Terrific Storm Plays Havoc With Shipping Along Atlantic Coast.

LIGHTSHIP

No. 72 Manages to Save Herself After Sending Out S. O. S. Call for Help-Virginia Peninsula Suffers Heavily.

Washington, January 3. - The South west gale which swept the Atlantic Coast States with great fury today had by tonight spent most of its force in that section of the country. In its path, however, the storm had left much damage to shipping and property and crippled wire communication. Up to a late hour tonight no loss of life had been reported.

The storm which struck Virginia with especial fury, later passed up the Atlantic coast and was tonight central over the lower St. Lawrence. The storm warnings were ordered displayed on the Atlantic coast from Eastport, Maine, to Wilmington,

North Carolina. The storm is remarkable, according to Weather Bureau officials, for both country in the form of a narrow north and south trough with only moderate intensity until today, when it developed into a terrific gale central over

The hurricane-like storm lashed up high waves from Sandy Hook to the rivers entering New York harbor, sinking tugs and barges and driving other craft into perilous positions. From capsized craft, scores of persons were rescued.

Sandy Hook was attacked by the hardest storm in years and immense waves broke over the government dock. Several steamships outward bound anchored in Sandy Hook bay. Tonight the wind still blew strong, but was shifting. The gale swept the Hudson Valley, unroofing buildings and causing a washout on the New York Central Railroad eastbound track near Garrison, N. Y. Only one track can be used until tomorrow. In Brooklyn, William Maher, a painter, was blown from a scaffold and killed and three small children were injured by boards and fire escape ladders blown from buildings Many freakish incidents marked the storm's progress. Wagons were overturned and a Dicycle Do from his perch on East river bridge. Flying paper and dusk caused horses to erash through plate-glass windows into stores.

A man working in a coal yard was blown 15 feet in a coal pocket and may die from his hurts. In Phillipsburg, N. J., a four-story building collapsed and a man was dug
