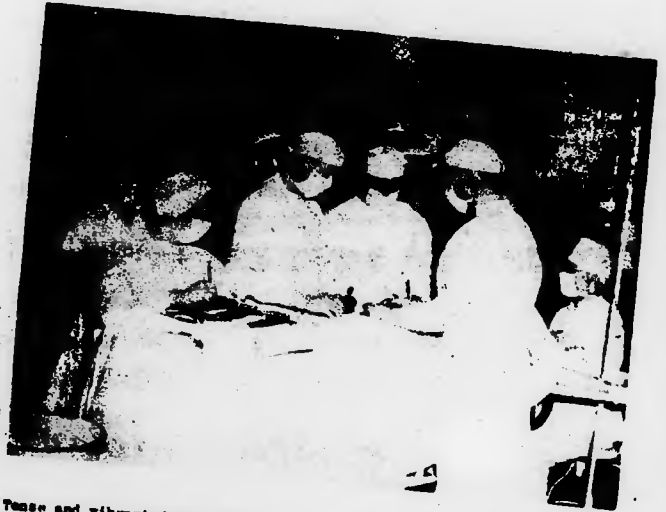

LT. COL. PHILLIP PEMBROKE PEASE

MAJOR GEORGE A. K. JOHNSON

The X-Ray machine in actual operation, doing its job of searching for hidden ailments. The post hospital's X-Ray equipment is some of the very finest obtainable.

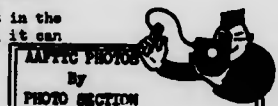

Tense and vibrant drama--the suspenseful and anxious moments in the operating room--is pictured here. During such scenes as this, life sometimes hangs in the balance--of a skillfully handled instrument.

Air-minded AM's take their physical examinations for aerial gunnery school, aviation cadet and officer's candidate school at the office of the Flight Surgeon.

It's a long day--when you have to spend it in the hospital. But, the staff does everything it can to make patients comfortable.
