

NEW FASHIONS ! !
NEW LOOK ! !

A number of clothing stores are really getting the business of our Smithfield High students. By the looks of all the new fall fashions, you would think so, anyway.

The Ivy-League look still remains on top. Anything now can be bought with this up-to-date look, anything from shoes to socks, from suits to ties, from belts to cufflinks, and on-and-on.

Jack Upton, Billy Fuller, and Mac Creech have been wearing some mighty handsome fall shirts. The dark browns and olives add to the Ivy-League colors. That's a good looking black or dark brown and beige jacket Darby Wood has been running up and down the football field in and all over town. I hear he has a new suit too. Tommy Gardner has a new brown and black suit, which he was wearing at the Freshman Dance. Man, did he look sharp!

Brack Wilson, Wayne Williams, and Skipper Johnston were wearing new sport coats at the Freshman Dance. You just weren't going to let the girls out-dress you, were you, boys? That's a handsome sport coat Mr. Glenn has been wearing too, isn't it?

Bucks seem to be very popular on boys' feet recently. Butch Johnson has a grey pair, Roy Land and Melzer Morgan have some tan ones, and John Allen has a green pair. We probably haven't seen the last of them yet. Just give them time!

Don't our band members and majorettes look great in their new uniforms. The drum major's uniform really looks stylish.

For the girls, Shetland sweaters and shoulder bags seem to be the fad.

are the hottest. Heard Jon Reed thinks likewise---Who in the world is this Ferdinand that our teen-topics writer talks about? Sounds awful Mexican to me!

crash on a junior(?)---Margaret Lee is a cute fresh! I wonder---I heard a secret about Edwin Williams---I see Diane C. with a junior Judy Coats, Betsy Johnson, Mary Helen Ragsdale, and Ginger Manning all seem to be blessed with new Shetland sweaters.

Attractive skirt and sweater sets are seen all around town----at school, at church, at football games, and open houses. Joan Denning has a lovely violet set, Mary Britt and Penny Adams have Paris blue sets, and Linda Epps has green and beige sets.

The boys looked good at the Freshman dance, but the girls would have run them a close race, if there had been a contest between the best dressed boy or girl.

Blue seemingly was the outstanding color at the dance. Kay Bridgers was wearing a beautiful blue lace over blue taffeta dress. The round neck was trimmed with blue velvet, and a blue velvet bow hung behind. Priscilla Wright, Betty Lou Coates, Bonnie Sue Creech, and Gloria Hinton had on blue. Bonnie Norton's figured dress was accented with a pretty blue satin sash. All of the dresses were out of this world.

Black was also a good color. Joan Kaye Strickland had a new black velvet sheath with a black satin sash. Didn't she look stunning! Betty Abell and Julie Hooks were wearing smart black dresses too.

Kaye Faulk looked as healthy as sunshine in her lovely gold figured dress.

I could keep right on writing about all the pretty new fashions, but I'd better save some for next time.
