Car On Fire

Car Catches Fire Monday

A '58 Chevrolet caught fire on Stadium Road Monday at 11:30 a. m. causing considerable damage and a big scare to the two occupants, who had just left the Schrader plant and were on their way to lunch.

Thomas M. Johnson, Jr., owner and driver, and Robert Rash, both of Raleigh and employees at Schrader, said they smelled gas and then heard "a loud noise" before the car broke into flames.

Wake Forest Rural Firemen were on the scene in minutes and quickly had the fire out.

Athey Plant Dedication To Attract Dignitaries

One of Athey's Trailers Leaving Plant

State and local dignitaries are expected to be on hand this afternoon when Athey Products Corporation holds the dedication of its new North Carolina facilities — headquarters and plant.

Former N. C. Governor, Luther H. Hodges, will deliver the dedication address to invited guests.

This marks the second plant dedication by a major industry in Wake Forest in the past two months. The Schrader Fluid Power Products plant was dedicated April 24th. Both corporations chose Wake Forest sites about a year and a half ago. The two plants now employ around 560 people.

PROGRAM

- FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1965
- 2:30 Welcome address
 - W. D. Lease, President, Products Corporation
 - Invocation
 - Dr. O. T. Binkley, President, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary

Saturday morning, Athey's employees and their families are invited to Open House at the plant. They will have a re-play of Governor Hodges address, tour the plant and then be served a barbecue lunch.

Athey had its beginnings in 1922 after a "Truss wheel", invented by Isaac H. Athey, had been used effectively in the marshes at Beaufort, N. C. in 1917. The young Chicago, Illinois company grew with the Athey concept of quality customized products.

Since 1930 the Athey product line has been constantly updated and broadened to match increased tractor power and construction needs. Today, Athey produces and markets some thirty products ranging from belt loaders and conveyors to 100-ton capacity hauling trailers.

In 1964, after careful and considerable study, the corporation moved to its new location in North Carolina.

Athey's new modern 147,000 sq. ft. plant has some 142,000 sq. ft. of manufacturing space and is located on a 40 acre track just south of Wake Forest.

Kolman Manufacturing Company of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, became a division of Athey Products Corporation in late 1964.

Athey Products are distributed through a world-wide network of over 500 dealers specializing in construction, mining and highway maintenance equipment.

Rev. Ross Returns To Local Charge

The Rev. Leon W. Ross was re-appointed pastor of the Wake Forest-Youngsville Methodist charge at the final session of the N. C. Methodist Conference held last week in Raleigh.

Rev. Ross was first appointed to the local charge in 1963.

Officials Like North Carolina Living

W. D. LEASE
President

W. D. "Bill" Lease, President of Athey Products Corporation, was very impressed with North Carolina while surveying several states as possible plant sites. His enthusiastic presentation of the virtues and practical benefits of locating in the Raleigh area convinced his organization and the Athey board of directors. Today Mr. Lease is more convinced than ever — Mrs. Lease and their family of five boys share his views.

C. E. MATTHEWS
Vice President, Foreign Operations

C. E. "Matt" Matthews, Athey's Vice President of Foreign Operations, is a constant world traveler with a deep knowledge of the big construction and earth moving jobs in every corner of the world.

Mr. Matthews is a University of Colorado graduate in mechanical engineering. A native of Pueblo, Colorado and now a confirmed advocate of living and working in North Carolina. He and Mrs. Matthews live in Wake Forest's Cardinal Hills.

He has served as Athey's Service Engineer, Service Manager, Service and Parts Manager, and as Service Vice President prior to being named Vice President, Foreign Operations in 1960.

FRANK D. ROSSI
Vice President, Purchasing

Frank D. Rossi, Vice President of Purchasing for Athey Products Corporation is a native of Chicago and a man whose interests and hobbies fit him for complete satisfaction with North Carolina living.

As Frank puts it, "Chicago was never like this." He is an ardent salt water fisherman, an excellent amateur photographer and particularly enjoys the opportunity for horseback riding near his new home in Foxcroft.

Mr. Rossi served as Director of Purchasing for Athey from 1947 to 1962 when he was elected Vice President in charge of all purchasing for Athey and their affiliated companies.

ROBERT C. LAWSON
Vice President, Marketing

Robert C. Lawson, Marketing Vice President of Athey Products Corporation is a picture of the modern marketing man on the move. Bob's duties, in addition to sales, distribution, advertising, product and market research, keep him in constant contact with Athey's dealer organizations and key customers throughout the world.

After his service in World War II as an Air Force pilot Lawson gained a wealth of experience in the construction machinery field for major equipment manufacturers. Since joining Athey he has held position of Sales Representative, Sales Manager and Director of Sales prior to being named Marketing Vice President.

Wake Finishing Lists Vacation Schedule

Wake Finishing Company will observe the week of July 4, as a vacation week, it was announced today by Mr. J. L. McIntyre, Plant Manager.

The plant, a unit of Burlington Industries, Inc., will close down at the end of operations on July 3, and will resume operations on July 12, he said.

Mr. McIntyre said that all eligible employees are to receive vacation pay, based on length of service.

Holding Heads Lake People's Party

At a recent county-wide meeting in Raleigh of the newly organized Wake County unit of Lake People's Party, Dr. Beverly Lake was the principal speaker. Dr. Lake pointed out and explained to the group the principles of this organization and went on to express his personal satisfaction over the results his supporters obtained in the run-off for the gubernatorial election last Spring. It is well recognized that the support his organization and followers gave Governor Moore was the deciding factor in Moore's dominating the run-off election. Dr. Lake expressed appreciation for the job accomplished so far by Governor Moore's administration. Some 175 of Lake's friends attended the organizational supper meeting and indicated an earnest desire to see the Wake County

Heel Master Farm Family Vassar Shearons Chosen

O. T. Barham Jr. farming land produces 12 acres of tobacco, grains, soybeans and cotton. Shearon's potato curing house is considered one of the best in this section of Wake County. He recently began selling his potatoes under the brand name of Nature's Pride, which are packed in boxes at his plant ready for shipment to stores in this area and western North Carolina. Many of his potatoes are sold for certified seed purposes and Shearon, said that this week, they are busy planting potato slips which will be used for this purpose. Plants have already been planted for potatoes to be sold on the market this fall.

Work on the Shearon farm is shared by every member of the family. Vassar credits much of his success as a well-rounded farmer to his wife, Elsie and daughters, Lois, Alice and Betty. Though Lois is now away at school at Mars Hill, when she is home she pitches right in and does her part.

In the fall of 1964, Shearon had his first try at serving his community in the political field. He entered the county commissioner race for the Northern Wake District 4 and won by an overwhelming majority over the Republican opponent, William M. Wilson. He is a member of the district advisory committee for the Farm Credit Board of Columbia, S. C., and president of the Raleigh Production Credit Association of which he has been a director for 12 years. Shearon also serves as director of Tobacco Associates and of the Wake County Farm Bureau from 1955 to 1963.

The Shearon family are all active in the Rolesville Baptist Church where they are members. At the present time, he is superintendent of the Sunday School, and has been chairman of the board of deacons, chairman of the building committee, a Sunday School teacher and Training Union Leader. Mrs. Shearon serves in several capacities in the church, having been a Sunday School teacher, Training Union worker and a member of the Adult Choir. All the girls are members of the choir and many times form a singing group among themselves, singing in their church and other churches as well.
