FINE PAPER AND FILM GROUP

VOL. XXII, No. 1

FIRST QUARTER, 1976

Quarter-century service anniversaries were observed first quarter by these eight Film Division employees at Covington. They are, front row left to right: D. W. Groves, chief of guards; G. D. Mills, quality control supervisor; V. L. Jones, analytical supervisor; and W. F.

Murray, chemical and casting supervisor. The back row includes R. B. Brown, plant manager; E. M. Sikke-ma, protection supervisor; C. W. Sommis, senior maintenance engineer; and C. A. Pettit, coating supervisor.

TWO SAFETY HONORS WON BY FILM AT PISGAH FOREST

The Film Division plant at Pisgah Forest has scored double honors for its record with safety and loss prevention, according to John D. Link, vice president and general manager.

The plant passed the mark of 3,000,000 worker hours without disabling injury shortly after being chosen to represent the Fine Paper and Film Group in corporate-wide safety competition. This is the plant's second consecutive year for "Best in Group" and contender for selection as Olin's safest plant.

"Everyone concerned has justification to be proud of this record,"

Link wrote J. Donald Parker, plant manager, in notification of the "Best in Group" award.

"It also places a heavy burden of responsibility on the plant to live up to the honor of being chosen. Please accept my personal congrat-

FROM TRADE FAIR TO QUALITY '76

Olin's WNC Trade Fair exhibits were moved from the Asheville Civic Center to show windows of the former Pearlman's Furniture Store on Haywood Street where pedestrians are giving them considerable attention. Sharing the windows is the exhibit of Akzona, Inc., which begins at left in the photo above and extends 30 feet. Olin and Akzona agreed to this move when asked by the Quality '76 Bicentennial Committee of the Asheville Area Chamber of Commerce to help improve the appearance of downtown Asheville.
