

our dear ole instructors can really shake a leg.

On November 25, Gail Ogburn and Ruthie Wellons celebrated their 16th birthdays with an elaborate dance at the Johnston County Country Club. The attendants dined on cookies, popcorn, and fruit punch and danced to the music of Bill Joe Austin's orchestra.

Ann Booker and Betty McGowan entertained the high school at the Legion Hut with a semi-formal dance. We feasted on punch, cakes and nuts and waltzed to the beautiful music of the Goldsboro High School Dance Band. The girls were celebrating their 16th birthday. Happy birthday, girls!

After the delightful Junior play, Howard Mallard held open house at his home for the Juniors and their dates. Punch, cookies, open-face sandwiches, and cheese straws were served to the elated group.

"IN THE SPOTLIGHT"

This month the High Times spotlights are on two Juniors, Janice Edwards and Edward Patterson.

Janice's friendly manner is familiar to everyone at S. H. S. Her favorite food is fried chicken and her favorite color is green. Her choice movie and song are "Magnificent Obsession" and "The Medic". Janice plays first string forward for the Red Devilettes and is a valuable member of the Junior Class.

Edward has a pleasing personality. His favorite food is steak and, like all the boys, he likes to hunt. His favorite color is blue while the movie and the song he picks are "We're No Angels" and "Band of Gold". Ed played the role of Joe Scales, a cheerleader, in the Junior play. Those welldone covers on the school paper are Ed's art work for he's the assistant art editor of the High Times and is also a valuable member of the Junior Class.
