Newman Clubs Aided By DDF

By Fr. John M. Breunig

The Diocesan Development Fund gave $1,750.00 to organize the NEWMAN CENTER BUILDING FUND campaign. This paid for printing, postage, architecture and secretarial services during the summer of 1960.

The diocese plans to begin this building program with a $50,000 structure along side the small house on Pittsboro street. The small house will continue to serve as Chaplain's offices, quarters, and Chapel. The new structure will have an assembly hall, two classrooms, a small kitchen and a lobby. (One of the classrooms will temporarily be used for a library.)

This Newman Center at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, serves 487 Catholic students now attending the University.

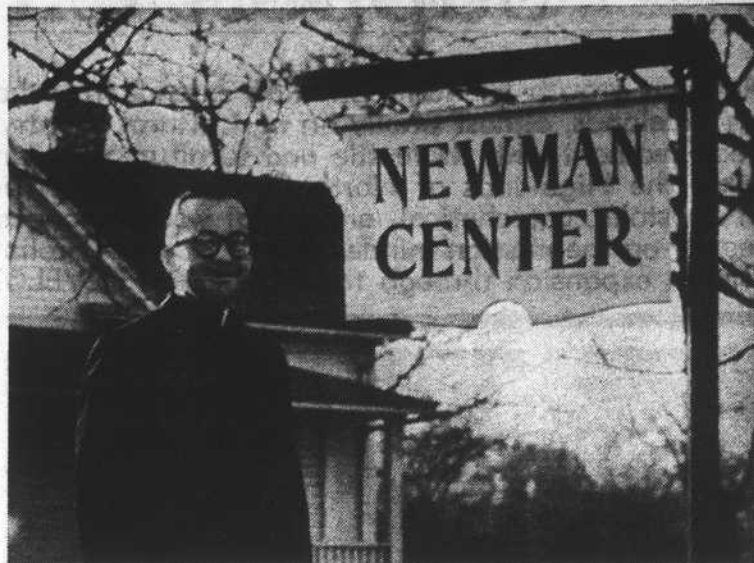

Father John M. Breunig, Chaplain and Director of the Center, also serves as Chaplain to 329 Catholic students at State College in Raleigh and the 302 Catholic students at Duke University in Durham.

The Newman program at Chapel Hill offers opportunities for the Catholic students: two daily Masses offered at the Center; two hours of the theology taught weekly. During the first semester of this school year the Chaplain averaged seventeen hours per week in private conferences and instructions at the Chapel Hill center, and an equal amount at Duke.

All three campuses have the Catholic student organization, The NEWMAN club. This club is operated by the students and for the students. Father Breunig serves as chaplain to all three clubs.

A monthly CHAPLAIN'S LETTER is mailed to all 1,118 Catholics on the three campuses.

His Excellency, Bishop Waters, intends to build Newman Centers on all three campuses when it is possible.
