

ive fellow. Guess who! I can't seem to remember. Of course Mary Joe got all the glances when she appeared in a gorgeous wine gown that proved a beautiful contrast to her hair.

The fad in school wear for the girls is hand in hand with the boys. Those buckles on the back of your skirts are real handsome, girls.

To catch up with the freshmen you only have to follow this slogan. "Don't be a square, just color your hair."

The only fashion that the Seniors are interested in are the class rings. From what I hear, they'll be great.

Well, my report is finished now so I guess I'll sign off if you promise to keep me up on the latest fashions of fifty-six.

THE SMITHFIELD HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY IS PROUD TO ANNOUNCE THE FOLLOWING:

1. We are continuing the project of having a "Thought for the Week" posted on the display board on the west side of the library.
2. Our bulletins are colorful, informative, and pertinent.
3. Our magazines are numerous and up-to-date.
4. New books are arriving every day: For the reader who is interested in current events, there is the exciting picture record of the year's news, YEAR. The readers who have enjoyed SEE HERE, PRIVATE HARGROVE and NO TIME FOR SERGEANTS will want to add to their list of humorous books about life in the service the account of life in the navy DON'T GO NEAR THE WATER, and RECKLESS of the Marines. For the senior's book reports, there are BEYOND THE GREEN STUMP (Nevil Shute), THE GREEN HILLS, VILLAGE SCHOOL, WILL SHAKESPEARE AND THE GLOBE THEATER, THE LORD OF LONDON, HALF-CROWN HOUSE, and a new A. J. Cronin novel. There are also sports stories, biographies, historical novels, and stories from which popular movies have been made.
5. The following are our student librarians:
Janie Stephenson
Linda Culbreth
Glenda Hamilton
Margie Hill
Marie Stewart
Norma Kistler
During October, Mary Moore is bulletin board chairman, and Ruby McLeod is in charge of the "thought".

The library is sad to announce that

1. Some of you are not handing your books in on time.
2. Some of you are turning down corners of the pages.
