VOLUME 16, NUMBER 35.

OXFORD, N. C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 29, 1929.

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR

Circulation Campaign To Start Sept 2

FIRST PRIZE 1929 FORD TOWN SEDAN OR $700 CASH AWARD, SECOND A NEW FORD ROADSTER, AND REMAINING FOUR PRIZES $200, $100, $50, and $30.

conducted, which will be preparing to build more circulation in this great section of North Carolina, THE GRANVILLE COUNTY NEWS announces its great circulation campaign, beginning Sept. 2. Over $2,000 in prizes and commissions will be given away to active workers in the next few weeks to put the GRANVILLE COUNTY NEWS in more homes.

It is estimated that $300 extra will be given away in commissions. Every active contestant who does not win a capital prize will be given cash commissions of 20 per cent on all money turned in.

Naturally many readers will ask why a paper wants so much circulation. The answer is easy. A newspaper depends for its living on its advertising. The more circulation a paper has, the more advertising it gets, and the more pages it prints, the more room for news it will have and its readers will find more entertainment and all-round good value for the money.

Get on and get in the race for the big prizes. Every contestant in the big distribution will receive an award. No one works for nothing. Men, women, boys, and girls are all eligible to take part in this wonderful opportunity.

The GRANVILLE COUNTY NEWS believes in its ability; it believes in its future and the future of the community; these are the reasons for the gigantic joyous gift distribution during the next five weeks. And it is with this gigantic Gift Distribution that the Granville County News hopes to reach out and add many friends and also readers to its already big "family".

This is to be a memorable event. It is to be unlike anything ever before attempted here. It is to be a friend-making campaign.

In addition to the fine automobile and other handsome awards, the Granville County News is making it possible for every man, woman, boy or girl who takes part in this distribution to be prize winner. "Everybody Wins" is the slogan and everybody wins with.

Selection may be known in advance that "Everybody Wins" there will be set aside a sum of money to be paid in cash commissions. This is over and above the prizes. Did you ever hear of anything more fair? No, and no one else ever did.

Now why does the Granville County News put up $2,000 in gifts? Why do they guarantee every reader who is active in the election valuable consideration for her or his efforts? There are two reasons:

First—This is a friend-making election. Second—only by conducting a fair and liberal election with gifts of value to everyone who participate, will it be possible for this paper to accomplish its aim. And what is the Granville County News' aim? How can the Granville County News afford to give free with out one cent of expense to any

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE OF LAURIE GANNON BREEDLOVE

Laurie G. Breedlove died August 21st at 3 o'clock A. M. at his home in Salem Township, Granville County, N. C., on Route 5 from Oxford.

For the past few months he had been confined to the house and bed.

Laurie was a good man and had friends as far as he was known. He was a fine business man and managed well his own affairs. His service was often sought to transact business for others and for his own County. He had been tax lister in Salem township for years, and he was asked to run for County Commissioner but he declined to accept. Laurie was a member of Salem M. E. Church from his boyhood days, and was a faithful steward when he died.

This writer had known the deceased from the cradle to the grave.

He was the son of John H. and Susan Hunt Breedlove. He was the grand son of the late Joseph Penn Hunt and Martha Crews Hunt. He died in the same room his father and grand parents died in.

Laurie was a man of correct habits. He never used tobacco in any way. He never indulged in any profane or vulgar language. He was faithful to every obligation of the Church, and gladly performed every duty that was put upon him.

Greatly will he be missed in the Church, in the township, and in the county. There was not a more devoted man to his family in all of our county, and they were all devoted to him. Those left to mourn his death are: his wife and two daughters, Evelyn and Mildred, also Miss Mattie Rice, and Nancy Rice Glover, who lived in his home.

He also leaves one brother, Joseph P. Breedlove, Librarian at Duke University, and one sister, Miss Ethel Breedlove of Durham. The funeral service was conducted at Salem Church by his pastor, Rev. B. D. Critcher, assisted by Rev. J. H. Lanning, a former pastor from Rowland, N. C., and Dr. Stanbury, Pastor of Duke Memorial Church of Durham August 22nd, at 3:30 P. M.

Rev. Mr. Lanning paid a beautiful tribute to his memory. The choir sang the beautiful hymns, "How firm a foundation" and "A hild with me". "There'll be no night there" was sung well by Mrs. W. W. Barnhart of Oxford.

My God to Thee, Rock of Ages, and Jesus Lover of My Soul. The active pallbearers were, C. H. Breedlove, C. J. Breedlove, B. V. Bentley, W. C. Poe, W. W. Fuller, Lex Norwood, Earle Hunt, and Roy Crews.

Honorary—E. A. Hunt, Edward Crews, C. G. Mangum, Lewis Lumpkin, W. J. O'Brien, John Cottrell, Herbert Cottrell, Fred Cottrell, LeRoy Barnes, S. D. Holeman, Frank Hart, Robert Hart, Macon Barker, Norman Barker, Needham Hart, Harold O'Brien, Jim Watson, Allie Hart, Joe Breedlove, Roy Breedlove, Zeb Patterson, and Sheriff J. E. Davis.

VISIT NEAR STOVALL

Mr. Clifton Sims and Miss Willie Bowen visited Miss Mollie Leavister Wednesday who is at the home of her sister near Stovall.

DOCTOR FOR WILTON?

The immediate Wilton, composed of two stores and about a dozen homes, is in one of the most progressive sections of the county. It is situated eight miles from Creedmoor, nine miles from Franklinton, and thirteen miles from Oxford, with good roads to each of the three places. Wilton has three churches, Groves, Pleasant Grove, Grassfield and Banks.

Wilton boasts of a large, new, brick school building, with several hundred pupils, of which Professor W. J. Bullock is superintendent.

There was a doctor there about eight years ago.

With the progress of the past eight years, it looks as though a doctor could be supported by the community today.

MR. JOHN D. HUNT TO BE WITH HORNER BROS. CO

Mr. John D. Hunt, popular young man of Oxford, who has been with The Hub for some time, will be with Horner Bros. Co., beginning September first.

He will be glad to see his old friends there and to make new friends.

RECIPE NUMBER 8 sent in by Mrs. S. H. Fox.

IRISH POTATO PANCAKES

Pare and grate a raw Irish potato and one medium sized onion. Add 1 beaten egg, 2 tablespoons of flour, salt and pepper to taste, and mix thoroughly. This amount will make 1 and 1-2 dozen pancakes.

RECIPE NUMBER 9

Mrs. A. M. Daniel, Coggeshall St. Oxford

LEMON PIE

1 1/4 cups sugar
1-2 cup flour
1-8 teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water
grated rind of 1 lemon
3 egg yolks
1 tablespoon butter
4 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice

Mix flour, sugar and salt, add boiling water, stirring constantly. Allow to come to boiling point directly over heat, then cook over boiling water in double boiler 15 minutes. Add butter, egg yolks, lemon juice and rind and mix thoroughly. Pour into a baked pie crust. Make a meringue by beating 3 egg whites until stiff and adding 1-2 cup of sifted powdered sugar and 1 teaspoon of lemon juice. Beat until smooth and glossy and spread over top of pie. Bake in moderate oven 8 minutes or until brown. Serve cold.

A MESSAGE FROM MR.

ROBERT A. PARHAM, A SON OF GRANVILLE, RECENTLY RETURNED FROM AFRICA

At the request of the Editor I am writing this article of Africa, its climate, people, crops, etc. for relatives and friends in Granville County.

condensed, as it would take a book to describe all of our interesting experiences during our four years' stay on that continent.

In November, 1925, I landed at Cape Town, which is one of the most beautiful cities in the world. Nestling at the foot of Table Mountain, and stretching for miles along the seashore, it presents a view from the harbor that is hard to excel. The mountain derives its name from the fact that its top is perfectly flat like a table. The city itself is modern in every respect. Laving luxurious hotels, fine buildings, taxis, street-cars, and all the conveniences of any American city.

After a prolonged stay here, I left by train for Salisbury, the Capitol of Southern Rhodesia, the country in which I lived and worked. This journey of almost 2,000 miles lasted nearly a week and took me thru many interesting places, such as the Hex River Mountains and World's View, the place in Matapos where Cecil John Rhodes is buried. Salisbury I found to be a town about the size of Henderson, with six hotels, one having 300 bedrooms, a race course, two golf courses, polo grounds, numerous clubs, fine streets, and anything else that we have here in Oxford or Henderson.

To realize fully this progress of Rhodesia, we must remember that this country is only thirty five years old. It was taken from the native Chieftain, Lobengula, in 1891 by the Pioneer Column, a regiment of Britishers organized and financed by that great British Imperialist, Cecil John Rhodes. Many of these pioneers are today living in the country and helping to promote its best interests. There are at present about 30,000 white people and 1,000,000 negroes in this colony which is about the size of Texas. Most of the white people are English and Dutch, while the Negroes are mostly of the Chiswina, Matabele, Mazazulu, Manyeka, and various other tribes. The country has ten modern towns, one big railway, numerous gold and copper mines, as well as quite a few good hard surfaced and dirt roads.

To the mind of the average American, Africa is still a dark continent with lions, elephants, and jungle everywhere. Nothing could be further from the truth, for on this continent one can see or do most of the things that are seen or done here at home. American motor cars, American clothes and household-appliances, American mining machinery, and various other articles of our export trade are seen everywhere, and our educational system is to blame as long as it fails to teach the youth of this country that South Africa is one of the nations of the world, just the same as Germany, France, Canada, or any other country. Americans, generally speaking, neither know nor care anything about the outside world. But now that our commerce is making such rapid strides abroad, it is imperative that our children be taught.
