Notice is hereby given to the ministers who are holding a charge in the North Arkansas Conference that each of you made the solemn promise at the last session of your conference that you would keep the law of the discipline by collecting from the members of your charge monthly the general fund, and that you would remit the same to the Conference Steward forthwith, that he might send it on to the General Steward. How shameful that not a single minister thus far has kept his word. Brethren you must keep the law of the church even if you care ever so little about your word. So let's have the general fund, please. Send money by registered letter or post office money order to W. W. Matthews, Conference Steward, 704 E. 17th St., Little, Rock

C. H. B., of Biltmore, N. C., says Rev. J. W. Williams, of Shiloh church, is doing well. He is going to soon be known throughout Zion as a pure gospel preacher and lecturer.

Rev. A. McIver, of Newton, N. C., is doing much. He has had a good revival and his church is prospering.

Rev. H. L. McKinney, of Evansville, Ind., is having financial success at Hood's Chapel. He raised over $40 recently with punch cards.

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.

BY W. H. PRINCE.

Dear Editor: We came to Biloxi Jan. 20th to take charge of Little State Street Church and found the situation critical, the trustee board having disbanded and the 13 members completely discouraged and at war with each other. The property is indeed valuable, fully worth $2.500, and is situated on Washington Street in a very popular part of the town; and to save this property will be the means of establishing Ziop along the Gulf Coast from Ocean Springs to New Orleans.

The yellow fever last Summer and Fall impeded every progress from which the Church could draw sustenance, hence the church got behind two quarterly payments on the 600 principal and the interest
