

New System For Machine Tools Increases Efficiency At Schrader

A completely new system of storing, transporting and maintaining machine tools is adding to production efficiency at the new Schrader Wake Forest Plant for industrial products. The system was used to store and catalog a vast assortment of several thousand tools for Schrader machines at the Brooklyn headquarters plant, and then to transport them to Wake Forest where they were immediately available for use.

The system consists of a series of Vidmar cabinets, specially constructed for storage of out-snapped assorted items such as machine tools. First step in the new system was a complete survey of Schrader's tools, taking into account such factors as number, types, sizes, and frequency of use. The survey covered tools for both the industrial products factory located in Wake Forest, N. C., and the automotive products plant in Dickson, Tenn.

The cabinets could then be left on the production floor as long as needed. With the tools in place and coded, the cabinets, still mounted on their pallets, were ready to be moved at any time. In the meantime tools could be taken out and replaced as needed.

Cabinets could even be shipped some time after the machines themselves, since all machines were shipped set up for their next production run in the new plant.

In Wake Forest the cabinets, each measuring about four feet tall by three feet deep and three feet wide, are all grouped in a central tool-room area. Several cabinets, lined up in a row, can be locked by turning a single handle. The tops provide a convenient working surface.

Kept in a central area, the tools are subject to a program of regular inspection and maintenance by a staff of toolroom specialists—another link in Schrader's company-wide policy of total quality control.

This information was then translated by Vidmar into the number of cabinets needed, number of various-sized drawers, and partitions in drawers. Diagrams were drawn up for each cabinet showing specifically what tools were to be stored in it.

At the Schrader plant in Brooklyn the cabinets arrived on pallets for easy transportation within the factory and subsequently to their final destination in Wake Forest or Dickson. After partitions were assembled in the drawers according to the pre-arranged plan, the cabinets were moved by fork-lift truck to the section of the production areas where they were to be loaded. Each tool was carefully listed and coded as it was dropped into its slot in the cabinet drawers so it could be quickly relocated. In addition, all cabinets were coded to facilitate location of tools.

Church Series Gets 9th Annual Award

The Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, has announced that the Keister "Support the Church" series is again the recipient of the George Washington Honor Medal. This is the 9th such annual award bestowed upon this nationally-famous feature since its origin in 1944.

The "Support the Church" series is now appearing in over 1000 newspapers throughout the United States and Canada; interestingly enough, one subscriber in Sweden. It has received enthusiastic endorsement from ministers and leaders in virtually every major denomination in the United States.

The object of the Foundation's annual awards program is to honor citizens regardless of race, creed or economic status, for outstanding efforts to improve public understanding and appreciation of the basic constitutional rights, freedoms and corresponding responsibilities inherent in the American Way of Life through the things they write, do, or say.

This paper is pleased to present these forceful messages to its readers and we feel that the sponsors should be proud to be a part of this influential project, reflecting high credit to their own business establishments, and helping to strengthen our churches and indeed our whole community.

The award will be presented to the Keister organization in the Old Supreme Court Chamber of the Nation's Capitol at a date to be announced.

Leadership of the Freedoms Foundation includes General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Chairman; the Honorable James A. Farley, Senior Vice Chairman; Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Executive Committee; and Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, President.

"I've made more money than ever, since I switched to GASTOBAC"

"Until a few years ago, I had done all my curing with wood and oil-burning curers. Then I tried GASTOBAC, and I learned that clean-burning GASTOBAC curers, using L.P. Gas, put more dollars into my pockets. I get better quality and more weight from tobacco cured in GASTOBAC equipped barns."

"As a tobacco grower and as a tobacco warehouse operator where I see tobacco that has been cured by all kinds of curers auctioned off day by day, I have been impressed by one fact: tobacco cured with clean-burning, automatic GASTOBAC curers always brings the high dollar."

"Let me pass on this hint to all farmers who are looking for the surest method of curing tobacco for high-dollar results: Equip your barns with GASTOBAC Tobacco Curers and be assured that your tobacco is being cured the best way."

When A FELLOW NEEDS A FRIEND

A perfect picture of dejection! Perhaps it's another rainy day. Even little children have their serious moments. "What is there to do next?" "Mommy, where did I come from?" Or, "Daddy, is God up in the sky?" Little questions of little children grow into big questions by big people. Sometimes the bigger the man, the more humble the question, and of course... directed to God.

The place for such questions is the Church. In church, ponder the imponderables, ask the old, old questions: receive the gentle answers. Church, too, is God's Home. He's waiting for you there.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
