BIRTH

Sp/5 and Mrs. James A. Hart of Fort Sills, Oklahoma, formerly of Rt. 1, Louisburg, announce the birth of a son, James A. Hart, Jr. January 25. Mrs. Hart is the former Joan Hill.

Governor Speaks Out for Hearts

A former Heart Fund Chairman, now Governor of North Carolina, urges all North Carolinians to support the 1965 Heart Fund campaign "and to work for it and to be thankful for it."

Governor Dan Moore, a past Heart Fund Chairman in Haywood County, says that the work of the North Carolina Heart Association is "worthy of the interest and support of all North Carolinians from Wanchese to Wehuty." Wanchese is a small town in Dare County, in the eastern part of the state. Wehuty, in Cherokee County, sits right on the Tennessee line in the southwestern part of North Carolina.

Governor Sanford, kicking off the Heart Association's year-long "Hope for Hearts" crusade on New Year's Day, put the rural Cherokee community into the news in the phrase, "Wilmington to Wehuty" as a variation of the more common "Manteo to Murphy."

Governor Moore says that more than two million living Tar Heels face the eventuality of falling victim to the Red Plague (heart disease) — "unless we stop its onslaught." Heart and blood vessel disease killed almost 21,000 North Carolinians during 1964 — 13 times the automobile accident toll.

Ronnie Tuck Enlists in Navy

Ronald Edward Tuck, son of Mrs. Frances S. Tuck of 239 North Main Street, Wake Forest recently enlisted in the U. S. Navy and was transferred to the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, California.

Tuck is a graduate of Wake Forest High School and qualified for enlistment under the High School Graduate Training Program. Under this program he is guaranteed a Class "A" Service School in the field of his choice. Tuck decided to choose his field at a later date during recruit training.

The new bluejacket will undergo nine weeks of instructions in naval orientation; ships and air-craft; gunnery; fire-fighting; physical training and seamanship. Upon completion of recruit training he will return home on 14 days leave prior to reporting to school.

Chief Johnson, local Navy recruiter states that anyone interested in obtaining information concerning the Navy may contact him at the Post Office in Raleigh, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. or by writing for an appointment in Wake Forest.

Some people have tact; others tell the truth.

Big Chicken Hawk

Robert Earl Marchall (left) shot this huge chicken hawk last week with a 12-gauge shotgun while hunting near Gilcrest farm.

The hawk had a 51 1/2 in. wingspan and weighed about 3 lbs. He was accompanied by Tommy Baker, (pictured right). —(Bob Allen Photo).

Snow Postponed Dance Re-Scheduled For Saturday, Feb. 13

The dance planned by the Band Booster's Club for last Saturday, January 30 was called off due to snow, and will be held Saturday, February 13 from 9 to 11:30 p.m. at the Community House.

Last week's edition of the Wake Weekly carried a picture of the Dance Band and its director, Billy Farmer with an article explaining the project which was instigated by the Band Boosters to give the band an opportunity to play for a dance. The delayed time offers the advantage of a Valentine theme and better preparation for the evening.

Mrs. Watson Wilkinson and Mrs. T. M. Faircloth who are in charge of arrangements ask that all band members contacted to help with refreshments, please carry out their agreements as planned last week.

Candle decorated tables seating ten people and smaller ones for four will be arranged cabaret style around the dance floor, and refreshments will be sold with the help of the Majorities.

Tickets $1.00 per couple and 75c stag will be available at Holding Drug store and at P.T.A. Thursday, February 11.

Note of Thanks

The kindness and sympathy of neighbors and friends in our recent sorrow will always remain with us a precious memory. Our sincere thanks and gratitude, for all those comforting acts.

Wake Forest Jaycees Plan Ladies' Night

The Wake Forest Jaycees and their wives will meet at Balentine's on Saturday, February 6, at 7 p. m.

Saturday afternoon, weather permitting, the Jaycees will offer their services to the Town by painting street names on the markers.

Several members attended a workshop in Oxford Thursday night, for the purpose of training getting district records up to date.

Youthpower Breakfast Held In Raleigh

A Youthpower breakfast to spur a Wake County program for healthier eating and more interest in food careers was held at 8:30 a. m. Saturday, January 30 at the YMCA, 1601 Hillsboro St. in Raleigh.

Purposes of the national, state and county Youthpower programs will be explained at the breakfast, initiated by the Women's Committee of Wake County Farm Bureau. During the breakfast event, a county-wide Youthpower Committee will be selected.

Youthpower is a program involving teenagers who carry out special projects in nutrition and food careers. Sponsored by businesses and industries in the food and food-related field, it is non-commercial and non-commodity.

One phase of the program is competition among teenagers for all-expense paid trips to the National Youthpower Congress in Chicago March 24-27. Winners of local competition will vie with
