Views And Reviews

By Jean Bond McCamy
The free TV, radio, and press space we got on the Arts and Crafts Festival would have cost approximately $4,000 in paid advertising. It drew a lot of people to Wake Forest who wouldn't have come otherwise, and it gave many local citizens a chance to display talents that no one knew about. Now, we need to start planning something else for the Spring. What shall it be?
Think about it. Make your suggestions, no matter how ridiculous or ambitious they might seem. The man who thought up Mule Day was probably called a nut — at first. And the Miss America Pageant was a molehill in the beginning, but look what a mountain it has become. What sort of Trade-mark can Wake Forest have?

This and That

By Martha Sandusky
Thursday night the cheerleaders had a bon fire at school and the Smithfield Red Devil was burned. At a pep rally in the gym Friday afternoon, the cheerleaders presented Devil Dolls to eight kids judged the most school spirited.
We lost the Friday Football game with Smithfield 12-13. During halftime Kathie Wishon was crowned Miss Homecoming.
Friday was College Day for seniors. The activities were held in Reynolds Coliseum on the Campus of N. C. State University and colleges from all over N. C. were represented.
Play practice for "Pride and Prejudice" have begun. The cast is as follows: Mr. Bennett — Harrison Hickman, Mrs. Bennett — Sharon Fuller, Jane — Debbie Scruggs, Elizabeth — Stannie Farish, Mary — Margaret Bobo, Catherine — Shirley Katherine Woolen, Lydia — Kathy McDonald, Mr. Collins — David Norton, Mr. Bingley — Tommy Fircloth, Miss Bingley — Judy Underwood, Mr. Carcy — Herbie Holding, Lady Catherine Bourgh — Martha Sandusky, Lady Lucas — Evelyn Tarn, Charlotte — Beverly Brown, Mr. Wickham — Clyde Cruser, Hill — Vann Wall.
Beta Club members are selling boxes of Kleenex 3 for $1.00. Now would be a good time to prepare for the sneeze-season to come.
Contestants for the Miss Rescue Squad contest have been named. Girls in the contest are: Kathy Wishon, Sue Pleasants, Kathy Stertz, Betsy Poerschke, Marte Thornton, Nancy Davis, Stannie Farish, Sharon Fuller, Billie Leigh Holding, Lindsey Tiffany, Gwen Woodlief and Linda Self. The contest will be held in January.

Don't forget the car wash the young people of Wake Forest Baptist Church are having Saturday from 10 til 4 behind the police station.
Let's Laugh
Suburban resident: It's grand to wake up in the morning and hear the leaves whispering outside your window.
Apartment dweller: It's ok to hear the leaves whisper, but I never could stand hearing grass moan.

Falls Community News

By Mrs. D. P. Jenks
Our loving sympathy is extended to the family of Miss Ethel Lowery who passed away last week. We shall miss Ethel here at Falls.
Miss Alice Crutchfield doesn't feel well, but we hope she will be better soon.

Mrs. W. E. Murray has a virus. Mr. and Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Pearl Watkins spent Monday night with Mrs. Mary Lowery.
Miss Denise Jenks celebrated her birthday with a party last Saturday at her home.

Miss Sherry Barham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Barham, celebrated her first birthday October 16.
Miss Lillian McReath spent a few days in Durham this week with Mrs. Ruben Smith.

All you old timers put on your thinking cap and see if you remember Mr. and Mrs. Coy Hays who lived here at Falls many years ago. I know you remember Mr. and Mrs. George Leonard. She was Miss Nora Frye. Do you remember Mr. and Mrs. Mose Frye? She was Miss Maggie Dollie.
Well, Mrs. Ellie Hays is 92 years old and Mrs. Maggie Frye is 84 and both live in Rocky Mount. Mrs. Nora Leonard is 88. Miss Mag is in a private home now where there are just a few people and Mrs. Oma Wadford tells me she looks fine and is really getting fat. Isn't it just great to hear from these friends and neighbors of other years.

Mrs. Martin Leonard is living at this time with the H. H. Carters on the Six Forks road where there are only a few elderly ladies cared for. You may go to see her sometime. But they have visiting hours; so call before you go.
Sanford Murray was in Wake Forest Hospital for a few days last week with a back injury. We hope he is better by now.
