Citizens In Favor New Bond Issue

Most of Them Favorable Provided School Board Work Out Program of Expenditures

MEETING OF ENTIRE TOWNSHIP HELD SOON

Will be Called by School Board When It Can Present Definite Program

Monday night representative citizens from Raleigh's civic organizations voted to call a mass meeting of citizens of Raleigh Township in order that the School Board might present to them a program explaining the needs of Raleigh Public Schools and ask for a new bond issue of fifteen hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. H. F. Srygley, Superintendent of the schools, called for $1,350,000 last week. Monday night the meeting was called by the School Board to get the opinion of more citizens. Most of them favored the bond issue, with the understanding that the School Board make out a program for the expenditure of money.

Mr. Srygley presented his program at this meeting, slightly different from that of the last, in that the Superintendent felt that need of a senior high was too urgent to be put off until 1929. The general sentiment was to complete the new Morson High School and build a Senior High at half the cost of the original plan.

Permission will have to be secured from the Legislature should the election call for $1,500,000 instead of $1,300,000.

There was a prevalent feeling that the bond issue should be presented to a larger mass meeting of citizens, and that a definite program of expenditure be presented by the School Board. These sentiments were expressed in favor of the bond issue by J. Wilbur Bunn, R. N. Simms, John A. Park, Dr. Clarence Poe, John McDonald, Mrs. Fred Handy, and Roy Carter.

Mr. Srygley presented the following program: Completion of the Hugh Morson High School at a cost of $300,000; a senior high school on the Smallwood property at a cost of $500,000; a school in Boylan Heights on land donated by the Boylan Heights Improvement Association; a first section of a school in Hayes-Barton on land purchased out of the present bond issue; and a new Negro school.

JOURNALISM CLASS CRUSHES JUNIOR HIGH IN SPELLING MATCH

Tuesday, November 25th, the Journalism Class outspelled a picked spelling team from the English classes of the Junior High School by the score of 14 to 1—that is, 14 scores in spelling matches go that way. At least there were 14 Journalism students standing while one from the J. H. S. stood. Miss Teter presided over the match with ease and her services were duly appreciated.

The words were simple at first. On the first round six from the J.H.S. dropped out, while only one from the winning team sat down. "Suffrage" was the Waterloo of six. The various spellings would have supplied Webster with some new spellings if he could have been present.

After twenty minutes of hard spelling Mary Marshall Briggs, Allen Rogers and Nellie Smith from the J.H.S. were standing against 14 from the winning side. Mary and Allen soon missed a word, and little Nellie was standing alone. After some wonderful spelling she missed "delirious" and the match ended.

NOTICE!

Some of the members of the Journalism Class are going to visit the various schools of the city this month for the purpose of telling the class editors how the "Raleigh Student" is made up, and how they should write up the news that they hand in to the paper every week. Three of these classes will be held next Tuesday at the Journalism Class period at three of the public schools. The following pupils will visit the schools Tuesday: Murphey School, Lillie Mai Scruggs; Wiley School, Alice Jones; and Thompson School, Frances Thomas. A. J. J.

"Sword of the Spirit" Dr. Stanbury's Topic

Girl Reserves' Initiation Service Very Impressive—Fifteen New Members

Fifteen new members were formally initiated into the ranks of the Girl Reserves Monday, December 1st, at the Y. W. C. A. Frances Thomas as "Herald of the Light" brought in the "Wayfarers on the Road to Light," carrying unlighted candles with blue triangles for bases. As the old members rose and sang "Father of Light," those aspiring to membership in the Girl Reserves lighted their small candles from the large one, which represented the world-wide Girl Reserve Club. After repeating the Code, the newly accepted members sat down in a circle in front of the old members.

After the initiation service Eloise Banning quoted a passage from the sixth chapter of Ephesians. Mr. Stanbury made a brief talk on the "Sword of the Spirit," the Word of God. His talk was perhaps the most inspirational that the Club has ever had, and the new members were very fortunate to begin their real work with a talk like that to inspire them.

PARENT-TEACHERS MEET AT JUNIOR HIGH

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Junior High School held its meeting Monday night, November 17, at the Junior High School.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mr. Daniels, principal of the Junior High School. A cut from the play, "Friends in Wonderland," was given, much to the delight of the audience. The play was very interesting and educational.

Dr. Highsmith talked on the need of a library in every high school and the kind of books the library should have. He stated his desire to visit all the high schools of the state. He also said that it was the duty of the parents to help the children pick out books.

Miss English spoke on the needs of a library in the Junior High because manhood of boy started there.

A cordial invitation was given to everybody to visit the school on Wednesday.

HONOR SOCIETY OFFICERS ELECTED

Katherine Fleming, President; Lillie Mai Scruggs, Vice-President; Miss Jones, Sponsor

At a very interesting meeting the following officers were elected for the R. H. S. National Honor Society: President, Katharine Fleming; Vice President, Lillie Mai Scruggs; Secretary, John Cole; Treasurer, Talmage Peele.

Members of the society were elected much sooner this year than any year previous, as there is much work for them to start and cover at Raleigh High before graduation.

The faculty chooses the members from the upper fourth of the Senior Class who have the highest scholarship for all four years. Only fifteen per cent of this number can be elected. Ten per cent have been chosen, so that five per cent will be chosen after Christmas. Each student is judged according to his scholarship, leadership, service, and character in the school. Scholarship is the largest item, and much stress is to be made on that this year. A member must have been a leader in all school activities and must have been of some real service to the school in general before elected. And as to character, no student can be a member of the Honor Society who does not have a good opinion, attitude and respect for the school, the pupils, and the faculty.

So this year the Honor Society plans to achieve great things. It is very fortunate that the society has such a splendid sponsor and faculty adviser in Miss Laura M. Jones, who has always taken so much interest in the activities of the present Senior Class. Each member feels confident that Miss Jones will lead the society through a successful year of work for the good of the school and future senior classes.

All meetings of the society will be public, and anyone who is interested is invited to attend.

Members of the Raleigh High School National Honor Society of '25 are: Katharine Fleming, Elizabeth Cauthen, Annie Mae Crowder, John Henry Highsmith, Frances Doolittle, Talmage Peele, Minnie Nance, Robert Dunaway, Laura Mabel Haywood, John Cole, Lillie Mai Scruggs, and Miss Jones, faculty advisor.

THANKSGIVING ISSUE PUBLISHED IN 3 DAYS

If necessary, any work may be accomplished in a short time if everybody works, and the result is excellent. The Thanksgiving issue of The Student was written, published, and distributed within three days.

News was handed in and corrected on Monday morning. Monday afternoon every article had been placed in the hands of the printers. Wednesday at 1:00 o'clock The Student was ready for distribution. This shows how faithful and how accurate the printers at the Capital Printing Company are. By 3:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the paper had been distributed to all grammar schools, the High School, the advertisers and Exchange Editor for The Student. This quick work was due to none other than Page Carson. John Henry Highsmith, Rudolph Walborn and Arthur Bridges who gets credit for distribution at Junior and Senior High.

It is encouraging for the teacher and editor to have such a faithful class of workers and printers.

Good News for Room 9!

Room 9 has always helped to furnish the best students in the school concerning scholarship, character, leadership, and citizenship. Among the eleven students who belong to the National Honor Society, Room 9 furnishes six members. They are: Laura Mabel Haywood, Talmage Peele, John Cole, Minnie Nance, Katherine Fleming, and Elizabeth Cauthen.

It is thought that when the last list is selected in the spring, Room 9 will contribute several more members to the Society.

ONLY 250 CHILDREN IN IN RALEIGH SCHOOLS ARE DRINKING MILK

After a careful survey it was learned that only 250 children out of 1,550, who patronize the school cafeterias, drink milk. This survey was made by Miss Conibear, director of the school cafeterias; Miss Dorothy Nash, supervisor of physical education; and Miss Grace Berry, director of correctional gymnastics.

Following is a list of how many drink milk each day at each cafeteria:

Senior High	30
Junior High	60
Murphey	40
Thompson	20
Lewis	25
Centennial	15
Wiley	35
Washington	55

This survey was made in order to check up all the undernourished children in the public schools.

All the schools have cafeterias except Caraleigh, Pilot Mills, and Crosby-Garfield. A cafeteria is being planned for Crosby-Garfield now. All these cafeterias serve proper food. Parents may well know that their children are receiving proper food when they eat in the school cafeterias.

Mr. Gause Speaks To Hi-Y Club

Mr. Gause, who is touring the country in behalf of the Hi-Y's, spoke to the Hi-Y Club about the evils of class distinction. He gave a very interesting talk which was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Boushal, who has been in Hi-Y work for over ten years, stated that he was glad to be with the club this year and that he was ready to do his part in making the club a success.

Supper was served by the ladies of the First Baptist Church. The smiles on the faces of the boys was sufficient proof that they enjoyed the supper.

A drive was put on for new members. Each member was given a list of names of boys to bring. The Hi-Y's aim for this year is to have over a hundred members, but keep in mind the fact that we want quality, not quantity.

THRIFT CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED

Prominent Raleigh Business Men Will Address the Club on the Subject of "Thrift"

Under the supervision of Mrs. Nina H. Covington a Thrift Club will be organized next week at Raleigh High. The purpose of the club will be to stimulate the idea of thrift and savings among the students enrolled in the public schools. The first organization will be at the Junior and Senior High Schools, and later in the grammar schools.

Meetings will be held every morning at 7:30. This will show how many are interested, and only those who wish to learn something of the subject will join. Every student is urged to be present at the first meeting.

Prominent business men will talk to the club. Bankers especially will be invited to speak to the club on "Thrift." The Journalism Class especially is looking forward to the organization and meetings of the club.

SENIOR HIGH PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Senior High met November 24 and, endorsing the resolution introduced by R. N. Simms, took up the matter of the proposal to be presented to the city school board for the erection of two new schools. They asked that immediate attention be given for the erection of a new senior high school.

After discussing the matter, the Parent-Teachers Association decided that with the completion of the Junior High School on Hargett and Person streets there would not be adequate provision for the senior high boys and girls of Raleigh.

C. C. Page was elected vice-president of the association last night, and a committee was appointed to take care of the Morson portrait. It will be presented to the new Junior High School.

The pennant for the largest attendance of parents went to Mrs. Covington's room. A musical program was given following the business session. Miss Thompson sang two beautiful songs, accompanied by Miss Grace Holton at the piano. Erin Bloodworth played a piano solo. The time for the meeting was changed to the second Tuesday evening in the month at 7:30.

Thompson Wins the Grammar School Football Championship

By defeating Centennial on Thanksgiving Day, Thompson cinched the grammar school football championship. Thompson won all of her games, and at the end of the championship series led her nearest rival, Centennial, by two games. She is now trying to book games with out-of-town grammar school elevens.

The first half of the Centennial-Thompson duel was a see-saw affair, Thompson making the only score. This was contributed by Bailey on a fake play. During the intermission between halves both teams agreed to lay off all overweight men. Jernigan of Centennial and Bailey and Jones of Thompson were thus taken out of the game and the lines were completed with substitutes. In the third quarter Thompson scored again when Dunaway went sixteen yards around end for another touchdown. In the last quarter Wall scored two more touchdowns for Thompson, the last being through the entire Centennial team on the kick-off.

The final score was: Thompson 25, Centennial 0. Thompson safely defended her goal again. She has not been scored upon during the season.
