Burlington Tournament To Start Tomorrow Night

Both Boys and Girls To Begin Play-Offs

The Chapel Hill High School basketball teams, both boys' and girls', will begin play in the Burlington Invitation Basketball Tournament tomorrow night at the Fairchild Recreation Center in Burlington.

Coach Lloyd's girls will find their work cut out for them when they face a strong Gibsonville girls' team in the opener at 7. According to latest reports, heavy drills have been conducted during the past week and the Hillian girls should be in top condition for the contest.

In the boys' division, Coach Bud Stanbach's cagers shouldn't have much trouble disposing of the Burlington "B" team. Although it is not known actually how Burlington will divide its two teams, it is thought that most of the better players will remain with the "A" string. The Wildcat "B" team split two games with the Burlington "B" team during the regular season.

Should either or both of the Chapel Hill teams win their first contests, they will automatically advance to the finals by virtue of a semi-final bye. There are (See TOURNAMENT, page 4)

Comes Here From Roanoke Rapids

On May 30, 1944, Mr. Honeycutt notified the school board, President Graham, and Dean House by identical letters to each that he wished to be replaced at the end of this school term. He wrote, "In order that you may have ample time to secure my successor, I am notifying you that I do not plan to apply for reappointment at the end of my present contract on June 30, 1945."

In compliance with Mr. Honeycutt's request the board has secured Mr. Charles W. Davis of Roanoke Rapids to replace him as school superintendent. Mr. Davis is a school administrator of high standing and possesses valuable qualifications because of his experience with school-building. This will be a valuable asset now that the school is about to begin an important building program.

Mr. Davis was born in Orange

Juniors Present Variety Show

Last Tuesday, the assembly program was a variety show, presented by the Junior Class, entitled, "Conezapoppin."

There were two main parts: a parody on Frank Sinatra by Bill Basnight and some of the Junior girls, and a quiz show, mimicking Dr. I. Q., entitled "Doctor M. D." in which David Sharpe was master of ceremonies.

Throughout the show there were stunts in the audience, one of which was the finding of the script for the show in the balcony after which the finder clambered down a rope from the balcony to the first floor.

Faculty Members Receive Degrees

Two Chapel Hill High School faculty members, Miss Anne Anderson and Mrs. Helen Macon received Master of Arts degrees in education at the conclusion of the University Winter session.

Miss Anderson was present to receive her degree at the graduation exercise held in Hill Hall. Mrs. Macon was unable to attend the ceremony because of an important meeting.

Alumni Notes

Ned Linker, '42, in V-12 training at Duke University, was home last week for Spring vacation.

Proconian Dance Planned

It has been announced by Nita Sanders, entertainment chairman of the Proconian, that there will be a semi-formal dance given by the Proconian sometime in the near future. Although no plans are definite, it is hoped that the dance can be given at the Country Club. There will be a special entertainment for those who do not dance, and refreshments. Announcements will be made later concerning the price of tickets and the time and place.
