The wire-weavers have put up a good fence on Market Street between Lon Taylor and W. H. Cox. This fence has the appearance of being substantial and durable, and we doubt not, would be largely used if the fence is not too costly.

Miss Joe Francks, accompanied by her brother Richard, went to Kinston last Saturday to visit their grandmother, Mrs. Peebles, who is quite sick. Richard returned Monday. Miss Joe will remain a week or two.

Mercury going 30 degrees below zero, which was reported in the Adirondacks recently, one might say is pretty cold. But in the Southern part of our little town on last Tuesday night, one of our young ladies happened to the misfortune of having her teeth freeze. There was certainly a cold time in our town that night.

C. E. Foy, Esq., of Newberne, was in Trenton last Monday on business. This gentleman gave the News a pleasant call, and renewed his subscription for another year.—Mr. Foy is one of the most reliable and successful business men of Newberne, and a worthy son of Jones county. He deserves all the success he has attained.

A DESERVED COMPLIMENT.

Dr. S. E. Koonce, of Pollockville, son of our County Court Clerk S. E. Koonce, has received the appointment of First Assistant physician at the Central Hospital, Raleigh in place of Dr. Mott, who recently died. This is a deserved compliment. Dr. Koonce was fast winning his way to the top round of the ladder in his profession and was enjoying a large practice in the locality where he lived. The best wishes of all the people of Jones County go with the Doctor in his new field of labor, and none doubt but that he will fill the position with honor to himself and great credit to the State. No mistake has been made in his appointment. He left for Raleigh last Monday morning.
