THIS AND THAT by Barbara Hollowell

The Dramatic Club has done it again! Seems they're always working on a play. For the fall drama, the Club selected Outward Bound.

The cast was selected last week and rehearsals have begun. Mr. Thomas Johnson is director of the play, and Jacque Hall and Kappy Stroud are student directors.

Jane Aycock plays Stella—prior feminine lead; Billy Lynam is Scrubby—the bartender and navigator of the ship; Larry Harris & Sally Patterson portray the devoted newly weds; Mr. Lingley, the business man, is played by Murray Greason; and Dixie Smith is Mrs. Midget, the sweet old lady. Mrs. Clivendon Banks, the sophisticated lady, is Virginia Sabiston; and Jimmy Green is Duke.

Tuesday's half holiday meant fun for everybody at the State Fair. Jean Bond, Margaret Moses, Betty Eames, Louise Faircloth, Pat Dunham, & Kappy Stroud all piled in the Bond's "Chevy" and were "off to the fair". Fred Francis and Joe Richardson spent the whole day over there. Saw Carolyn Farnsworth and Rose Lake there, too. Also Sue Ray, and a crew of Seniors. Harry Holding took a load of boys over Tuesday night.

Loads of fun, this fair, and not to be forgotten.

James Mackie and Tommy Holding flew to Philadelphia for the Wake Forest—Villa Nova game. Know the team appreciated your loyal support, boys.

Gotta' go to the Fair now... see ya' on the ferris wheel.

HIRSCHI - SHEARON VOWS PLEDGED

Miss Martha Shearon became the bride of the Reverend Charlton Frederick Hirschi on October 11, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon in the Wake Forest Baptist church, with Dr. H. I. Glass of Wilmington, assisted by the Rev. W. M. Warren, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Presenting wedding music were Wallace E. Shearon, Jr., soloist, brother of the bride, and Dr. Paul S. Robinson, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white bridal satin with a finger-tip veil of imported French illusion. She carried a bride's Bible topped with a white orchid.

Miss Beverly Shearon, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor and only attendant. Her floor-length gown was of deep rose taffeta with a deep wine sash, the ends of which reached the floor. She carried a bouquet of matching flowers touched with white, and a headdress of matching flowers.

The bridegroom had as his best man his uncle, Carlton Dunn, of Jamaica, New York. Ushers were the Rev. R. T. Commander of Gates, the Rev. T. J. Barrett of Broadway, the Rev. J. D. Aycock of Scotland Neck, and the Rev. W. M. Wells, Jr., of Warrenton.

The bride's younger brother, Charles Bayard Shearon, lighted the candles prior to the ceremony.

The bride's mother wore a wine velvet gown with matching accessories, while the bridegroom's mother wore a royal blue gown of crepe and lace with matching accessories. Both mothers wore identical corsages of purple orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Wake Forest Community Building.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Shearon, Sr., of Wake Forest. She attended the Louisburg Junior College and received her B A degree in religious education from Guilford College. For the past year, she has been employed as Director of Christian Education at Trinity Methodist Church, Wilmington, N. C.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jacob A. Hirschi and the late Mr. Hirschi, formerly of Wood-
