A Thought For All

In the midst of this total war, the common people, and the higher-ups alike, are thinking about freedom and independence in the post-war world. We, in America particularly, are thinking about our democracy and the freedom it offers. But in no democracy, perfect or otherwise, can anyone, at any time, be completely free and without responsibility and obligations to other people.

In our school life we are apt to let our homework and the other "unimportant" factors of education slide. True, that ten or fifteen years from now we won't care or even remember that yesterday's assignment wasn't done, but if we practice carelessness and laziness, we will surely become fixed in the habit. Habits are hard to break.

Also, when we neglect the responsibility of having assignments prepared, and on time, we can hardly expect to be trusted with more important things.

It would be a poor sort of "freedom" in our school if nobody accepted nor shared responsibility with anybody. Our assignments, our reports, and outside work are responsibilities, not to our teachers, but to ourselves.

We are obligated, we owe it to ourselves, to learn as much as possible and to lay the foundation for our future lives while we are in high school.

If this foundation is made up of neglected homework and unfinished assignments, will not our complete structure be a poor one?

Transportation Problem

As everyone knows, the boys' and girls' basketball teams have been doing a swell job representing C. H. H. S. at the different schools away from home. Without the kind help of the parents of both teams, transportation would present quite a problem.

In the first place, there's gas rationing. Both teams are allowed enough gas to permit four cars to make the trip—two cars for each team.

But after this headache is solved, up jumps the question of cars. This has been taken over by the parents, who offer to take the

ADDED NOTES:

The latest dope: George Cummins . . . In the Spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of how in — is he ever going to graduate . . . According to latest reports just received, Roosevelt's chief problem at the Yalta conference was not deciding where to open the new front, but how to keep Eleanor out of the cross-fire . . . Quoth the Raven: Holy Cow! . . .

NURSERY RHYMES:

Old Mother Hubbard

Old Mother Hubbard
 Went to the cupboard
 To get her old dog a bone.
 But when she got there
 The cupboard was bare
 And the Proconian got blamed for it.

Little Boy Blue

Little Boy Blue
 Come blow your horn,
 For anything is better
 Than Silo Full of Corn.

Jack and Jill

Jack and Jill
 Went up the hill
 To fetch a pail of water,
 Jack fell down
 And broke his crown,
 Boy, was he slipping!

Hickory Dickory Dock

Hickory Dickory Dock,
 Two mice ran up the clock,
 The clock strikes one,
 And down they run,
 For they know the school's on short schedule.

Little Miss Muffet

Little Miss Muffet
 Sat on her tuffet (or at least that's what some people call it),
 Eating her pie one night.
 When along came a spider
 And sat down beside her,
 Ye gads! A pre-flight.

Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary

Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
 What are you doing tonight?

team members in their own cars—provided they are supplied with gas.

To these parents Mr. Honeycutt, the coaches, and the team members express sincere thanks.

This is the "Nation-Wide Police Report" program, brought to you by the Keyhole members of America.

. . . Car 169 reports that Leonard A. (for Anthony) Smith and Wilda Andrews are back on the active list.

. . . Hilda, Jimmy "Bustin'" Blake and the Earl of Bush are getting along fine. But remember: three's a crowd. The sophomores wish that Hilda would pick one of them, because they're getting tired of Blake's talking about Hilda all the time.

. . . "Sergeant" Egbert has been dishonorably discharged from the force because of his actions the night he escorted the Chapel Hill basketball team to Durham.

. . . Mr. Lineberger, who has been running around town yelling about Dot Hogan, Jean Cashion, Meg Curry, and Tootsie Brewer, has just told a group of reporters that he has chosen his one and only. Get this: Dot Hogan!

. . . Sammy Lou Ross says he doesn't want to be in the Keyhole, so we won't put him in with Mary Lou Barnes.

. . . Charles Bartlett was very interested in Biology class the other day. He was reading the lesson with a certain anonymous girl that we will name Peggy Wilkerson.

. . . Billy Basnight, an honorary Captain in the Police Force, was quite satisfied with the hospitality he received at Durham. That was a cute blonde you were with, Basnight!

. . . Just a minute, ladies and gentlemen; a flash is coming in over the wire—BECKA HUGGINS HAS JUST BEEN SEEN AT THE HOSPITAL TRYING TO GET A NEW FACE. With her face, I would too.

. . . Houston Teague has the habit of throwing things when he is in love. Gee, that kid has really been bitten.

. . . All girls of C. H. H. S. are looking forward to the return of Bud "The Champ" Stanbach in Chapel Hill.

. . . Car 55 on Franklin Street reports a suspicious character entering the Cone House wearing a brown hat . . . That is all . . .
