NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION

BY W. W. REID

An army chaplain serving with the infantry in New Caledonia says: "Out here we find the Christian religion the closest tie we have with our strange neighbors. The work done by missionaries in past years has borne fruit in Christian character. People of various races find that they are one with us American soldiers in the same loyalty to Christ and the great human ideals of justice and liberty which rest on Christian truth. We should support missions for those whose lives are freed from darkness and despair by the light of the Christian gospel. And it will not hurt us to know that the same mission work has paved a way for us here in New Caledonia having created a spirit of sympathy and understanding. None of my sturdy men will ever say, 'I don't believe in missions.'"

"Religion in the home is necessary if we are to continue in our democratic way of life," says J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. "We are united as never before in our condemnation of the Spartan theories inculcated into the German nation by the Nazi Party under Adolf Hitler. Hitler has attempted to destroy the home life and religion of the German people by removing their boys and girls from the home at an early age, training them as children of the state. No nation can stand which seeks to destroy the home in this manner, the home which is the very foundation of its existence. Too many homes in America are broken. Divorce, crime, and bad example have made irreparable inroads... If our nation is to stand as strong in the future as she stands at the present time, we must each give to the utmost of our energy, our time and our money. But, in addition, we have the added responsibility to not forsake for a moment the maintenance of the integrity of the family, for there lies the strength of America.

Five community churches of the City of Buffalo and one each in Hamburg, Castile, Reading Center and Rochester, N. Y., comprising the Council of Community Churches of Western New York have voted to join themselves to the Western New York Association of Congregational Christian Churches, one of the oldest church bodies in the United States. "Through affiliation with this Church, with its historic traditions of more than a century and a half, and with its liberal interpretation of theology and creed, we believe we will be able to add something vital to this fellowship," says Dr. W. T. S. Culp of Buffalo. The Congrega-
