

North Carolina Catholic

Edition of Our Sunday Visitor
Subscription $3.50 Copy 10c

Vol. LII June 16, 1963 No. 7
RALEIGH, N.C. P.O. Box 9503

OFFICIAL APPOINTMENTS

The following clergy appointments are announced by the Most Reverend Bishop through the Diocesan Chancery:
Effective Wednesday, June 19, 1963:

The Reverend James H. Tevlin is appointed Administrator of Our Lady of the Highways Church, Thomasville, with residence at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church, High Point.

The Reverend Thomas F. Kerin is appointed Pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Rocky Mount.

The Reverend James R. Jones in residence at St. Agnes Church, Washington, and effective July 31, 1963, Pastor of Mother of Mercy Church in Washington, N.C.

The Reverend Joseph Kerin is appointed Principal of Asheville Catholic High School.

The Reverend Roderick B. O'Connor is appointed Superintendent of the Catholic Orphanage, Nazareth, and Administrator of Cardinal Gibbons High School, Raleigh.

The Reverend Albert J. Todd is appointed Pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes and St. Joseph's Churches, Monroe.

The Reverend Joseph Bumann is appointed Pastor of Our Lady of the Snows Church, Elizabethtown.

The Reverend Herman Bosschermuller is appointed Pastor of St. Charles Church, Ahoskie.

The Reverend Donald F. Staib is appointed Assistant Pastor of St. Pius X Church, Greensboro.

James E. McSweeney
Chancellor

Conclave to Elect Pope Will Begin on Wednesday

VATICAN CITY — (Radio, NC) — The conclave of cardinals to elect a successor to Pope John XXIII will begin at 6 p.m. on June 19 in the Vatican's Sistine chapel.

It is expected to be the largest conclave in the history of the Church, with 82 cardinals eligible to attend and vote.

Microphones will be used for the first time at a conclave. The Sistine chapel will be wired for sound in much the same way as the ecumenical council hall so that the cardinals and officials will not have to shout to be heard.

The conclave date was set at

Old Name Likely For New Pontiff

VATICAN CITY — (NC) — One of the first things the new pope who succeeds John XXIII will have to do, according to centuries-old tradition, is to take a new name. Choices by the last 15 pontiffs indicate that it probably will be Benedict, Clement, Gregory, John, Leo or Pius. No other names have been taken by popes for more than 200 years.

Pope John was the first pontiff to use that name in more than six centuries. Although known as John XXIII, he was only the 21st legitimate pope of that name. The fact that there have been popes known by numerals higher than the number of pontiffs who have borne a given name is due mainly to the fact that some of the 37 antipopes — false claimants to the papacy — have taken the same name.

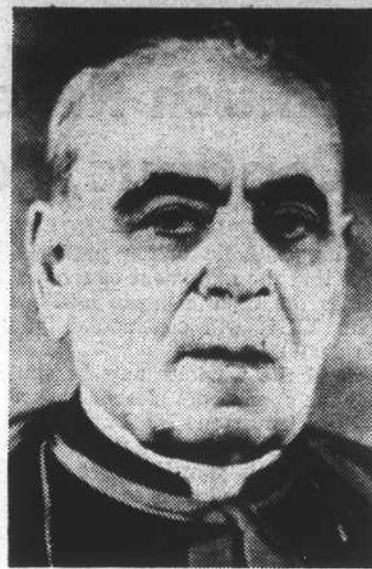

Of the 260 popes since St. Peter more than half have been known by one of a dozen names: Innocent, Stephen, Boniface, Urban, Alexander and Adrian in addition to the six names listed above.

the first general meeting of the cardinals following the death of Pope John. Church regulations require that a conclave open not less than 15 days and not more than 18 days after a pope's death. Since the Pope died on June 3, the cardinals could have chosen any date between June 18 and 21. On the morning of June 19 prior to entering into conclave, the cardinals will get a formal reminder of the solemnity and weight of the duty they are to undertake. At a Mass of the Holy Spirit in St. Peter's basilica, Msgr. Amleto Tondini, Secretary of Briefs to Princes — that is, the official translator of Latin documents at the Vatican — will preach to the cardinals on the election.

THE CARDINALS' first meeting also decided that the "novendiale," the official nine days of mourning for the late Pope, was to begin on June 7, the day after his entombment in St. Peter's crypt, and run through June 17. Two first class feasts — Trinity Sunday (June 9) and Corpus Christi (June 13) — were not included in the mourning period.

Masses on the first six of the nine days were offered by members of the papal chapel, the group that officially attend the pope at certain solemn functions such as consistories. The last three Masses, the most solemn, will be celebrated by cardinals.

The final Mass will be a state occasion attended by representatives from various nations. The OLDEST CARDINAL — Francesco Cardinal Morano, just turned 91, will be the oldest Cardinal to enter the conclave to select a successor to Pope John XXIII. A native of Naples, he has served the Vatican for 63 years and is now a member of the Sacred Congregations of Sacramental Discipline and of the Apostolic Signature.

eulogy will be delivered by Msgr. Giuseppe Del Ton, Secretary of Latin Letters.

THE FIRST MEETING was presided over by Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, Dean of the College of Cardinals. It was attended by all cardinals of the Roman curia — the Church's central administrative staff at the Vatican — except Francesco Cardinal Bracci and Carlo Cardinal Chiarlo. Also present were two noncurial cardinals: Achille Cardinal Lienart, Bishop of Lille, France, and Alfonso Cardinal Castaldo, Archbishop of Naples.

Assisting the cardinals at their first meeting of the so-called in-

See Conclave, page 8A

Look to Pope's Goals Rather Than Tomb, Cardinal Urges

MILAN, ITALY — (NC) — Catholics should not look back to the person who was Pope John XXIII "but toward the horizon which he opened before the Church and history," Giovanni Cardinal Montini declared during a Requiem Mass here.

The Cardinal Archbishop of Milan told 30,000 people (June 7): "Should we wish to keep our eyes fixed on the tomb which is now sealed, we could speak of what he has left us, which that tomb cannot hold; of the spirit which he instilled into our age, which death cannot suffocate, and we would be obliged to predict the future which springs forth from him, rather than describe his past."

The cardinal said that Pope John "outlined certain paths which it will not only be wise to remember but to follow." He added: "Can we turn aside from the path he opened so boldly to future religious history, that of the universality of the Catholic faith? That of Roman ecumenism?"

Cardinal Montini said that "Pope

John personified and expressed this essential characteristic of the Catholic Church in such a way that it brought forth latent energies in both the internal and external movement of the Church itself."

He explained that the late Pope "added to the heart and the work of the internal ecumenism, external ecumenism, for a twofold purpose: to reunite the many separated Christian factions within the organic unity of faith and of charity of the Mother Church — the One, Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church — and to work for the most stable spreading of peace among nations and social classes — of civilized peace throughout the world."

Humphrey Hails Creation Of New Race Committee

WASHINGTON — (NC) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota has hailed the creation of an interreligious committee on race relations here as an event of "immense significance" for the whole country.

Humphrey, in a Senate speech (June 6), said the committee, whose chairman is Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington, should serve as a model for Church leaders elsewhere.

"The religious and spiritual leaders in every city and town should immediately establish similar interreligious committees if they do not already exist," he said.

"Surely the religious leaders face a historic challenge in re-awakening the America conscience to the immorality of racial discrimination.

"Ultimately the only lasting solution to the evils of racial prejudice and bias can be found through national acceptance of the moral obligations involved."

THE SIX BISHOPS of the Province of Atlanta recently held their annual meeting at the Residence of Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan in Atlanta. Shown (from left to right) are Their Excellencies Francis F. Reh (Charleston), Paul J. Hallinan (Atlanta), Thomas J. McDonough (Savannah), Joseph P. Hurley (St. Augustine), Coleman F. Carroll (Miami), and Vincent S. Waters (Raleigh). The 1964 meeting is scheduled to be held in Raleigh during the second week of Lent.

Supreme Court Action Likely Within 2 Weeks

WASHINGTON — (NC) — The U.S. Supreme Court in all likelihood will decide three major Church-State cases either on Monday, June 17, or on Monday, June 24.

Two of the cases — from Maryland and Pennsylvania — involve Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools.

The third case — from South Carolina — focuses on whether a Seventh Day Adventist woman has the right to receive state unemployment compensation despite refusing, because of her religious beliefs, to accept available work on Saturday.

The Supreme Court, now heading for its annual three-month summer adjournment, has only some dozen pending cases left to decide. If it puts on a burst of closing speed, it could settle these on June 17. If not, it almost certainly will close up shop on the next "decision Monday," June 24.

Thus, it appears that the court

See Supreme Court, page 6A