By Mrs. Sudie Pratt
Our pastor is showing filmstrips each Sunday at 7:30. Last Sunday night we saw "The Triumphal Entry and Cleansing of the Temple", "The Passover Supper and Betrayal". Sunday night there will be two films dealing with the "Trail and Crucifixion of Jesus." We invite you to join us each Sunday at 7:30.

Last Saturday, Jack O'Neal's Junior Boys' Class played the Woodland Junior Boys in a game of basketball. We were defeated 44-14 too bad boys, better luck next time. The adult score was 63-61 in favor of the Woodland team, not to bad someone had to lose.

Wednesday 7:30, our pastor, Rev. James Davis taught our W.M.U. Study Course book "Mission: Northeast". We were glad to have two of our neighbor churches, Woodland and Ridgecrest ladies meet with us.

The Sunbeams will meet Sunday during the worship hour.
Mr. William Lowery is the deacon of the month.
We were saddened at the sudden death of our christian brother and teacher, Mr. Russel Alford. But knowing Mr. Alford, he would not have us grieve for him since he has reached that highest estate. The greatest tribute we could pay to him is pick up that Cross that he bore and march.
"For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." Philippians 1:21.
Little Shelia Ray has the mumps. Too bad you have to be out of school.

Proper Viewing of Solar Eclipse Saturday Extremely Important

One good look at a spectacular solar eclipse can be a blinding experience — literally!
Scientists at East Carolina University hope their warning won't scare off potential visitors to the campus on March 7 when one of nature's rare spectacles takes place: but they agree that the risk involved in viewing or photographing the eclipse warrants careful precautions.
The sun, for all its life-sustaining beneficence is no respecter of retinae. It can blind you, partially or totally, in one eye or both, depending on how and for how long you look directly at it. Although they may steal a quick glance in the sky to see how the sun shines, people just aren't in the habit of staring at it. Any strong light can hurt the eyes and it just seems instinctive to avoid that contact. A five-second stare, for example, could be sufficient to do permanent damage.

On impulse, folks will be tempted to slip on their sunglasses to watch, thinking themselves safe. Don't try it with sunglasses. They fail to filter those rays of the sun which can cause permanent damage. The same thing applies with cameras. Even with the proper neutral density or dark red filters mounted on the lenses of reflex cameras, don't chance looking through the viewfinder. No camera viewfinder is safe to look through when aimed at the sun.
There are, of course, several alternatives, although some are cheaper than others. For example, a piece of heavily smoked glass has sufficient filtration to permit relatively safe viewing for short periods of time. Simply take any piece of window glass and move it slowly over the flame of a burning candle until it is evenly and heavily smoked on one side. One word of caution: just a tiny smudge of the surface can undo your work, ruin its effectiveness, and possible result in damage.

Another idea, safer but more involved, is to build a small viewer using sheets of aluminized plastic and evenly exposed film. Sandwich the film between two pieces of the plastic and, presto, a viewer. Tape the edges together or mount your sandwich in a cardboard slide mount (it doesn't have to be very big) and you remove the chance of losing a piece. Aluminized plastic is available inexpensively from any scientific supply house and anyone who owns a camera can expose film.
Dr. R. M. Helms and Dr. Floyd Mathies, two ECU scientists heading up the eclipse preparations, agree that neither of these ideas should be recommended for children. Their natural curiosity and their lack of experience in following instructions could cause them to remove any visual barriers between them and the sun.

For everyone, but children especially, the safest way to watch the eclipse is to do so with the back to the sun. This can be accomplished easily by constructing a pinhole camera out of ordinary cardboard or a discarded film canister. Form a rectangular box three to four feet long, or cut a tube to that length. Close both ends. Poke a hole approximately one-eighth of an inch in diameter in the center of one end. Attach a piece of white paper inside at the base, cut a hole above it for purposes of viewing, and you are in business. Simply aim the pinhole at the sun, stand back to it, and view through the opening. A "camera" made with a yard-long tube or box will produce a solar image about a half-inch in diameter and will be perfectly safe.

Oak Grove BAPTIST NEWS

By Janet Cashe

Recently our church has voted and placed an order for new bulletins with the picture of the church in color. We feel that this will be more attractive, and are looking forward to receiving them.
This week our church has been engaged in the Annie Armstrong Week of Prayer for Home Missions. This is held each evening at 7:30. By the time you receive this there will be only two nights left for you to participate. Tonight the Mission action group of the W.M.S. will be in charge of the program. Friday night the G.A.'s will lead us in our study.

As of March 1 our music director, Jean Pearce, began teaching a study course concerning the fundamentals of Music. This study course is primarily for the adult and youth choirs; however all who are interested are welcome to attend. The study is being taught from 5:30-6:00 each Sunday afternoon.

The church has received Mike Copeland upon his profession of faith into the church membership. The date of baptismal will be set later.

We, as the church, would like to extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. Hubert Alford and Mrs. Ben

As you gaze at this scene of snow, ice, and leafless trees, your mind may skip ahead and picture green grass, abundant foliage, and a rippling stream. The very thought brings happiness. Spring makes the difference.
As grass, trees, and streams are fettered by winter, so some lives are bound by doubt, unbelief, lack of faith, and false ideas. When they come in contact with the Church, the love of God sets them free. They see new beauty in everything about them, and others see new beauty in their lives. As spring brings all nature to new life, so God's love makes human beings happier, gives them life more abundant.
No matter how strong the fetters which bind you, freedom can be yours through the Church and the message it brings to all. Why not accept that freedom today?

The Church Needs You - And You Need the Church - Come to Church!

Neuse Baptist News

By Mrs. Velma Chambers

Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Matt 28:19, 20.

Sunday, March 1st Neuse Baptist launched another great missions campaign, seeking to obey the command of the above scripture. Our faith promise goal is $20,000.00. The amount the budget is $12,500.00. Total goal for the year is $32,500.00. Last year goals were $15,000.00, amount promised $24,633.00, amount received $16,550.10. Total given $27,006.31. We do thank and praise God for making all this possible. If we can't go in person, we can go by prayer and by purse.

Missionaries who will be speaking and showing slides each night through Wednesday will be Rev. Richard Todd from Argentina, Rev. Lloyd Baker from the Philippines, Rev. Bobby Finch from Japan, and Rev. Bob Hughes from the Philippines. We are expecting great and successful services by and through the help of the Holy Spirit.

Everyone is invited to worship with us anytime you possibly can. We desire to share our blessings with you.

There were 440 in Sunday School and around 600 for the 11:00 a.m. service. Rev. Carey's sermon topic was "The Christian Helmet." This was a great soul stirring message. Our hearts rejoiced at the close of the service to see 4 people going forward, 2 for salvation and 2 for church membership. Pat Robertson and Henry King.

Sunday night at 7:00 p.m., Rev. Richard Todd showed slides of his work in Argentina. A great song service followed featuring our choir directed by Mr. Kay Hill, and our male quartet, Rev. Lloyd Baker from the Philippines was our guest speaker. He bought a wonderful message from Mark 6:32-42. His subject was "Jesus's Compassion on the Multitudes of people saying, Give Them To Eat." My! What a great message. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cox joined the church.

Sorry to hear Mrs. Betty Fowler was in Mary Elizabeth Hospital. We pray and trust she will be home soon and back in church. We are praying for all our sick which are too numerous to mention.
