

Brian V. Edmunds
Main Floor LaSalle
1000 Chatham Rd.
Winston-Salem, N. C. 27101

The Wake Weekly

And The Youngsville - Rolesville Record

Volume XXI, Number 17 Published at Wake Forest, North Carolina 27587 Thursday Morning, April 27, 1967 8 pages this week 10c Per Copy

Womanless Wedding Guests

Wedding guests are seated at the Womanless Wedding Reception sponsored by the Youngsville Senior Center, all but Mrs. Wheatheart, (E. J. Jones) of the bride who waves to friends. (Photo by Bob Allen) are Granny (Wiley Brown, Sr.),

No Contest Expected In Youngsville Election

Youngsville voting is expected to be extremely light Tuesday since neither Mayor Marvin Roberts nor incumbents on the town board have any opposition. The incumbents commissioners are E. J. Pearce, David Cyrus, Sr., J. T. Allen, W. T. Moss, and M. D. Hoyle. Polls will be open at the fire house from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Town Election Expected To Draw Record Voting

More interest has been shown in the May 2nd Wake Forest town election than any election in recent years. Issues have been injected, but personalities are expected to prove important.

14 years on the board. Also seeking posts on the board for a four-year term are Nurney Bond, college teacher who previously served on the board; Gene Baker, businessman; Thomas J. Byrne, partner in the new country club golf course; Charles Carter, John Lyon, and William B. Cooley, all local merchants; and Vernon Pearce, Westinghouse employee.

Nine To Seek Five Posts; Two In Mayoralty Race

By Mrs. O. T. Barham Jr. Residents of the town of Rolesville will go to the polls Tuesday, May 2nd to elect a mayor and a town board consisting of five members.

foreman at ITT in Raleigh. He says, "Since I have been on the board, I am aware of the town problems and if elected Mayor, I shall use this past experience in helping to solve problems as they should be or any that may occur in the future. I also am very interested in seeing the town grow and be a more inviting place in which to live, and will welcome any viewpoints from the citizens in bringing this about."

Rolesville that if they will support me in the May 2nd election, I shall give my full consideration to the people in any situation that may arise and seek to do what is best for them and the town."

In the Mayor's race, Incumbent H. E. Perry, is seeking his 6th term in that office and his only opposition is Owen Beck, who has served two terms as commissioner.

Incumbent R. M. Broughton: "Since 1947, I have served on the Town Board and know that many problems arise in a small town and I shall continue assisting in meeting these problems and doing what is best for the town with the funds available."

Newcomer Bobby Jackson Pulley: "I would like to see Rolesville grow in population and business and if elected, I will strive to attract new people and businesses. I would like also to see the town do something in the way of planned recreation for its children."

The nine men running for commissioner include Incumbents Coley Barham, R. M. Broughton, C. K. Brown and Braxton Gay. Newcomers are Richard Lindsey Bowling, Bobby Jackson Pulley, A. T. Lassiter, Maylon P. Cooke and Jones Averette.

Incumbent C. K. Brown: "If re-elected, I shall strive to continue serving the town as best I can and to utilize the funds we have to the best advantage for all concerned."

Newcomer A. T. Lassiter: "As a homeowner here I am interested in seeing my town grow and attract new businesses and residents, I feel that it must be made more attractive. If elected, I would like to see a new Town Hall erected in Rolesville if funds could be made available. Money now being used as rent on the present building, could be used as payments on a building that would someday belong to the town."

The public is cordially invited to attend this concert of two-piano music performed by these two talented ladies.

Incumbent Braxton Gay: "I will work for what would be in the best interest for the people and the town in helping it to grow into a better community."

Newcomer Jones Averette: "If the people of Rolesville elect me to the board, I shall work for better street lighting, for street markers and house numbers as funds are made available."

Perry, who has been mayor of Rolesville for the past ten years, issued this statement this week. "If re-elected, I shall continue to serve the people of Rolesville in seeking better town management, better street lighting, a stop light to be placed in the intersection and to look into the possibility of securing a sewage system for the town."

Incumbent C. K. Brown: "If re-elected, I shall do my part in seeking the best for the town and its development."

Newcomer Maylon P. Cooke: "If the people of Rolesville elect me to this town post, I promise to work towards a better community through an impartial and progressive town government."

"Of course," Perry stated, "this would require a bond election, but as the town grows, this is in all our minds and for growth it will be a necessity. In the next few years, I plan to continue pushing the growth of our village without raising taxes."

Incumbent R. M. Broughton: "If re-elected, I shall continue to serve the people of Rolesville in seeking better town management, better street lighting, a stop light to be placed in the intersection and to look into the possibility of securing a sewage system for the town."

Newcomer Richard Lindsey Bowling: "If elected to the town board, I promise the people of Owen Beck, who has served two terms as town commissioner, is a homeowner in Rolesville and the concert stage and was not heard again until 1937 when it was revived in New York. Again the critics were elated and described it as a neglected masterpiece. Seemingly this revival should have led to its permanent inclusion in our American repertoire, but this is not the case. The performance in Wake Forest marks the first performance in this area.

The work is based on an ancient poem by Bernard De Morlaix, "The Celestial Country". The English translation was made by Isabell Parker, the composer's mother. It was one of the most consistently beautiful oratorios ever written with each section seeming to outdo the last in sheer beauty and dramatic excitement.

The Concert will be directed by Dr. Ben Johnson with H. Max Smith at the organ. Soloists for the performance include: Kay Clyde, Soprano; Brenda Clark, Soprano; Ann Owens, Alto; Diane West, Alto; David Norris and Art Collier, Tenors; Ben Johnson, Baritone and Ken Morgan, Bass. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Piano Concert Tonight

A musical opportunity for residents of the surrounding area will be presented at a concert in the small Southeastern Seminary (Building 1) at 8:00 p. m. The concert is designed for listening. Included on the program are a number of light pieces which will appeal to everyone. Highlights for the concert are portions of the "The Four Seasons" by Vivaldi, "The Piano Concerto" by Beethoven, Variations for Piano by Scriabin, and "The Piano Concerto" by Darius Milhaud.

Recorders Court Race For Judge Expected To Draw Big Vote

Interest is running high in the Wake Forest Recorder's Court election set for Tuesday.

man, who came to Wake Forest several years ago to make his home, is the third man seeking the post.

Three men including the acting judge and present solicitor are seeking the office of judge.

Raleigh attorney, Robert Hedrick is unopposed for the office of solicitor and Charles Baker is unopposed for the office of vice recorder.

Horace L. Macon, local T-V repairman, who is vice-recorder, has been acting judge since the illness and death of the late Judge Donald B. Gulley. He has tried cases at the court since the last of January.

Incumbent Solicitor Edward Paschal, a local attorney, has been solicitor for a number of years and has practiced law since 1948.

Newcomer Edward Paschal: "If elected to the town board, I shall work for better street lighting, for street markers and house numbers as funds are made available."

Burns Robbins, retired Navy

Voting Place at Community House

Voting for the Wake Forest Town offices and Wake Forest Recorder's Court offices will be in the Wake Forest Community House from 6:30 to 6:30.

Jackson Civitan Prexy

The Wake Forest Civitan Club has elected the following officers for the coming year: J. R. Jackson, president; Bob Benfield, vice-president; Millard Dickerson, treasurer; and Jerald Fountain, secretary.

Registered voters in New Light, Barton's Creek, Rolesville and Wake Forest Townships vote for the recorder's Court offices. However, all must cast their vote at the Wake Forest Community House.

The Rio Grande river flows along the 800 mile border between Texas and Mexico.

Mrs. A. C. Hall Sr. Dies

Mrs. Virginia Gorrell Hall, 69, died Thursday night in Wake Forest Branch Hospital after a long illness.

lution, Wake Forest Garden Club, the Sarah Wait Missionary Circle and was active in the Wake Forest Birthplace Society, Inc.

A native of Wake Forest, she was the daughter of the late Dr. J. H. Gorrell, long time professor at Wake Forest College and granddaughter of the late Dr. Charles E. Taylor, president of Wake Forest College.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Wake Forest Baptist Church by the Rev. James Stertz, assisted by the Rev. Aubrey Tomlinson of Louisville. Burial was in the Wake Forest Cemetery.

Surviving are her husband, A. C. Hall, Sr., one son, A. C. Hall, Jr., both of Wake Forest, and three aunts.

Pallbearers were Guy Hill, Eugene McLeod, Paul Swink, Tom Arrington, John Holden, Dr. I. Beverly Lake, J. L. Warren and Charles Baker.

Summer Recreation Plans Given; Stainback, Director

In recent meeting of the Wake Forest Recreation Commission, several matters of interest to the whole community were discussed.

light of current interest in community development and improvement.

These two new members are Mrs. Hallie Privette and Mr. T. J. Culter.

(1) A proposal was introduced to undertake a thorough study of the purpose and function of the Recreation Commission as originally set forth by the Town Board of Commissioners in 1949. The hope is that the Recreation Commission can carry out its original intent in

(2) Plans for the 1967 summer recreation program were discussed. Mr. Bill Stainback was elected director of this program and will be responsible for the plans, administration and securing of personnel for the program. The dates for the eight-week program will be June 26-August 18. A description of the program along with pertinent information will be published next week. Any inquiries should be directed to Mr. Stainback.

Reappointed to another term was J. L. Warren. Other members of the Commission are: Jean Fisher, John Wooten, Marlon Cole, Clifton Keith, Jane Keeter, and Ted Janes, Chairman. Mrs. Anna Holden continues to serve as secretary-treasurer.

Firemen Learn About Radiation

Wake Forest Volunteer Firemen heard an interesting and helpful 2-hour lecture on radiation by State Trooper William Etheridge at the Rural Fire Department house last Thursday night.

(3) Preparation of the budget for 1967-68 for the Commission was initiated and Appreciation was expressed again for the allocations last year by the Town of Wake Forest and the United Fund of Wake County.

Harriett Thomas Wins Campus Post

Harriett Thomas has been elected secretary of the Campus Christian Association of Atlantic Christian College for the year 1967-68. A secretarial administration major, she is a junior this year. She is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Thomas of Wake Forest.

Firemen were told and shown methods of dealing with radiation should an accident occur. Etheridge said radium is being transported every day by trucks and trains.

(4) Two new members have been appointed by the Board of Commissioners to the Recreation Commission to fill the expired terms of Alice Soule and Nash Underwood.

Tommy Hicks Chm. of Winning Department at State

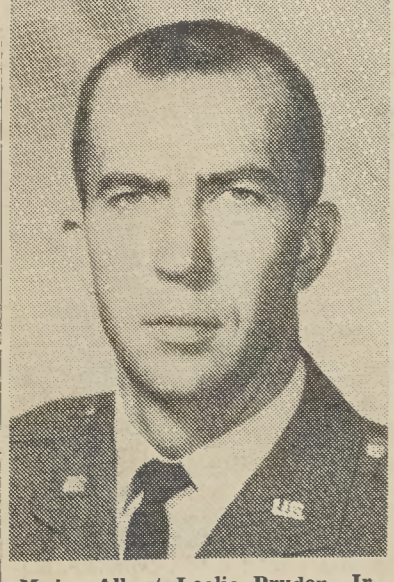

North Carolina State University Engineering Students put their ingenuity to the test last weekend for their 35th Engineering Fair. This year's theme "Engineering Past, Present, and Future", was presented to high school students, teachers, parents, and friends from all parts of the state. Many interesting exhibits were displayed from each department.

Tommy Hicks, chairman of the Aerospace Department, was informed the Aerospace Department was the first place winner. Tommy has been elected as vice-president of the North Carolina State Engineering Council for the 1967-68 term. He is also president of the A.I.A.A. (America Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics). The Engineering Council will leave Tuesday for a Southern Engineering Council Meeting in Huntsville, Alabama.

Tommy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hicks of Rolesville.

Promoted To Major

Major Albert Leslie Pruden, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Woodlief of Lexington, N. C. They have three children, Robert, Adele and Mary.

Major Albert Leslie Pruden, Jr.

Patterson Speaks To Lions Africa's Problems, Future

Dr. Patterson, a retired engineer, spent forty years in Africa. He is now Visiting Professor at Southeastern Seminary. Dr. Patterson, who has a heart and not from the head, told the Lions Club Rotarians who gathered in and heard of the problems of the African Continent that is now the size of Europe. Ten years ago, there were three countries in Africa; today there are 48. By these countries are now independent with their own governments. The problem of unrest in Africa is a result of the 4,000-mile long slave trade which was cradled much of Africa's history, but today sees and the world looked on hoping that this was the beginning of great success in that part of Africa. Ministers came to America seeking financial help in developing their country, but corruption soon found its way into government; elections were rigged so that certain persons were elected who used their positions for personal gain. Dr. Patterson believes that because of the lack of experience and the ignorance on the part of so many people, it will be a long time before Africa can become a stable land. Dr. Patterson urged his hearers to be more tolerant toward the Negro and help him achieve a place in the world.

It took a wheelbarrow for this "Baby" For the audience, it was "wonder what will be next?" as the wedding party and guests arrived for the Womanless Wedding sponsored by Youngsville Seniors. Here, Baby (William Strother) is pushed down the aisle to the laughs of the spectators by Usher Marvin Hill and Nurse (Larry Lindsey) is escorted by Usher Otha Hill. (Photo by Bob Allen)

It Took A Wheelbarrow for This "Baby"