Dargan.-Eli N. Dargan was born in Anson County, N. C., April 3, 1837, and departed this life in Fuquay, N. C., in the home of his son, Rev. M. W. Dargan, of the North Carolina Conference, on the 15th day of April, 1918. Age 81 years, 12 days. He had been in feeble health for some years, but was confined to his bed only three days before he died.

He was married when a young man to Miss Virginia Wall, daughter of Wylie and Martha Wall, of Anson County. Two children were born unto them,-a daughter, who died in infancy, and a son, Rev. M. W. Dargan.

Soon after his marriage he moved to the eastern part of the State and made their home in Greene County until the death of his wife, seven years ago, after which he made his home with his son.

Brother Dargan was converted and joined the Methodist Church about 35 years ago, and remained a loyal member of the same through

He served the Church faithful y as steward and trustee for a number of years. He was faithful in his attendance on the services of the sanctuary. His home was always open to the preacher. As his pastor for four years on the Snow Hill Circuit, I was always made to feel welcome when visiting in his home. He was the preacher's friend. He had faith in God, trusted in Christ as his Savior, realizing that he was nearing the end he expressed himself as not fearing to die. Said he was prepared to go. He knew Jesus loved Him, and was trusting in Him. Just before losing consciousness, he gave some directions about his funeral, requested that the hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul," be sung at his funeral.

His funeral service was conducted by Rev. C. O. Durant, of Show Hill, assisted by Rev. S. T. Moyle of Farmville. His body was laid to rest by the side of his wife in the Grimsley Cemetery in Greene County to await the resurrection morning. May God bess the bereaved son and all surviving friends. J. M. BENSON,

Former Paster,

Foy.—J. T. Foy was born in Scott's Hill, N. C., November 16 1846. He passed from earth and its cares Friday morning, April 26, 1918.

In early life, the cares and responsibilities of a large estate fell on his young shoulders, but with prudent management and the counsel and advice of a gifted mother, the estate grew and prospered.

In young manhood his friends and neighbors recognized his ability as a leader among men. He was elected on the Board of County Commissioners in which capacity he served for about twelve years. He represented his county in the Legislature of North Carolina for several terms. also as Senator from Pender and Duplin Counties, all of which he served with great satisfaction to his people and credit to himself.

His attitude in every question was always determined by the right and justice of the issue, always on the moral side, and the uplift of his fellowmen.

His neighbors always sought his advice and counsel, which he would gladly give.

His leisure hours were spent in his home, never idling away his time but was always employed in a profitable way. For the last few years of his life he was not actively engaged in his favorite occupation. but he kept up with every detail on his large farm.

Many a weary traveler has found rest and comfort in his large palatial home, whose doors were ever open to his friends. His heart was as soft and tender as ever beat in a human breast. No appeal for assistance for the needy was ever turned away empty handed. What he did was not don ewith a Pharaeaical nature, but his right hand never knew what his left had done.

Brother Foy was a consistent and consecrated member of Wesleyan Chapel, M. E. Church, South, at Scott's Hill. He was a trustee of the Church and parsonage, ever ready to give of his means and his time for the advancement of the Master's cause.

In the death of Brother Foy, the Church has lost a valuable member. the county has lost one of its staunchest citizens, the community a kind and obliging neighbor, while the loss to his immediate family is beyond the expression of human tongue.

He leaves to mourn their great loss his wife, Mrs. Nora Foy, his companion for forty-six years, and three brothers, Mesrs. J. W. For and F. M. Foy of Scott's Hill and H. S. Foy of Winston-Salem.

The funeral services were held in the home of his boyhood days in the same room where the funeral services were held over the remains of his father and mother years ago.

The remains of Brother Foy were carried to Oak Dale Cemetery in Wilmington where in the presence of a large gathering of friends and acquaintances, his body was placed in a vault to await that day when Christ shall come again in all His glory and power and call the right-
