

Yes, time flies. We have reached the turning point of the year. For us are ashamed of our term averages and exam grades. The seniors have come to the Rubicon—some crossed—others did not make it, all wishing it possible to retrace their steps and correct the mistakes and bad grades they have made. But it is not too late for the rest of us to turn over a new leaf. We can do better than we are doing. Pay attention in class and complete our assignments to the best of our ability; if we use our time to advantage—then our grades will be better. When the time comes for us to form the long gray line, we can look back and not regret—we can look back and be proud of our accomplishments.
