

Library Club Observes National Library Week

The annual paperback book fair was the main event during National Library Week this year. By noting the number of books bought by the students one would have to term it a great success. Members of the club who worked at the fair stated that popular fiction on romance, hotrodding, and science fiction were among the top sellers. The Club plans to sponsor another fair during Book Week in November.

To culminate the observance the club sponsored a quiz program in chapel. Contestants were representatives from the various clubs at the school. Gladys Lawson, representative of the Honor Society won first prize. The FHA took second place with Faye Yarborough as representative. Third place was shared by Louise Winstead of the Journal Club and Shirley Jones of the Student Athletic Council. Other representatives were Hendricks Ramsey, Student Council; Shirley Holeman, Band; Larry Hicks, athletic teams; Mary Faulkner, Literary Club; Archie Snipes, FBA; Ray-

Honor Society Holds Induction

The Person Chapter of the National Honor Society held its annual induction ceremony on March 24, in the Person County High gymnasium. The ceremony began at 10:30.

Gladys Lawson, president of the chapter, presented a welcoming message to the audience. In her speech she stressed the qualities held most high by the Society: character, leadership, service, and citizenship.

Mr. MacLouis Clayton, a 1954 graduate and member of the Society, presented congratulatory remarks to the candidates for induction. In his speech he offered a challenge to the student body and congratulated the candidates in that they had met the challenge.

Candidates for induction into the provisional chapter were Beverly Baird, Bertha Russell, and Howard Russell. Stella Davis was inducted as a full member into the Society.

After the ceremony a recep-

LITERARY CLUB IS ORGANIZED

The Literary Club was formed in February, 1967 by students interested in employing various techniques used in literature.

The purpose of the club is to enhance the students' appreciation of literary works and to give them the opportunity to express themselves.

Person County High School

has many talented young people such as poets, novelists, playwrights, and short story writers. After all, all writers began just as they are beginning.

Being a Literary Club member makes the student more aware of their surroundings. For example, Linda Mitchell writes poetry when she is in "a certain mood." Other students write from their background and everyday experiences.

Since most of them range in age from 14 to 17, subjects which interested them most were love, youth, nature and beauty, and existing situations.

Should they continue writing, however, one would note that their writings which are now romantic with everything ends-happily themes eventually give way to realistic, bitter tragical writings. Moreover their ideas would become more involved, more complex with double meanings and symbols. At this stage life is simple, beautiful and explainable.

The club officers are: Catherine Blackwell, president; Robert Blackwell, vice-president; Betty Corbett, assistant secretary; and James Crutchfield, treasurer.

Before school closes the club intends to publish a literary pamphlet containing club members' writings and to attend a theater party in Durham,

Student Body Elects New Officers

Recently, election for Student Council officials for the term 1967-68 was held. The new officers are: Kenneth Villines, president; Larry Bass, vice-president; Deborah Barnett, secretary; Shirley Pettiford, assistant secretary; Catherine Blackwell, treasurer; Mary Russell, sergeant-at-arms; Thelma Hamlette, chairman of advisory board and; Bernadine Royster, clerk of advisory board. Willore Lawson was chosen Miss Person County High.

A new and more democratic method of election was instituted by the Council this year.

Congratulations are in order to the newly elected officers. With the officers elected the student body can look forward to good government during the next school term.

In Appreciation

To the principal and faculty:

We the class of 1967 wish to extend to you our deepest and sincere thanks for your guidance during our stay here. It has helped us broaden our world of knowledge. For this we are very grateful. We shall always try to live up to the ideals which you have instilled in us. As we go forward from Person County High School we are going to strive to always behave in a manner befitting a student of P.C.H.S. We will miss all of you, but go we must.

As students we know we have caused you to have many headaches and lose much sleep. We have presented many problems. As we leave more will come and the cycle will repeat year after year. You will never have a let-up, but someone must do the job of educating the young. We are glad that you chose to do the job.

We shall always be grateful for your kindness, help and guidance. So again we give you our sincere thanks.

Student Council Representatives Attended Annual Conference

On April 15th, five members of the Student Council traveled along with their sponsor to the Tenth Annual Piedmont District Conference of the North Carolina Association of Student Councils at North Warren High School, Wise, North Carolina.

Kenneth Villines and Jo Ann Harris, the official delegates were accompanied by Hattie Boyd, Gladys Lawson, and William Mials, unofficial delegates.

The theme for this year's convention was "Challenges for Today and the Future." Leadership, Scholarship and Citizenship were displayed throughout the convention in songs, by the main speaker and the panel.

Not all the schools were able to have members on the listening panel, but Person County High School was fortunate enough to have Kenneth Villines among this select group. Mrs. S. J. Mials, the sponsor, complimented Kenneth on his excellent performance. This particular group was selected to ask the members of the panel questions impromptu.

The members of the panel discussed the topic: "How Can Youth Meet Today's Challenges and Grow With Tomorrow's Responsibilities?"

Mr. S. E. Williams, Principal, Eaton Johnson School, Henderson, Mr. John Hawkins, Retired

"DREAMS"

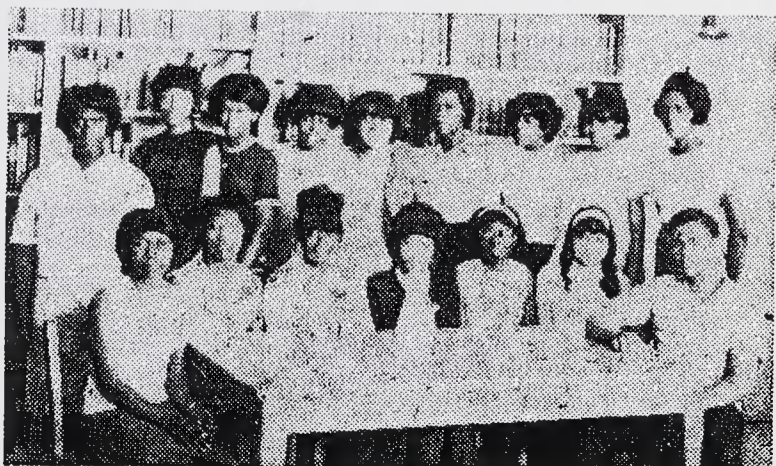

by Linda Mitchell

The land of dreams is a broad one
And many dreams do come true.
But no magic, no wishes,
not anything can make them reality . . . just you!

It's natural to have pipe dreams
But alone these won't become real;
You have to have self-confidence
Along with the dreams you build.

Give heed to what I am saying,
For I've experienced such a thing.
I lacked the gift of self-confidence,
And while others worked, I dreamed.

Ambition is the key to all hopes
'Tis really true by far
You will never accomplish anything.
Just wishing upon a star.
