

Travis Scott tour is coming to Raleigh

By Lorraine Henderson

One of the benefits of going to college here in the capital of North Carolina is that there is always a lot to do off-campus. Next month, multiple Grammy nominee and Houston rapper Travis Scott will be coming to the PNC Area.

Scott's concert tour, entitled "Astroworld: Wish You Were Here," will start at 7:30 p.m. on November 9 and will include Sheck Wes, Gunna, and Triple Redd.

Tickets range from $26 for seats to $230 for floor tickets.

To see how students on our campus are anticipating this event, talk to Zack Hunter, a junior business administration major. "I am very excited to go to the concert in a few weeks," Hunter said. "I'm so excited for the concert because it comes just in time for my birthday." Imani Prince-Gay, a sociology major, also plans to go. "I've been saving my money for weeks now just to get the best seats," Prince-Gay said. "This is my third concert seeing Travis and it's never like the others. He always something new to the stage – every time."

Tickets sales continues until the night before. Also, the concert will have accommodations for he disabled.

SAU and five other universities take part in celebration at governor's mansion

Saint Augustine's was among six local universities talking part in the 50th anniversary celebration of Cooperating Raleigh Colleges at the governor's mansion Sept. 24. The CRC is a nonprofit consortium that links the six institutions to one another and to the community.

SAU was well represented at the event, which included a number of officials such as Raleigh Mayor Nancy McFarlane.

The events from the first weekend of Homecoming are just to get things warmed up. The events continue throughout the week.

There is a pumpkin painting contest on Tuesday, Oct. 16, in the cafeteria where students can be creative and get into the fall spirit. Meanwhile later Tuesday night it's time to Turn Up with the Greeks with a silent headphone party where students can personally listen to whatever music they want – a new way to turn the party up.

Wednesday, Oct. 17, is the 1867 Break: Falcon Frenzy from 11 A.M. to 2 P.M. It's a student reunion! Mix and mingle with fellow Falcons along with music by Brian Dawson and Wade Banner of WQOK 97.5 FM. Like other events, this event also has a larger purpose; attendees are encouraged to support Breast Cancer Awareness month by wearing pink and denim. The event will be held at the Martin Luther King Mall.

Later that afternoon, our Lady Falcons from all years will be compete in a powder puff game out on the quadrangle. May the best class win! The game will be from 4 P.M. to 6 P.M.

On Thursday, Oct. 18, the 2018-

2019 Mister & Miss Saint Augustine's University Coronation takes place. The most elegant time of the year, his event recognizes our university's Royal Court, clubs and organizations. It is definitely a night to remember and honor the people who make our campus great. The event will be held in the Julia Chester Emery Gymnasium at 7 P.M.

The week continues Friday with the Blue White Experience (BWE) Yardfest – an all-day interactive event for students including vendors, food, merchandise and music right at the quadrangle from 11 A.M. to 4 P.M. Afterward, catch the Greeks at the Step Show battle it out to claim the win.

That is one of the most exciting events for Ellis Hill, a senior business major. "It's the most lit event and the energy is contagious," he said.

Homecoming wraps up Saturday,

Oct. 20. The day begins with the BWE Falcon Village Pre-Game Celebration from 9 A.M. to 11 A.M. in the quadrangle where Falcons can start preparing their team spirit for the game with Fayetteville State University Broncos. Tailgating stars as early as 7 A.M.

The football game will start at 1 P.M. at the George "Pup" Williams Athletic Complex. The general admission fee is $30.

The week will wrap up with BWE Falcon Village Post-Game Celebration in the quadrangle at featuring go-go/funk band EU, and special guests from the Atlantic records HBCU tour.

"I am excited to see the undergrads and alumni come together for the tailgate, said Mattie Rainey, a junior mass communication major. "I really enjoy the food and the game I believe that's the best part about Homecoming."
