Mrs. H. H. Harris To Direct Cancer Drive April 23-30

Over 100,000 North Carolina volunteers start the annual fight against cancer this month with the slogan "Help N. C. Lick The Big C."

An all-out effort being made this April to not only raise funds in the Tar Heel State, but to save lives lost needlessly to this disease.

Mrs. H. H. Harris has been named chairman of the Wake Forest Cancer drive.

Mrs. Harris announced this week that the local drive would be held April 23-30.

Efforts are being continued in North Carolina to bring the Crusade to local communities. "We want the people of North Carolina to be conscious that they are helping their own neighbors and friends who have cancer, when they donate to the Cancer Crusade," the chairman said.

Lewis R. Holding is serving as State Cancer Crusade Chairman for the second consecutive year.

Tar Heel citizens are urged to help lick the Big C with a check-up and a check.

"Our statistics bear out the fact that the accident potential rises threefold on holiday weekends. One of the main factors in this increase is the urge to drive too far and too fast in too little time. Normally cautious drivers become impatient with momentary traffic tie-ups and take chances they would normally avoid. So drive carefully and don't become the 'other fellow' who always has all those traffic accidents."

Thomas B. Watkins, president of the N. C. State Motor Club and the National Automobile Association, pointed out that extra hazards confront motorists on the highways during the Easter weekend and said:

ure to yield right of way, 125; driving left of center, 112; following too closely, 80; and reckless driving, 74. Driving on the wrong side of the road accounted for 5 of the 23 deaths.

Local Clean-Up Week Set

Annual Dutch Luncheon of the Wake Forest Garden Club was held by a large number of members of the club and guests Friday, April 6, in the private room of the Southeastern Cafeteria. The devotion was led by Mrs. H. B. North and a short business meeting held at which time flourida-tion of the town water was unanimously endorsed.

Discussion of the beautification of Wake Forest was led by Mrs. Mackie, and Mrs. A. C. Coley, who reported that the week of April 13 to 19 was set as Clean-Up-Week in Wake Forest. (This has been approved by the Mayor.) It was urged that all citizens do not wait for this date to clean up their surroundings. Mrs. Coley quoted from Lady Bird Johnson's article in "U. S. News and World Report" on beautification of highways by planting shrubs and trees and elimination of weeds and auto grave-yards. With most people using cars and driving to the back of their homes it is easy to neglect the front premises, which are on view at all times by passersby and visitors. Each person can help in the beautification of our town by seeing that their front steps and sidewalk are clean and papers and trash picked up.

Mrs. A. C. Reid introduced the speaker, Mrs. Harry Lord of Raleigh. Mrs. Lord, who is Asst. Unit Supervisor at Wake Forest Branch Hospital, brought a collection of driftwood and other wood, lichens, moss, and other decorative materials she had brought back with her from travels over the United States. Combining different shapes of wood and using imagination, beautiful and functional arrangements may be achieved. Flat plaques may be placed on old flat pieces of slate and one of her favorite pieces was a "tree" which may be decorated for festive occasions. She said that the wood used need not necessarily come from the ocean, but may be found in forests, old buildings and almost anywhere. She told of various methods of bleaching the wood, by use of Clorox and sunning on a roof or other protected areas. Wood may be tinted for a particular color scheme and permanent flowers and grapes lend themselves to arrangements.

Guests were Mrs. B. W. Wells, Mrs. Edwin Cheek and daughter Edith from Mars Hill, Mrs. Watson Wilkinson, II, Mrs. I. O. Jones, Mrs. Howard Mangum, Mrs. John Wayland and Mrs. J. L. Baum. The "White Elephant" table, presided over by Mrs. James A. Harris, was very popular and she sold a varied assortment of objects from flowering plants to classware and costume jewelry. Hostesses were Mrs. S. W. Brewer, Jr., Mrs. Leland Jones, and Mrs. W. W. Holding Jr.
