Mike Alsop and Racer

ROLESVILLE YOUTH TO ENTER DERBY RACE

By Mrs. O. T. Barham Jr.

Mike Alsop, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Alsop of Rolesville, took his soap box derby out for its first trial run this week in preparation for the Derby Race to be held in Raleigh on July 10th.

Mike entered the contest which began in April and is co-sponsored by the Raleigh Jaycees and the Sir Walter Chevrolet Company. Since April, he has attended 5 or 6 Derby Clinics where they are instructed in the construction of their soap box derbies. Each boy is furnished with wheels and the steering mechanism and they must get the rest of the material needed to complete their cars. Boys cannot accept help from their fathers or anyone although sometimes assistance is needed to help hold a board for sawing, etc. Mike, who was entered in the Soap Box Derby last summer in Bluefield, West Virginia, said he didn't come out any kind of a winner, but enjoyed it so much he was encouraged to enter here.

Each boy entered has a Big Brother, who is one of the Jaycees and he checks on their progress from time to time during the construction of their derbies. Jerry Oliver of Raleigh, is Mike's Big Brother and has called on him several times already. Their first inspection will be held on July 3rd when each boy should have his derby about completed. This week, Mike is busy putting and sanding and getting it ready for its first coat of paint.

Many boys after deciding to enter this race, find that a place to keep their soap box derby stored while working on it is a real prob-

Attends Conference

Several officials of the Raleigh Production Credit Association including President Vassar Shearon attended the annual conference of production credit association directors and general managers at Grove Park Inn, Asheville, N. C. June 27-29, according to Ernest L. Greene, general manager of the association.

The conference was arranged by the officers of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia which provides leadership, supervision and loan funds for production credit associations in the four states.

lem. In Mike's instance, his good neighbor friend, Paul Jones, Jr., offered to let him have his garage and thus eliminated that worry.

The Alsop family is formerly from Bluefield, West Virginia. They now make their home in Rolesville while Mr. Alsop attends Southeastern Seminary in Wake Forest.

Who learns and learns, and acts not what he knows, is one who plows and plows, but never sows.

Square yourself for use. A stone that may fit in the wall is not left in the way.

—Persian proverb

The old believe everything; the middle-aged suspect everything; the young know everything.
