

the CAMERA CATCHES

III SALUTES TO THOSE WHO SERVED

Gene Allison of Ecusta Maintenance got this going when he said that without the service of our military veterans, this country would not have had a Bicentennial to celebrate. This will be continued through the year, so pull out the dog-eared snapshot or the portrait from the piano; if not taken in military service, perhaps in other war effort. Thanks to those who have already, and for letting readers see how the camera has changed with time. Those held back will be used next issue, plus those at Watertown who were missed this time. See inside back page for identifications.

