

DIXIE DOT

Dear Dixie Dot:

Whatever will I be? Will I be a cowboy or an engineer?

The Weasel

Dear Weasel:

Que sera sera. But for a more definite answer, why not consult Madame Farrell?

Dear Dixie Dot:

Why is Faye Baker so interested in Selma's Center on the football team?

Wondering

Dear Wondering:

There is not much cause for contemplation over this question, considering who the certain center is. However, you don't have much cause to worry. Another girl seems to have sewn this case up. Unless, of course, you are that girl!

Dear Dixie Dot:

What must a girl do to rate a date with Mike Starling? Especially a sophomore girl with a special liking for him.

Hopeful

Dear Hopeful:

Why don't you try standing on your head next time you see him? Maybe he will take notice.

Dear Dixie Dot:

We are sophomore boys and we would like to know why some of those cute freshmen girls will not talk to us? Some of them are friendly, but the ones we are interested in just will not talk.

Some Real Cute Boys

Dear Real Cute Boys:

You must not be using the right approach --Seems to me the freshman girls have plenty to say to everyone!

Dear Dixie Dot:

A '56 Buick containing two Selma boys has been seen in Smithfield a lot. Wonder why?

Two Anxious Girls

Dear Anxious Girls:

Maybe they were over "scouting" -- for the game that is -----.

FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

Smithfield Rolls Over La Grange 26-6

The Red Devils rolled up 340 yds. rushing in winning their sixth game of the season from La Grange. Smithfield held La Grange to three yds. rushing. Hoyle, Stallings, Taylor, and George played well defensively, while the offensive show was led by Ennis, Everett, and Starling.

Red Devils Bow to Wallace 30-6

Wallace obtained the conference lead by rolling over Smithfield 30-6. Wallace controlled the game except for Smithfield's one touchdown in the last quarter by Jack Broadhurst. Ennis and Reed's passing attack was responsible for most of Smithfield's yardage with Mike Starling gaining the rest by rushing.

Smithfield Crushes Richlands 32-0

The Red Devils recovered from the Wallace tilt by defeating Richlands in their seventh win. Hoyle, Daughtry, and Stallings were outstanding defensively with Ennis, Reed, Langdon, and Starling starring on defense.

Smithfield Loses to Selma 7-6

Smithfield lost their annual game with the Selma Yellow Jackets for the fifth straight year in a thrilling 7-6 tilt. The game was won for Selma by Bobby Creech who kicked the extra point. Mike Starling was responsible for Smithfield's touchdown run. Ennis, Starling, and Taylor starred offensively for the Red Devils.

The Smithfield student body is grateful to Coaches Brown and Bain and to the entire Red Devil team for the most successful season we have enjoyed in years. Also we want to thank the cheerleaders and the band for their outstanding work at the games.
