GIVE TO THE COMMUNITY CHEST WITH YOUR HEART ASKS CHAIRMAN ANDERSON

"Give from your heart, not your purse," said J. E. Anderson, chairman of the Wake Forest Community Chest, as he urged the local citizens to contribute liberally to the all-local fund this year.

It is pointed out that this fund will, yes, entirely, be retained in the town of Wake Forest for only Wake Forest use.

Workers are out soliciting for the fund now, and it is hoped that a partial report can be published on to let you all know how the drive is progressing — if you contribute now, and freely, you can be sure that the report will be a good one.

All the money goes to local groups to help them carry on their work during the coming year. School lunches, Boy and Girl Scouts, Emergency relief fund, recreation programs for both colored and white, and the Christmas fund.

The goal is $4550, although in last year's drive only about $2900 was realized. The additional money this year must be taken in, if we are to realize our full program as presented in the individual budgets of the participating groups. Please, please give all you can so that the projected plans can be carried out.

Mr. and Mrs. Alsie Poole and family from Raleigh spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Faison and family.

Youngsville News

Bloodmobile To Be At Wake Forest College

With a goal of two hundred pints a day while at Wake Forest College, the bloodmobile will roll in to Wake Forest Thursday and Friday, October 23, 24, to receive donations.

The bloodmobile which operates out of Charlotte was originally scheduled to be in Raleigh on those two days, but upon request it was released to Wake Forest College. One of the main factors which played a role in the decision to change the place while the unit is in Wake County is the fact that Wake Forest made such an excellent showing last year. The goal which was set for a one day stand last year while here was two hundred pints. However, toward the end of the day the goal had been reached and still the students and towns people continued to go to the gymnasium to donate and by the time the bloodmobile closed, a total of 333 pints had been donated. This was an excellent showing for Wake Forest College.

Once again this year the students and towns people are being asked to answer this vital call and support both the president set last year as well as the drive itself.

Remember, it will be here on October 23 and 24. You owe it to yourself as well as your country to support this blood drive and DONATE A PINT.

WIGGS IS NAMED CHIEF OF W. F. POLICE DEPT.

The new police chief of Wake Forest is W. R. Wiggs of Wrightsville Beach. He assumed his duties on Wednesday morning upon the departure of Floyd Whitman, Jr., who has accepted a position in Whiteville.

Wiggs is 31, married, and a native of Rocky Mount. He has been in Johnson City, Tenn., prior to his working in Wrightsville Beach. He has a daughter who is a junior in high school, who will transfer to Wake Forest High as soon as housing can be arranged.

Chief Wiggs attended the 44th session of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's National Academy, which is a police school course of 12 week's duration. He was at school at Washington and Quantico, Va., during the training.

Wiggs was hired at a recent session of the Town Board of Directors for the chief job, that was vacated by Whitman's leaving.

Youngsville Boy Scouts Attend Fall Camporee

The Fall Camporee for the Boy Scouts of Franklin, Warren and Vance counties was held last week end at Lake Katsenstien, near Warrenton. About 100 scouts attended, including 12 from Youngsville.

A number of tests were given in scoutcraft skills and 88 passed requirements for 1st and 2nd class ranks.

A fishing contest was won by Donny Lindsey of Youngsville by catching 30 fish in 2 hours.

Glen Royal News

All boys are urged to attend Scout meeting Friday night, as they will be making plans to attend Oconeechee Council Wake-Harnett District Camporee at Pullen Park October 24, 25, and 26.

Their counsellor will be Lawrence Hardy, a seminary student. We know they will have a swell time. The program looks very interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Furman Davis & daughter, Ardeth, visited his parents at White Level for the weekend.

FOOTBALL THIS WEEK:

Wake Forest plays University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Sat., Oct. 18, at 2 P. M.

Roving Around PLEASE NOTICE!

You are asked to have your advertisement for the Fall Festival issue of The Wake Weekly in to this office by Saturday at 12 o'clock noon — Oct. 18 in order to insure its getting in.

We have tried to contact everyone in town, but if you haven't been contacted, please send in your ad — or call 404-1 for a representative to help you draw your advertisement up.

If you wanted to see a bunch of busy beavers at work, you should have seen the Lions who went to the B & E Cleaners on Monday night after the meeting to help in pressing and hanging up clothes received on the recent drive. It was a sight to see C B Robinson, of General Laundry, take a busman's holiday, and Dr Stealey and Bill Strickland of the Seminary doffed their vestal robes to aid in the project.

Car salesman Ralph Cruser, postmaster Bond, Bill Shearon, lawyer Nassif, Taitwister Buck Peters, and yours truly also were among those employed gainfully for the evening.

The man who made but one error has never "lived" — but the man who never made any errors was never born.

We hear the W E Speas have two fall camellia plants in their yard which are now in full bud, and ready to bloom within the week. One plant has three lovely red blooms now, and the other has 13 buds which will blush out into variegated colors soon.

See that the short cut road to Rolesville has been paved. Sure is nice to run over it now. And the new road will mean that the people of Rolesville will be able to come over to the Fall Festival more easily.

You all are asked to please be more conscious of your parking on White street during the Festival days, so that more out-of-town shoppers will have a chance to park. Please cooperate!

Don't forget that the paper will come out Wednesday morning. All news MUST be in by Monday at noon. Any that can be gotten in to before that date should be sent in to insure its getting in next week's issue.

Youngsville Nat. Guard Gets Excellent Rating

The annual Federal Armory Inspection of Service Battery, 113th Field Artillery Battalion, was held Friday night, Oct. 10, by a Third Army inspection team headed by Lt. Col. Paul J. Brown.

During the afternoon, a close check was made on administration records and maintenance of equipment.

Col. Brown complimented the unit on its amazing improvement since the previous inspection. Class rooms were built in the armory, floodlights were put up outdoors to facilitate drilling at night, and a grease house was built to store oils and greases.

Only minor errors were found in the records, and attendance had increased considerably.

A rating of excellent was given the unit.

Sgt. F C R. J. Hart, Jr., was chosen the best dressed soldier, and he was awarded a prize of $15.00 in cash.

Second place went to Sgt. L. R. Evans, with a prize of $2.50 and a jacket; and third place went to Cpl. Earl Hart with a prize of $5.00.

Give to The Community Chest!

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Collins visited friends in Danville, Va., over the weekend.

Mrs. Effie Bridges spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tippett.

DEBATE TEAMS TO DISCUSS COMMUNISM TONIGHT

A debating team representing the universities of Great Britain will meet the Wake Forest College team in the College Chapel on Friday night, October 17, at 8 o'clock.

The English debaters are Kenneth Dibben and Ronald Evans. Representing Wake Forest are Joe Mauney and Virgil Moorefield.

The subject is "Resolved: That it is never in the interests of a democracy to ban the Communist party."

There is no admission charge. The general public is invited.

U. D. C. State Convention Held In Raleigh

Mrs. James A. Harris spent last week in Raleigh attending the U. D. C. State Convention.

As chairman of the exhibit committee, she had a good report to turn over to the State president, Mrs. Henry L. Stephens, of Warsaw.

The first prize for the scrap books went to the Julian Carr Chapter of Durham. Second prize went to the Granville Gray Chapter of Oxford. The third prize to the Temple Bethel Wilder Chapter of Sanford.

All scrap books on display in the Elizabeth Room at Sir Water Hotel were beautifully compiled and interesting. Some of them showing very old clippings and illustrations from newspapers. Among them a clipping giving an account of the death and funeral arrangements for Jefferson Davis, who was president of the Confederate Congress. Prior to the War between the States, he had been an active American statesman and also a soldier in the Mexican War of 1847-51.

NOTICE

The John Lake Missionary Group will meet on Tuesday, Oct. 21, at the Oak Grove Baptist Church for the annual Leadership Conference.

The conference is for all officers and any other interested persons.

PTA MEETS THURS. OCT. 9 AT SCHOOL

The Wake Forest PTA met on Thursday evening, October 9, in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Wiggins, the president, presided.

Dr. Owen Herring led the devotional and Mrs. Charles Allen sang.

The Student Council of the high school reported on its planned activities for the year. Miss Virginia Sabiston, president; Miss Jacque Hall, Mr. Jimmy Greene and Mr. Larry Harris, members of the Council, were with us at the meeting. Miss Hall is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. She told us that her goal for the year is $2,000.00 and from the extensive plans already made we believe she will raise the money.

Mrs. J. W. Hollowell, chairman of the Membership Committee, made a report on the membership drive. Mrs. Tom Rogers, Room Representative Chairman, read a list of the room representatives for each class. Mr. W. M. Satterwhite, treasurer, reported $60.00 in the treasury.

To Enter Float In Fall Festival
The PTA will sponsor a float in the fall festival parade. Mrs. Scott Patterson was appointed chairman of this committee.

The following recommendation was presented by the Executive Committee and adopted by the PTA.

1. The PTA will during the year provide venetian blinds for the rooms that do not already have them.

2. The annual PTA study course will be divided into sessions and held on two different nights.

3. Stunt night will be presented on two different nights.

4. Safety awards will be presented to school bus drivers at the end of school — the total amount of awards not to exceed $50.

Skit Presented

At the conclusion of the business session, Mrs. Scott Patterson and Mrs. William Bell presented a jiffy-skit on our PTA magazine & Mrs. Charles Allen sang a song in connection with the magazine.

Mrs. Frank Timberlake, Publication Chairman, will be glad to take your subscription for the magazine if you have not already given it to her.

Third Grade Wins Prize

Mrs. B. J. Powell's third grade won the attendance prize.

The November meeting will be the annual study course, watch the paper for further announcements about the study course.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained at the local post office.

The Master of Ceremonies for the Saturday afternoon entertainment at the Fall Festival will be none other than Maestro C. D. Matheny of Service Chevrolet, reports Chamber President Jesse Hollowell.

Matheny will introduce W. W. Holding and then Holding will introduce the main speaker, Commissioner of Agriculture L. Y. Ballentine of Raleigh.

After the talk by Ballentine, Matheny will continue with the program, which will include awarding cash and merchandise gifts to — (1) the Oldest Married Couple; (2) The Youngest Married Couple; (3) The Newest Married Couple; (4) The Oldest Man; and (5) The Oldest Woman.

There will also be the awarding of the GRAND PRIZE for the entire Festival.

Saturday afternoon festivities are scheduled to commence at 3 o'clock, Oct. 25.

Leland Jones and Frank Smith are in charge of the Saturday afternoon program.

The Lions Club Street Dance will start at 8 P M on Saturday night. Be sure to get your tickets from any Lion member for this gala affair.

The Fire Departments of Wake Forest are scheduling a hook-up demonstration immediately after the Friday afternoon Parade, reports Fire Chief Frank Keith.

Both white and colored departments will give individual demonstrations. It will be really something to see.

The Parade on Friday afternoon October 24 will feature many attractive floats reports Parade Chairman Ralph Cruser. Local business firms are invited to enter floats, and participate in any way they will to help make the Festival a big success. Contact Ralph Cruser or Nurney Bond if you wish to enter the parade.

Special parking assistance will be rendered by the local police force under the new Chief Wiggs. And State Police are to be on hand also during the weekend to assist.

The parade will start at 3:30.

The program will start at 3:00. And it will be held at the Seaboard Railway station.

All business houses are urged to decorate their places using the Fall theme. Small banners also have been supplied to all firms for decorating their windows.

New plans for the routing of the Parade have been made — it is to form at the south corner of White and Elm streets at the railroad crossing. The parade will march down White street to the red light, turn left and go down Roosevelt avenue to the B & E Cleaners, then turn right and go up by Edwards Pharmacy, turn left again onto White street, and then continue to the place of its origin.

There is where the Fire Department drill demonstration will be held.
