MOCKING BIRD SINGS FAREWELL.

General Julian S. Carr, Gentleman and Soldier, Laid to Rest at Durham Home—Tottering Veterans Weep—Streets Hung With Mourning in Honor of the Last Passing of a Most Beloved Figure.

While a Southern mocking bird sang from the newly-turned-green branches of a nearby elm tree, there was laid to rest Sunday afternoon, May 4th, General Julian Shakespeare Carr, rare Southern gentleman, soldier, financier and scholar. The burial took place at the Carr homeplace, Somerset Villa. In a small white vault, in a mass of green vines and foliage, the body was laid, while thousands looked on with sorrow and reverence.

Lined on each side of the vault, with uncovered heads and saddened, moistened eyes, stood lines of gray-haired Confederate veterans in their gray uniforms, while Rev. Sam Small, former editor of the Atlanta Constitution, representing the chief chaplain of the Confederate veterans, spoke the simple words of the last funeral rites. The members of the family of the deceased stood at the foot of the vault during the ceremony. Without ostentation, without pomp, and in the quiet beauty of an early spring afternoon, the remains were lowered into the vault.

Banked high on each side of the tier were myriads of flowers, flowers such as General Carr had loved. Banked around the tiny, parklike plot, where the body of the late Mrs. Julian S. Carr, Sr., and Julian S. Carr, Jr., were the hosts of friends and admirers of one of the last of the South's grand old men. Prominently placed were the intimate friends of the late general, Col. Benahan Cameron, Governor Cameron Morrison, General Albert G. Raleigh, Hon. Wade Harris, of Charlotte; General W. E. Freeman and Col. E. D. Taylor, of Richmond, Va., and many others from a distance.

The mocking bird's song grew hushed as a Methodist choir, half hidden in the shrubbery, sang, soft and low, the favorite hymn of the deceased, "Asleep in Jesus." The casket was lowered into the vault, and slowly the funeral party wound past, dropping flowers into the open vault until it resembled a lovely, cool bed of white. Only one other hymn was sung at the grave, while the ceremony was taking place, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

OLD WELDON

Things That Happened 33 Years Ago in Town and Vicinity.

April 9, 1891.—Mr. J. M. Mullen, of Petersburg, was a visitor in town Monday.

Mr. T. L. Purnell, of Raleigh, spent a few days in town last week with old friends.

Mr. W. A. Dunn, of Scotland Neck, spent Tuesday night in town.

Governor Daniel G. Fowle died at Raleigh Tuesday night. Governor Fowle was fifty-nine years old and a native of Beaufort county.

The marriage of Mr. W. H. Nicholson and Miss Lizzie Johnston was consummated in Litleton M. E. church April 1, 1891, Rev. R. O. Burton, D. D., officiating. The ushers were Messrs. Tom Gough, of Henderson, Tom Hawkins, Willie Sprull and Howard Alston; best man, Mr. Peachie Woodford, of Richmond; maid of honor, Miss Lena Moore, of Warsaw. Attendants—Miss Betie Nicholson and Mr. Whit Johnston; Miss Mary Pierce and Mr. Eugene Johnston; Miss Sue Johnston and Mr. Claud Sessoms; Miss Claud Johnston and Mr. Gid Nicholson; Miss Minnie Johnston and Col. A. T. Uzzelle, of Baltimore; Miss Annie Allen and Mr. Ed. Young, of Henderson. Flower girls—Miss Irena Johnston and Miss Betie Perkins. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Mamie Lewis.

April 16, 1891.—Mrs. Eveline Branch died very suddenly at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Joseph S. Grigg, Jarratts, Va., on Sunday night last, aged about 66 years. She was a sister of our townsman, Mr. G. G. Gary.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Allen, of Belfield, Va., have arrived in town and will make this place their home in future.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Price, of Wilson, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. H. C. Spiers, returned home Monday.

Captain T. W. Mason left yesterday morning for Raleigh to attend the meeting of the Corporation Commission.

Rev. W. B. Morton has received a call to the pastorate of the Baptist church at Winston.

Mr. Charles R. Emry, who is a student at Horner's school was in town last week. He is now north for the purpose of having his eyes treated for weakness caused by overstudy.

April 23, 1891.—Mrs. R. S. Hall left Monday for Florence, S. C., where she will hereafter reside.

W. S. Herbert, editor of the Kinston Free Press, made this office a most pleasant call a few days ago.

Sheriff M. F. Stancell, of Northampton county, was in town a few days ago.

On Wednesday night of last week, the 15th inst., at the residence of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Cochran, Mr. J. M. Siger was united in matrimony to Miss Maggie M. Hamlet, the Rev. J. A. Lee, officiating.

We learn that Dr. James W. Alston died at his home in Raleigh Sunday night, aged 74 years. He practiced his profession here several years after the war.

Dr. F. M. Garrett, formerly of the Ringwood section, died in Litleton Friday morning and was buried in the Episcopal churchyard near Ringwood.

BOOSTER TRIP.

As we go to press we learn that a party of gentlemen are expected to reach Weldon from Wilmington about 5 or 6 o'clock over route No. 40 in the interest of the South Atlantic Coastal Highway. The Chamber of Commerce will entertain the party with a rock fish muddle. We are also expecting to have a little talking in regard to the highway.

Worth Money in the Home.

A bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for immediate use for sudden and gripping pains and cramps, always alarming, especially when accompanied with black nausea and weakening diarrhoea. Gives instant warmth, comfort and ease from pain. Good for children and grown-ups.

SPRIGHTLY SPARKS.

Gathered Here and There and Everywhere.

The roses are here again. The oyster season is over. Politics will soon be raging. The ice cream season is here. Early to plant, early to reap. The wild flowers are beautiful. This has been a very cold spring. Commencement season is almost here.

Now you can look out for thunder storms. Now for strawberry short cake—don't talk.

Get your hook and line and gather at the river. Home-made vegetables will be late this season.

Rock fish are here, but they are for rich folks only.

The backward of the season necessitated pushing spring work now.

Many a man who fell in love at first sight now wishes he had worn glasses.

Girls used to marry for wealth. Now some of them are satisfied with an auto.

Some Weldon people are never happy unless there is something wrong with them.

Maybe the reason some Weldon women get catty at times is because their husbands bark at them.

We see where a Norfolk man was arrested for drinking his tonic. He must want to be fur-lined.

Some are born dumb, and others get that from associating with vase-line shieks and bobbed-haired Shebas.

One advantage of daylight saving is that it enables everyone to say he has saved something during the year.

Mr. L. Kintner says Europe's attitude toward the United States seems to be: "If you love me, gimme."

We've noticed that when a boy is reserved and don't talk much his mother always says he takes after her.

According to Mr. Whit Anthony, the girl who is courted in a kitchen generally knows what to do in one after she is married.

Judging from reports, Congress is getting everything into the Congressional Record but a recipe for making raspberry jam.

The real "safety first" disciple is the Weldon man who wears suspenders as well as a belt and also carries a few nails in his pocket.

Spring fabrics interest the women folks around Weldon but Dad will continue to prepare for summer by merely taking off his vest.

Weldon men can thank nature for one thing—she fixed it so the fishing season comes around about the time the women start cleaning hours.

What has become of the old-fashioned Weldon boy who used to wipe down the aisle on Sunday morning in a pair of loud squeaking shoes?

A husband is one who says he "made a bad investment" and lets it go at that, but thinks his wife's loss is due to "woman's lack of judgment."

"It doesn't make any difference," says Mr. Ed. Johnson, "whether you get married in the forenoon or afternoon, you'll look just as foolish next day."

Mr. "Snake" Clark says he longs for the good old days when it was considered a science to know how to hold a girl and a big album on your lap at the same time.

Many a man who does not whoop with enthusiasm over his work, reaches the goal ahead of the chaps who have yelled themselves out of breath showing how much they liked their jobs.

DIED FROM WOUNDS.

Ralph Britt, colored, who was shot at the oil mill, in this place, about six weeks ago and taken to the hospital at Roanoke Rapids, died on Wednesday from the effects of the wound. The party who did the shooting was never arrested. The remains were taken to St. George, S. C., for burial.

PUPILS SOLVE PROBLEM.

Educational Situation in Halifax County Depicted in Commencement Exercises.

It was a surprising day for the two thousand or more folks who poured into Halifax last Friday and off and on during the day succeeded in crowding into the court house for a glimpse of the prize winners during the successive six to seven hours of recitations, story-telling, singing, drills and finally, the operetta.

The morning events went off with a precision and promptness that bodied well for those who were to make a day of it, and closed with commencement exercises for 88 seventh grade graduates, representing 17 schools. Rev. H. M. North, of the Methodist Church of Rocky Mount, delivered the short address which preceded the presentation of diplomas by Superintendent A. E. Akers. The morning also concluded the singing, story-telling and dramatization contests, and left the crowd ready for the afternoon, which had promised the most interesting part of the day. After dinner, instead of the line of Fords beginning to dwindle away, it increased, for the best part of the program had been saved for the last and the Halifax folks wanted to know just what the children had to say about the schools.

"The Belles of Better Schools," an operetta planned for Halifax county by the Hobgood and Calvary schools, was produced to show the tax payers why they are receiving only 61.8 per cent. out of every dollar spent on education. According to the authors of the operetta, and those who did some clever performing, it was a lack of co-operation between the functioning units of the school and community.

The operetta closed the day after a series of dances and drills which showed the result of the concerted effort to put a vicirola into every school in the county as a part of the program of music appreciation.

The prize winners in the events of the day included the following pupils and schools: Primary story-telling, Clara Tanna, Darlington; primary recitation contest, Hanna Hestinsall, dramatization, Darlington school; primary singing, Hobgood school; grammar grades singing, Dawson school and Halifax school; special physical drill, Hardraee school; singing games, Halifax; folk games, Halifax; expressions of rhythm, Halifax, with the Dixie dance.

SEVERELY HURT.

News was received here last week that Mr. John Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnston, of this place, had been severely wounded while attending to his duties in the Gaston hotel at New-Bern. It seems Mr. Johnston was acting as clerk in the office for a short while and some man, whom he had never seen before, came in swearing very loud, and he at once told him he would have to get out, that he could not allow him to use such language in the office. The man went out and came back with a brick and hit Mr. Johnston on the head, fracturing his skull. He was at once rushed to the hospital and is now doing as well as could be expected. Mrs. Johnston left at once to be at his bedside. Much sympathy is expressed here for the young man and also for his father and mother.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT.

At the meeting of the School Board on Wednesday night of last week, Mr. Walter W. Barnhart, of Oxford, was elected Superintendent of the Weldon Graded Schools to succeed Prof. W. B. Edwards, who was not a candidate for re-election. Prof. Edwards leaves to become a member of the faculty of Chowan College, Murfreesboro. Our people are sorry indeed to part with Prof. Edwards and his most excellent wife, who have been with us for the past six years. Mr. Barnhart comes with the very best credentials and we extend to him and his wife our very best wishes.

The Easier Is the Better Way.

Don't poison yourself with calomel every Saturday night, but get a package of Chamberlain's Tablets. Take one or two on going to bed, and the morning will find you feeling good. Gentle and persuasive, they never gripe nor sicken. Only 25 cents.

THE TIME TABLE

In Which You Will Find Correctly Scheduled the Arrival and Departure of Your Friends and Acquaintances.

Miss Charlotte Dawson spent the week end with relatives at Litleton.

Mrs. Ruth Hunter and Miss Rosa Rodwell spent the week-end at Maco.

Mr. Tom Mabry, of Columbia, S. C., was among the visitors here last week.

Mrs. Kate Prescott Carter, of Lynchburg, Va., is visiting relatives in Weldon.

Mrs. C. T. Maxwell, of Philadelphia, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. T. Shaw.

Miss Mary Anderson, who has been visiting friends in Goldsboro, has returned home.

Mr. Herbert Rowe attended the Embalmers Association which met in Raleigh last week.

Miss Blanche Johnson attended the commencement exercises at Margaretsville, last week.

Misses Bernice Dixon, Hazel Clark, Elizabeth Wyche and Vera Reaves spent the week-end in Litleton.

Miss Katrine Wiggins, who was successfully operated on for appendicitis at the Roanoke Rapids Hospital, has returned home.

Dr. E. D. Poe who has been conducting a very successful revival in Norfolk, for the past two weeks, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Jenkins, of Portsmouth, were here last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Weeks, which took place at Halifax.

Rev. H. B. Porter and wife, of Warrenton, and Rev. B. P. Robinson, of Jackson, were the guests of Rev. G. W. Perry last week.

Mr. Walter W. Barnhart, the new Superintendent of the Graded Schools, was in town Saturday and paid this office a very pleasant visit.

Rev. M. Bradshaw, D. D., Presiding Elder of the Durham District, was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Perry one day last week.

Mrs. E. Clark, Miss Elizabeth Clark, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Edwards, of Seaboard, motored to Tarboro Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saunders.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY.

The American Legion Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. W. K. Gray Friday, May 2nd. The meeting was opened by all standing and singing America. After the business of the meeting was dispensed with the following program was rendered:

Voice selection—Return—by Mrs. Clayton Sledge.
Piano selection—Happy Farmer—by Vera Lillian Daniel.
Voice selection—Mighty Lik' a Rose—Mrs. R. F. Crofton.
Piano selection—O Sole Mio—Mrs. D. B. Zollicoffer.

A demonstration was then given by Mrs. Wall, how to make poppies. This was followed by a delicious salad served by Mrs. Daniel and Mrs. Gray.

ON THE HONOR ROLL.

Among the students on the honor roll at the State University, we notice the name of our young friend and townsman, Mr. Ellis Farber. Originating from the Weldon Graded School and under the tutorage of that successful instructor, Prof. W. B. Edwards, is one of the secrets of this young man's success. It means something to get on the honor roll at the State University. We extend hearty congratulations.

CAMPAIGN MANAGER.

Mr. H. B. Harrell, Jr., has been appointed campaign manager for J. W. Bailey for Governor for Halifax county. The appointment is a good one, as Mr. Harrell will leave nothing undone whereby he can strengthen the cause of the candidate he represents.

MINSTREL OF 1924.

Minstrel of 1924, will give an entertainment by the best local talent, under the direction of Miss Gladys Weathers, of Georgia, on Friday, May 9th, at 8:30, at Graded School Auditorium. Latest song hits, catchy music, good voices, black face comedians. Don't miss the fun. Admission 50 cents and 25 cents. Given under the auspices of the Music Club.

COTTON ASSOCIATION NEWS.

A Department of Information for the 14th District—Halifax, Warren, Northampton and Hertford.

Warren county has one of the liveliest and most active county organizations in the state. They meet twice a month at Norlina, on the second and fourth Saturdays. At their last meeting, April, 26th, they unanimously passed a resolution requesting that the question of a county agent for the county be put to a vote of the people in the primaries. They are confident they will get an agent.

Northampton county has adopted a unique plan for holding their meetings. They meet once a month and their plan is to have the meeting in a different place each time and to have an official from the Raleigh office talk to them about some phase of selling cotton co-operatively. Their last meeting was held at Woodland.

The Halifax county organization at their last meeting adopted the Northampton plan and will hold their next meeting in Weldon.

They are planning to have Mr. W. V. Hays, swine specialist of State College, to speak at this meeting. Halifax county has a number of very live locals which are actively making preparations to handle the delinquent cases in their communities. Notably among these locals are South Rosemary, Aurelian Springs, Hawkins' Chapel, Carter's School and Darlington.

They are planning to bring the number of violations down to the minimum next season.

The power which the cotton speculators have over the cotton market under the old system of marketing has been strikingly demonstrated within the past three months. With the smallest supply of cotton since 1895 they have forced one of the most violent drops in price we have had in more than twenty years, with the exception of 1920. Suppose this had occurred last October and had lasted three months. Hundreds of millions of dollars would have been lost by our cotton farmers. This may occur next fall. There is one sure way to prevent it. Let the farmers control the sale of their own cotton.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Mrs. Frank Cole was hostess to the Thursday Afternoon Club on Thursday afternoon, May 1st.

Six members of the club attended the District meeting of the Federated clubs which was held in Oxford last week. Mrs. Elliott B. Clark gave quite an interesting report of the meeting.

The study program for next year will be, "Know Your Own State." Mrs. C. F. Gore, Mrs. Carl Vinson and Mrs. H. G. Lassiter compose the program committee.

Officers for the coming year will be elected Thursday afternoon, May 8th, at the home of Mrs. Pierce Johnson.

At the conclusion of the business the following program was rendered:

1. Paper: "Free Verse," by Mrs. J. B. Zollicoffer.
2. Paper: "Imagisms in Recent Poetry," by Mrs. H. B. Harrell, Jr.

The guests of the club were: Mrs. Forest Stainback, Mrs. W. J. Ward, Mrs. R. S. Travis, Mrs. W. G. Suter, Mrs. E. W. Larkin, Mrs. Hardison, Mrs. H. C. House, Mrs. A. C. House, Mrs. Kirts, Miss Mary Long Green and Mrs. A. L. House.

Delicious refreshments consisting of chicken salad, country ham, pickle, sandwiches, toasted cheese, salines, coffee, cream and minis were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Mary Long Green and Mrs. Kirts.

TROUBLE.

How ready are some people to make trouble. A few days since a lady had an editor arrested for slander. It seems that the lady had lost her husband, (by death) recently, and the poor newspaper man thinking to do the family a kindness, wrote an article on the man's life, in which he stated that Mr. — had gone to a better home. What would have been the outcome had he written that he had gone to the other place?

MAN UNDER THE BED.

As she entered the room she felt that there was some one else in the room and it was the inquisitive nature of the woman that caused her to investigate and see if he could be found. As she moved from one part of the room to the other, she could not tell whether she was near him or drawing away from him. Soon she had no doubts as to the fact that he was under the bed and deciding at all odds to remove him, took her umbrella and made a vicious jab under the bed. Seeing that the jab was under the mouse ran out from under the bed and thru the door to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

EDITING A PAPER.

The majority of readers seem to think that nothing can be more easy or pleasant than to edit a paper, but of all difficult employments by which men make their bread and butter, there is none, we firmly believe, that so taxes the mind, temper and flesh as that of editing a paper. There is none that requires a nicer tact, a sounder judgment, a more constant application, a quicker wit, or a kinder heart. A churlish temper could never succeed as editor, nor a narrow-minded man, nor an ignorant one, nor a hasty one, nor an unforgetting one.

An editor must of necessity turn himself inside out to the public. He cannot be a hypocrite to his wife. He must expose himself in all he does, as much in selecting the thoughts of others, as in publishing his own, and therefore, the better way for him in the outset is to begin frankly, to save himself from after contradictions and mortification. Whoever succeeds tolerably well as an editor, is something more than an ordinary man, let his contemporaries think of him as they will.
