Citizens Depended Upon Councils to Take Action to Settle Grievances-Two Labor Leaders Are Indicted.

Philadelphia, March 3 .- For the first time in five years the citizens were excluded from the sessions of their chosen representatives this afternoon. An hour before the time of convening the select and common councils, a vast crowd had gathered manifest purpose of our statute is to the petition of citizens of Ansonville on the fourth floor of the city hall, protect the people from uncertain asking that the railroad company be but several stalwart policemen kept all save the councilmen, reporters and many pounds were stamped on the town within the corporate limits. The strike was practically ignored by both bodies. A message from Mayor Reyburn reviewed the situation briefly and stated his policy of noninterference in these words:

"It is not the city's duty, nor yours or mine, to interfere between the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company and its employes. The courts of law are available for the redress of any real grievances which either may against the other. No reason exists, nor can exist in proper cases, why they and all other disputants should not submit their differences to the courts or adjust their disputes between themselves.

"Any attempt, however honest it may be which tends to draw away from the parties themselves, or from the judiciary, the determination of disputes which, under the constitution and laws of the commonwealth are entrusted to them, necessarily weakens and impairs our form of government, and in the present case would but tend to prolong the agitation that will delay the restoration of full service by the transit company. This the public is entitled to have, and I confidently believe by the continuance of present peaceful conditions, it will about peace and good order I rely on the co-operation and aid of councils and the support of all law-abiding citizens." That the councils were entirely in accord with the views of the Mayor in the foregoing, was made evident by the absence of any action or discussion relative to the crisis. Several petitions from the Business Men's Associations and trade organizations, bearing on the strike were heard without comment. A resolution from the Central Labor Union, requesting arbitration, was introduced in the common council, but it was referred to the law
