

Investiture Rites Held At Belmont Motherhouse

By Sister Mary Joan

BELMONT — Most Rev. Vincent S. Waters, D.D., Bishop of Raleigh, officiated at the ceremonies of Profession and Reception at Sacred Heart Convent in Belmont on August 15 and 16.

"There is no one who has left house, or brothers, or sisters or mother or father . . . for my sake," quoted Bishop Waters, "who shall not receive now in the present time a hundredfold as much . . . and in the age to come life everlasting." (Mark 10,29,30) Testifying to their faith that the real goal of the human heart is God Whose love is eternal, a number of young women from various parts of the globe dedicated themselves to Christ in the religious life by taking the holy habit of religion in the reception ceremony on Wednesday afternoon (Aug. 15) or by pronouncing the vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience and the service of the poor, sick, and ignorant at the Mass on the 16.

Received as novices on the afternoon of August 15 were Miss Ann Carey of Parsippany, N.J. who will be known in Religion as Sister Mary Ann Joseph; Barbara Collins (Beaufort, S.C.), Sister Mary Jude; Patricia O'Neill (Charlotte, N. C.), Sister Joseph Marie; Patricia Martin (Northport, L.I., New York), Sister John Marie; and Rita Lynn (Rocky Mount, N.C.), Sister Joanne Marie.

On the morning of Aug. 16 final vows were pronounced by Sister Mary Hugh, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh E. Mauldin of Salisbury, N.C.; and first vows were taken by Sister Mary Janet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.B. Grisdale of Charlotte, N.C.; Sister Mary Philip, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.V. Meskill of Brooklyn, N.Y.; and Sister Mary Emiline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Duenas of Agana, Guam.

Renewal of vows were made by four Sisters from the Island of Guam at the same time. They are Sister Mary Andrew Perez, Sister Mary Helene Torres, Sister Mary Cecilia Camacho, and Sister Mary Stephen Torres.

"These young women the speaker said," have placed the invisible before the visible, the supernatural above the natural in being espoused to Him at whose beauty the sun and moon stand still and before whom the angels adore.

Many friends and relatives of the young nuns attended the inspiring ceremonies to beg God's blessing upon those who had linked their lives with the entire family of 30,000 Sisters of Mercy dedicated to Christ's work in the world.

ownership of property must be preserved to maintain human dignity, it must also be controlled so that more than a privileged few can enjoy its benefits.

The Archbishop pointed out that in Puno, the nation's poorest department and its most heavily populated outside of Lima, the capital, only half of one per cent of the people are property owners. The rest, he said, work on the lands of the rich for starvation wages.

Archbishop Rodriguez suggested three ways to remedy this situation: — Revision of laws governing the use of private property to make them serve the common good.

— Payment by landowners and businesses of a just family wage to enable workers to save money and eventually become property owners themselves.

— Giving people a true Christian attitude toward the acquisition and use of private property.

The present lack of such an attitude among Peruvians, 95 per cent of whom are Catholics, is due in part to the shortage of priests, he said. It is also due, he added, to the failure to teach the social doctrines of the Church in the nation's schools and in sermons.

Archbishop Rodriguez also advocated:

— Nationalization of big businesses with too much economic and political power for the common good.

— Encouragement and protection of production cooperatives.

— Higher inheritance taxes.

— Business reform to coordinate production in the interest of the common good.

— Expropriation and redistribution of private property for the common good.

Primitive Art Work of Priest Comes to Light

LIVERMORE FALLS, Me., — (NC) — Two art collections here have acquired virtually the entire painting output of a French priest-artist who died 31 years ago.

Arnold H. Sturtevant and Dr. Edward Martin of Livermore Falls purchased some 500 paintings by Father Jean Louis Gervat, who for many years combined art with his duties as a parish priest in southern France.

The two collectors acquired Father Gervat's paintings almost by accident.

Some months ago they noticed an article in a French journal on the priest's work. They were interested in him because he was a primitive, or self-taught artist, and they have specialized in collecting American primitive paintings.

The wrote to the priest's sister, expressing an interest in his work and asking if any of his paintings were for sale. She replied that they could have them all, since it has been her brother's wish that his work be seen by North Americans.

Father Gervat, who died in 1930 at the age of 63, specialized in landscapes depicting the southern France he knew so well.
