

Roving Around

Will you be around here on the 5th. of July? Or will you have "gotten it" by your own carelessness on the highway? These grim words may hurt, but not so much as a fatal or crippling accident will in your family. It sure can happen to YOU — but please do not let it, by not taking any unnecessary chances over the 4th.

We understand that the P H A low-rent housing project was not accepted by the Board of Commissioners on Tuesday night at a special meeting. This is, we feel, a sad blow to the progress of the town — though we are sure that the Commissioners who voted against it had ample reason for doing so. Now, probably, Wendell and Zebulon will lose their opportunity to get low-rent housing.

Don't forget that Saturday is election day — second primary. Be sure to get out and vote. Do not let a candidate win the nomination by default — yours.

Saw some hand crank ice freezers the other day at Jones Hardware that made me recall the old days when I used to run one for the benefit of the rest of the family. We have progressed to the more modern refrigerator ice cream — and the commercial kind — but you just can't beat the old home hand freezer ice cream.

We have three new members in our Church Group this week — B P Daniel's Store on Route 2, W M Woodlief, and Brown Furniture House in Youngsville. We congratulate you three progressive merchants — and call it to the attention of our readers.

Mrs. P. A. Collins is the correspondent for the Glen Royal community. All people having news please call Mrs. Collins on Monday or before if possible.

Mrs. Collins' husband is the Assistant Superintendent at the Royal Cotton Mill. Mr. and Mrs. Collins moved to Wake Forest September 1951 from Danville, Virginia. They attend the Glen Royal Baptist Church.

Mrs. Inez Keith Black and Mrs. Donald Gulley have recently opened The Wake Insurance Agency, a new insurance and real estate office in Wake Forest. We know you all wish them success.

We will get out The Wake Weekly on Thursday morning on next week because of the 4th of July holiday on Friday. Please get all news and ads in by Monday.

W F FIRE DEPT. HOLDS A BARBECUE SUPPER

The Wake Forest Volunteer supper at the W W Holding, III, cabins out west of Wake Forest on Tuesday evening, June 17, with 43 present, including firemen, the members of the Town Commission and the mayor.

Raymond Keith had charge of the arrangements for the feed. Fire Chief Frank Keith said that the affair was enjoyed by all who were there.

The reason for the occasion was the completion of the annual drills of the fire company. Chief Keith says that he wants to thank the Town Commission for their courtesy. The money for the supper was appropriated by them, he said, for such purposes of entertainment of the fire department.

Rolesville Plans Better Streets

Mayor George J. Robertson of Rolesville has been authorized by the board of commissioners to investigate legal technicalities in connection with a proposal to pave the shoulders along Highway 59 for one mile through the town, & perhaps install curbs and sidewalks, it was reported.

The town has approximately $10,000. available for such improvements, according to Mayor Robertson, and high on the priority list is a sidewalk from the cross roads in the center of town to the school.

FIFTY PERSONS ATTEND P O S of A DINNER MEET AT YOUNGSVILLE

Nearly fifty persons attended the quarterly dinner - ladies night banquet at the Youngsville Community House last Thursday night given by the Patriotic Order Sons of America, Camp No. 49.

After the call to order by O. A. Perry, everyone sang the first verse of "America," followed by the invocation by W. J. Pearce. Christian Church Ladies Serve

The Ladies of the Oak Level Christian Church then served a fine fried Southern Chicken dinner to the assemblage, with literally gallons of ice tea and homemade cake for dessert.

Memorial Service for Deceased

A short memorial service was conducted for the members who had died during the past year. J. E. Mangum read the names and the Rev. E. M. Carter gave a prayer, with Jimmy Mize responding with "The Lord's Prayer."

Henry Willis introduced the following guests: Parker Faison of Wake Forest, J. W. Weathers of Youngsville and W. S. Allen and Mrs. Allen.

Then Willis introduced the main speaker, C. E. Vernon, past state president, who was pinching for State Pres. W. H. Ferguson.

Music was provided by Miss Jane Aycock, who accompanied Jimmy Mize in the singing of several solo selections.

The ladies of the Church were thanked for the dinner and serving it by W P Pearce; after which, H P Privette made several announcements, followed by the closing song, "Good Night, Ladies."

After the dinner meeting, a short business session was called on several matters, including the prospective new members.

The following attended: Mr and Mrs Everett Mangum, Mr and Mrs Wesley Bailey, Mr and Mrs Robert Cheatham, Mr and Mrs Richard Cash, Mr and Mrs James Cash, Mr and Mrs Bennie Daniel.

Also, the Rev and Mrs E M Carter, Mr and Mrs Maynard Smith, Mr and Mrs Fred Cash, Mr and Mrs Alton Perry, Mr and Mrs Henry Willis, W J Lindsey, W P Pearce, W H Hudson and H P Privette.

Letter to the Editor Denies Race Handbill

To the Editor:

Because of the statewide publicity given to the circulation of a certain handbill in the recent Democratic primary, and my alleged connection therewith, I am requesting that you publish the following:

The leaflet in question depicted Hubert Olive, candidate for Governor, in company with an Asheville Negro dentist, and posed two questions intended to influence voters by racial prejudice; my name was printed at the bottom. The bill has been reproduced in the Raleigh News and Observer.

It is my desire that the people of the State have these facts:

The leaflet was conceived, printed, and distributed without my knowledge, aid, or consent.

The use of my name thereon was totally unauthorized. The first information I had of the literature came to me when my attention was called to an article appearing in the News and Observer on the day after the bill was distributed. I promptly informed a reporter of that paper that I was completely

INJURED IN FALL

Little Paul Macon was injured Wednesday in a fall from his grandfather's truck, while riding in the rear.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Macon, Jr., of Jones Street.

Paul was taken to Rex Hospital suffering from a heel and head injury. He is on the 4th floor of the hospital in Room 408.

A J MEDLIN CORRECTS US!

Mr A J Medlin called up the other day to correct us on a date that we carried about Mr John W Brewer last week. Medlin states that Brewer came to Wake Forest in 1895 and was graduated from the college, along with him, in 1898, not 1929, as we stated.

Mr Medlin certainly should know the date, for, he said the two had been great friends ever since.

HONORED

Mrs. S. W. Brewer and Mrs. T. D. Kitchin, Sr., were hostesses at a coco cola party on Friday morning, June 20, at the home of Mrs. Brewer, honoring Miss Billie Bryan, bride-elect of Aug. 2. Dainty sandwiches, cookies, & nuts were served with coco colas.

Brewer, Jr., T. D. Kitchin, Jr., R. L. Gay, the Misses Eleanor Easley, Emily Olive, Betty Holliday, Sunny Snyder, Pearl Ray, Georgia Godfrey, and Ruamie Squires.

Shirley Timberlake has gone to Carolina Beach to spend a week with Mrs. J. L. Lynam.

Mayor Arthur Hall waved a white handkerchief, and like magic, the new white way for Youngsville flashed on.

This project to give the main street of the town more lights is a part of the Finer Carolina program sponsored by Carolina Power and Light company, and a pet project of the townspeople and the Lions club of Youngsville.

The 13 new lights give 431% more light, 10,000 Lumen each.

A large crowd of proud townspeople had gathered around the steps of the community house to witness the turning on of lights.

District Manager O H Broadway of Henderson gave a short congratulatory talk to the assembled people on their part in the town's progress.
