HOEY PUSHES CAMPAIGN IN THIS SECTION

Speaks to Large Crowds At Winton and Conway Monday

Launching his campaign in Hertford and Northampton counties Monday, Clyde R. Hoey, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, spoke at Hertford County courthouse, in Winton, in the afternoon, and at the school in Conway that night.

"McDonald is making promises that can't be fulfilled and he knows it," Mr. Hoey declared in the two speeches.

"If this professor from Illinois is elected Governor and manages to put across his plan," continued Mr. Hoey, "he will either bankrupt the State or force the school taxes back on land and at the same time further cripple the schools and fail to provide pensions for the aged."

A disinterested expert to whom he referred his scheme after State officials had said it would not work—Dr. Heer of the State University—proved conclusively that the McDonald plan would raise only a few million dollars, providing far less than is necessary to support the State under the present budget.

The difference between revenue and expenditure would be even greater if the McDonald spending plan is adopted, also.

To those who would "tie me to any administration or group because I have defended the Democratic party from McDonald's attacks," Mr. Hoey had to say:

"I am not committed to the policies of the present or any past administration. My candidacy stands on its own bottom. Moreover, I have had nothing to do and shall have nothing to do with promoting candidates for any other office."

My political career has not consisted of holding office but rather in supporting the Democratic Party and its nominees. I have had no connection with any State administration for the past 30 years but I am defending the record of the Democratic Party in State and Nation, and defending its office holders from President to constable—including the Lieutenant Governor."

Gubernatorial Candidate Spoke Near Here

CLYDE R. HOEY spoke to large crowds in Northampton and Hertford Counties this week.

At the Baptist Church Sunday

The pastor's subject for the morning hour will be: "Warned of Coming Judgment." His subject for the evening hour will be "Sin."

Our congregation for last Sunday morning and evening were unusually good. Let us not forget that we are emphasizing evangelism in all of our services this month. Last Sunday morning there were two of our young people who gave their hearts to Christ and were received for baptism.

We are exceedingly anxious to reach as many of our unsaved people as possible during the month of April. It is urged and requested that our church members be faithful in their attendance upon all of the services during this month, and that you be faithful in your witness for Christ at this important time. Let each one of us lead at least one lost person to Christ during this month.

Saint Francis of Assisi once stepped down into the cloisters of his monastery and laying his hand on the shoulder of a young monk, said, "Brother, let us go into the town and preach." So they went forth. As they walked along upon their way, conversing as they went, they wound their way down the principal streets, round the lowly alleys and lanes, and even to the outskirts of the town, and to the monastery. Then said the young monk, "Father, when shall we begin to preach?" And Francis looked kindly down upon his son and said: "My child, we have been preaching while we were walking. We have been seen—looked at; our behaviour has been marked; it is of no use that we walk anywhere to preach unless we preach as we walk."—E. Paxton Hood.

By the Pastor.

BAXTER-DRAKE

Warrenton, April 11.—A home wedding of beauty was solemnized Monday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Maxine Mann Drake became the bride of William Alexander Baxter, of Roxboro. The vows were spoken before an improvised altar of white snapdragon, Easter lilies and fern. The Rev. R. E. Brickhouse officiated.

Miss Katherine Baxter, of Henderson, who wore a pink net over printed taffeta, and Miss Mary Drake, who wore pink orchid taffeta, were bridesmaids. Both carried lavender and white lilies, tied with lavender chiffon ribbon.

Miss Annie Olivia Drake, sister of the bride, wore orchid chiffon, and carried an arm bouquet of white lilies, tied with orchid tulle. She was maid of honor.

The bride entered with her father, M. N. Drake, who gave her away. She was attired exquisitely in a sheer crepe frock of white, and carried calla lilies.

The bridegroom had as his best man Frank Benzett, of Ridgeway. Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. H. W. Rodwell sang "All for You." Miss Dorothy Parker played "Old Trysting Place" just before the bridal party entered. During the ceremony, MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose" was played softly.

After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Baxter will make their home in Roxboro.

Mr. Baxter is the son of Mrs. Della Baxter, of Ridgeway and Henderson, and the late T. Alexander Baxter, of Ridgeway.

Miss Drake and her family are former residents of Weldon and have many friends here.

Legionnaires Hear State Commander

Joseph Daniels, Jr., Commander of North Carolina Department of American Legion, and J. M. Caldwell, Departmental Adjutant, were present at the meeting of the Northampton County Post No. 111, held at Rich Square on Tuesday evening, April 14.

Officers and members of the Hertford, Gates, Bertie, Martin, Halifax and Northampton counties were present, with a good representation from each.

J. G. Maddrey, introduced Mr. Daniels, who was the principal speaker of the evening.

Mr. Daniels set forth the main objectives of the Legion for the year under his leadership. He especially stressed the base ball program which is being sponsored for the Junior Legionnaires. He also stated that the Legion is a non-partisan and non-sectarian organization, and urged the importance of keeping anything pertaining to politics out of the Legion activities.

He commented on the past accomplishments of the Legion, particularly pertaining to the legislation that had been accomplished through the influence of the Legion, and mentioned bills that were now before Congress, which were introduced through the Legion, and which would influence Legionnaires. One of these bills is that in case of war, the Government may have the power to conscript industries as well as men.

Mr. Daniels stressed the need of numbers in membership and said that the only force lies in numbers.

The new colors of the Northampton Post No. 111 were dedicated during the evening, the dedication service being read by J. M. Caldwell, departmental adjutant.

Active pallbearers were: Leonard Vick, Seaboard; Benjamin Vick, Kelford; Joannie Hoggard, Norfolk, Va.; Ryland Vick, Woodland, L. G. Harrington, Lewis-ton; Wingate Parker, George. Masonic services were held by Potecasi, Seaboard, Jackson and Rich Square masons. Interment was made in the Hebron cemetery.

Mr. Vick is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rosabel Parker Vick; daughters, Mrs. O. K. Joyner, Rocky Mount; Mrs. Julian Parker, Mrs. Raymond Taylor, Misses Inez and Ethel; one son, Raleigh, of Woodland; foster grand son, Winfred Taylor; one sister, Mrs. Henry Minton, Franklin, Va.; three brothers, A. T. Vick, Aboskie; Leroy Vick, Kelford; Luke Vick, Waverly, Va.

Mr. Vick was the father of Mrs. Julian T. Parker, who was a former resident of Weldon.

Her hands and feet were frozen and she probably will be maimed for life.

Former Mail Carrier Wants to Be Sheriff

S. C. Crawley, candidate for sheriff, was in the NEWS office this week and wants to let the folks of this county know why he wants the job.

He says for three generations of his family none have asked for the Democratic nomination to any office, and yet they have all voted the straight Democratic ticket. He thinks the sheriff should live at the county seat and pledges to do so if elected. Mr. Crawley says he has served the people of Aurelian Springs section for 19 years as rural mail carrier.

Erosion Control Is A Vital Part Of New Soil Improvement Program

Soil Building and Conserving Crops Advocated Under the New Program Serve to Check Erosion In Several Ways

Controlling erosion, the thief of fertile topsoil, is a prominent feature of the new soil-improvement program, County Farm Agent, W. O. Davis said yesterday.

The soil-building and conserving crops advocated under the program serve to check erosion in several ways, he continued.

While these crops are growing, he said, their roots form a thick mat which holds the soil particles in place. They also check the run-off of water by impeding its flow downhill and by increasing the capacity of the land to absorb water in large quantities.

Then after they have been plowed under, the building and conserving crops add organic matter to the soil that makes it soft and spongy. Rain soaks into such soil and is held for long periods.

Soil well filled with organic matter also has a greater tendency to remain in place than gritty sand or clay soils, the agent pointed out. When the soil absorbs large quantities of water, he continued, it prevents floods during heavy rains and keeps the land from drying out so completely when rainfall is scarce.

On an eight percent slope, he added, a field on which nothing but corn is grown will lose 25 percent of its rainfall by immediate run off and an average of 67 tons of soil per acre through erosion each year.

But if the field is in a good soil-building crop, it will lose less than five percent of its rainfall and only a few hundred pounds of soil per acre.

When corn, wheat and clover are grown in rotation, the average run-off of rain water is less than half the amount from a field kept continually in corn, and the soil losses are only one-seventh as much.

Notice Given Sales Tax Delinquents

M. L. Shipman, Jr., deputy commissioner of Revenue, has just returned from Raleigh where he has been checking the files on sales tax. His check of the files has shown a great number of taxpayers are failing to file sales tax returns each 30 days as required by the sales tax law.

The Raleigh office has instructed Mr. Shipman to begin an immediate drive on all who are delinquent in filing sales tax returns. The law requires penalty of 5 percent with minimum penalty of $1.00 per month for failure to file within 15 days after close of each month. Mr. Shipman requests all people required to report sales tax to have the records on sales for the past nine months ready to be checked when he calls. Delinquent reports should be mailed on in at once, however, to the State Department of Revenue, Raleigh, N. C.
