Here is a whole church composed of children! Everyone—clerk, sexton, worshippers and all are under 17 years of age, except the rector and a matron. These are the children of Thompson Orphanage, attending the recent Easter morning services. All tugged out in their Easter best, they are as happy as they can be in their own little church, the Chapel of St. Mary, the Virgin. Rev. W. H. Wheeler, the Superintendent of the Orphanage, is rector of the chapel. Of course, they would be happier if mother and father were sitting along side of them in the pew, but some strange fate which they can't understand, has deprived them of that happiness. Thompson Orphanage, like each of the several orphanages in North Carolina owned by other church denominations, is not affected by the Church affiliations of orphan children. Of the 124 children, who made the Orphanage their home last year, only 46 were from Episcopal homes, the others were from families of various churches or of no church at all. If a little child has no parents or home, and if there is room at the time, a home is made for him or her, without regard to church lines. Thompson Orphanage is overcrowded now, and the 224 Episcopal parishes in North Carolina have decided to celebrate May 25th as Orphanage Sunday for the purpose of raising funds to build new cottages and other buildings. Then these little orphans will be happier than they appear in the picture.
