

LOOKING AHEAD

With the Thanksgiving holidays so near, we begin to wonder what the old comrades of S. H. S. would be doing. As we walked down the halls, we heard a few of them say:

- Wade Hamilton - "Near nothing as I can"
- Jimmie Ennis - "hunting"
- Becky - "'Eat, drink, and be merry"
- Gwen - "See a friend for a while"
- Pope - "Write research papers probably"
- Cookie - "You'd be surprised!!"
- Jackie Bridges - "Live it up!!!"
- "Peter Rabbitt" Lee - "I'm going hunting but I can't tell you what for."
- Staton - "Eat turkey"
- Jack Broadhurst - "Celebrate my birthday"

HOME COMING

After many weeks of anxious waiting the night of the Homecoming Dance finally arrived. It was a night long awaited for by every Smithfield High School student.

The dance was held in the Legion Hut.

Upon entering the hut one could hardly help but notice the beautiful decorations. Streamers of autumn colors were hung from a light on the ceiling. At one end of the room was the refreshment table which had a real tablecloth covered with white net. In the middle of the table was a "Red Devil" made out of red plastic foam. At the other end of the room was a huge drawing depicting a football game. I think everyone will agree that this drawing was "real gone".

The highlight of the evening were the skits given by various students. All the skits were wonderful. Two of the outstanding skits were John Allen's imitation of Jonathan Winters and Ed Rose's imitation of Elvis. Some of the other skits were: "Our Best to You" given by Miss Muller's Dramatic Club, "Sweet Old Fashioned Girl" sung by Nancy Pitchi and danced to by Ann Smith and Virginia Britt, "Autumn Leaves" sung by Sherwood Creech, Melzer Morgan, Jerry Langdon, and Mike Starling, "Hernando's Hideaway" by Ann Stallings and Emma Jones, and an imitation of Jerry Lewis by Barbara Parrish. The skits were closed by everyone singing the "Alma Mater".

After the skits everybody got into line for refreshments (the best part of the evening to most people). Punch, potato chips, individual sandwiches, and delicious cakes were served.

The rest of the evening was spent dancing and at 11:30 the dance came to a close with everyone going their separate ways with fond memories of a wonderful evening.
