Goodier - Ingram

Miss Edna Lee Ingram, daughter of George Thomas Ingram of Roanoke Rapids and the late Mrs. Ingram became the bride of Robert Craighood Goodier, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Craighood Goodier, Chattanooga, Tenn., on September 19 at the Naval Receiving Station Chapel, Washington, D. C., with Chaplain Karl J. Peterson, officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by Albert Stacy, wore a gown of white silk. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a halo of Lillies of the Valley. She carried a prayer book covered with white orchids.

Miss Louise Ingram, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a gown of pale blue taffeta and net with a matching veil and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Ralph Moore Smith was best man.

Adonis Theodore Taylor was usher.

A reception was held at the apartment of the bride following the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Goodier left on a brief wedding trip. As her going away costume, the bride wore a brown crepe frock and accessories and a corsage of orchids.

Mr. Goodier was formerly superintendent of United States Steel Foundry, South Pittsburg, Tenn. before entering the Pacific war zone.

Mrs. Goodier is connected with the District of Columbia Health Department, Washington, D. C. For several years she was associated with the Halifax County Health Department and made her home in Weldon.

Taylor - Larkin

Washington—The wedding of Miss Margaret McEwen Larkin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Waddill Larkin, of Washington, and Lt. Louis Laverne Taylor, son of Benjamin Guy Taylor of Ayden and the late Mrs. Taylor, was solemnized September 30, in the First Methodist Church of Washington, with the Rev. Leon C. Larkin of Burlington, uncle of the bride performing the ceremony assisted by the Rev. D. A. Clarke, pastor of the local church.

Sgt. Jack Wright of New River, was best man. Ushers were Pte. E. W. Larkin, Jr., of Richmond, Va., and Jimmy Larkin, Washington, brothers of the bride. Lt. Lewis Orr, Lt. Thomas Lathan, Lt. Seth Baughn and Shep Grist.

Mrs. E. W. Larkin, Jr. was dame of honor and wore a dress of fuchsia taffeta. She carried a semi-colonial bouquet which was centered with Talisman roses.

The two maids of honor, Miss Peggy Wallace and Miss Flora Cox, both of Carthage, N. C., cousins of the bride, were also gowned in fuchsia taffeta, their dresses matching the style of the dame of honor. They also carried semi-colonial bouquets.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Kermit Traylor of Portsmouth, Va., and Mrs. James Younce of Belhaven, were attired in Pearl Harbor blue taffeta. They also carried flowers similar to those of the other attendants.

The dainty miniature bride was Miss Henrietta Taylor of Ayden, sister of the bridegroom. Her ivory satin gown matched that worn by the bride. A soft double ruffle made of illusion finished the front cap section of her full length veil. She carried a miniature reproduction of the bride's bouquet.

Dr. Ernest Waddill Larkin, the bride's father, gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of ivory satin. Double ruffles of Chantilly insertion trimmed the top of the gown's off-shoulder princess basque made with tight long sleeves. The ruffles matched the lace insert in the bottom front section of the full hoop skirt which terminated in a train. Ruffled lace like that used in the skirt's inset section finished her illusion veil making a becoming coronet like arrangement. Her double veil worn over the face was draped to extend beyond the train of the gown. A single white, ivory threaded orchid centered the bride's bouquet which was filled with stephanotis and tied with broad ivory satin ribbon.

The mother of the bride wore an aqua dress of silk crepe and corsage of gardenias. The step mother of the bridegroom was attired in pale pink chiffon. Her corsage also was of gardenias.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Larkin. She studied at Greensboro College and was graduated from Miss Hardbarger's School of Commerce in Raleigh.

Lieutenant Taylor lived in Washington for a number of years and studied at Wake Forest College. He served overseas for 11 months, seeing action in Tunisia, Sicily, Corsica and Italy. At present, Lt. Taylor is stationed at Morris Field, Charlotte as instructor in navigation.

Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Grist, Sr., entertained at a cake cutting at their home honoring the bride and bridegroom, members of their bridal party and out of the city wedding guests.

After the reception Lieutenant and Mrs. Taylor left the city for Charlotte where they will make their home. For traveling, Mrs. Taylor wore an aqua woolen suit with black accessories and wore an orchid taken from her bridal bouquet.

Twisdale - Patterson

Halifax—The wedding of Miss Betty Leigh Patterson of Chicago, Ill., and James R. Twisdale, Jr., of Halifax was solemnized on September 9 in the St. David's Church at Radnor, Penn., with the Rev. I. J. Hobbs, officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, wore a high, blue dress and black accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of white orchids.

M. J. Reis of Radnor, Pa., uncle of the bride, was best man.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress trimmed with white, and her corsage was of orchids.

Miss Mary Twisdale, sister of the bridegroom wore a lavender dress and a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Twisdale is the daughter of Mrs. Richard Bailey of Chicago, Ill., and attended school at Chatham Hall, Chatham, Va.

Mr. Twisdale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Twisdale of Halifax. He attended Weldon High School and is a graduate of Hargrove Military School.

Following the ceremony a luncheon was given by Mrs. M. J. Reis of Radnor in her home. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Twisdale left for a wedding trip to New York. The couple are at home in Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Everett Urges Women To Vote

Vice-Chairman of Democrats says women are not taking enough interest in Government.

North Carolina women do not take the interest in affairs of Government that they should a decade ago, in the opinion of Mrs. B. B. Everett, vice chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Pointing to the pride which women in this State showed in their first opportunity to participate in the affairs of State and National governments twenty five years ago, Mrs. Everett declared that the prediction at that time was that women would bring about great changes and reforms.

"Although possibly for a time we tried to live up to our new opportunities, in recent years we have suffered a lapse in interest. Not only have we failed to show the proper interest in public affairs, but we have neglected to use our right to vote, and we have failed to train our young women to realize their opportunities," said Mrs. Everett.

She explained that women this year are expected to cast more than sixty per cent of the vote and warned this goal will not be met unless each woman in the "smallest, most remote precincts of North Carolina registers and votes."

"In this year of decision it is every woman's duty to get out and help. We must not leave this matter entirely to the registrars and the election officials," asserted Mrs. Everett in pointing to the opportunity women of North Carolina have to play a part in the decisions of Government.

Mrs. Everett reminded Democratic women of the State that registrars will be in designated places in their respective precincts with books open for registration on October 15, 21, and 28. She urges all women of North Carolina to keep these dates in mind, but in doing so not to forget election day -- November the 7th.

breeders for next year have been selected, he says, and save only those birds that mature and finish fairly early.

The market wants meaty turkey, therefore, select those birds for breeders that have a keel bone as long as their shank bone.

Avoid selecting long legged long necked birds with short keel bones. Breeding toms weighing approximately 20 pounds should have a maximum shank length of 7.7 inches, a minimum keel length of 7.3 inches, and a maximum body depth at the deepest part of 9 inches, in order to get the most meat in proportion to bone.

A female, weighing 12 pounds should have a maximum shank length of 6.2 inches, a minimum keel length of 6.0 inches, and body depth of 7.0 inches.

"What about me?"

LIFE looks pretty scary from where you sit, doesn't it, son? Dad's been overseas for months. And now Mom's so sick she has to go to the hospital. So what's to become of you?

Don't you worry. You've a lot of friends who don't know about it! Thoughtful, generous people who will make sure you're cared for while Mom's away.

You're going VISITING! To a fine foster home, with folks who love and understand young fellas like you. They have toys waiting... a tree to climb... maybe even a dog!

So chin up, soldier! Everything's going to be all right!

Yes, everything will be all right for him and the thousands of cases like his--as long as you continue to support the agencies that make this help possible.

These services were here before the war and they will be continued afterward, but their needs in wartime have been greatly multiplied. This year, more than ever, they need your contributions.

Don't let them down. Give today!
