

ARCHBALD GUILTY, GETS FULL PENALTY

and had corruptly influenced them to agree to give him a favorable opinion on the Katydid culm dump owned in part by the Erie's subsidiary company, the Hillside Coal & Iron Company. The vote in detail on this charge was:

For conviction—Ashurst, Bankhead, Borah, Bourne, Brandegee, Bristow, Brown, Bryan, Burton, Chamberlain, Clapp, Clark, of Wyoming; Clark, of Arkansas; Crane, Crawford, Culberson, Cullom, Cummins, Curtis, Dixon, Dupont, Fletcher, of Georgia; Gallinger, Gore, Gronna, Hitchcock, Johnson, of Maine; Jones, Kenyon, LaFollette, Lippitt, Lodge, McCumber, McLean, Martin, Martine, Myers, Nelson, Newlands, O'Gorman, Owen, Page, Perkins, Poindexter, Pomerene, Reed, Richardson, Root, Sanders, Shively, Simmons, Smith, of Georgia; Smith, Maryland; Smith, Arizona; Smoot, Stevenson, Stone, Sutherland, Swanson, Thornton, Tillman, Townsend, Watson, Wetmore, Williams, Works.

Against conviction—Burnham, Catron, Oliver, Paynter and Penrose.

Absent, or not voting: Bacon, Bradley, Briggs, Chilton, Dillingham, Fall, Gamble, Gardner, Guggenheim, Heiskell, Arkansas; Jackson, Johnston, Alabama; Johnston, Texas; Lea, Overman, Percy, Smith, South Carolina; Smith, Michigan, and Watson.

The second charge was not sustained, the vote against Judge Archbald, 46 to 25, being two short of the necessary two-thirds.

On the third charge, involving the use of influence with the Lehigh Valley Railroad to force it to relinquish a lease on "Packer No. 3," a coal property which Judge Archbald wanted to get, the accused jurist was convicted by a vote of 60 to 11. Senator Brandegee, Clarke, of Wyoming; Crane, Smoot, Stephenson and Thornton, who had voted "guilty" on the first article, voted "not guilty on this charge."

Another verdict of "guilty" came on the fourth charge that Judge Archbald had wrongfully written to Helm Bruce, an attorney, in preparing a decision in a case then before the Commerce Court. The vote on this charge was 52 to 20. Senators Smith, of Maryland, voted "not guilty" on this charge were: Burton, Cullom, Dupont, Gallinger, Lippitt, McCumber, Root, Sutherland, Swanson, Warren and Wetmore, while Senator Thornton voted "guilty."

On the fifth charge that he had corruptly influenced officials of the Reading Railroad to grant a coal land lease to Frederick Warnke and had received compensation for this service, Judge Archbald received this vote: Senator Burnham, Catron, Clark of Wyoming, Oliver, Paynter and Penrose. He was convicted 66 to 6 on this article.

On the last article of impeachment alleging that Judge Archbald had sought credit from attorneys and litigants before him and had carried on a general business in coal land sales, many Senators asked to be excused from voting, declaring the charges were so general they could not conscientiously vote either way. The final vote resulted in conviction on this article also 42 to 20.

Judge Archbald received majorities in his favor on seven of the charges against him, besides the acquittal on the second article where the two-thirds vote against him was not obtained.

On the charge that he wrongfully accepted a purse of $500 raised among Scranton attorneys, the vote was 65 "not guilty" and one "guilty," the single vote being cast by Senator Ashurst, of Arizona.

Although a debate was permitted during the progress of the voting, many Senators asked to be excused from voting on certain charges because they did not believe the Senate had authority to take up acts committed by Judge Archbald before he was appointed to the Commerce Court, or because they believed the acts that might be characterized as "misbehavior" were not such as to constitute "high crimes and misdemeanors" involving the extreme penalty of the constitution.

Senator Root, in a statement filed during the voting in which Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, partly concurred, said: "I have voted that the respondent is guilty, under Articles 1, 2, 3, 5 and 13, because I find that he used the power and influence of his office as Judge of the Court of Commerce to secure favors of money value for himself and his friends, from railroad companies, some of which are litigants in the court, and all of which are under the relation of the Inter-State Commerce Commission subject to the Court of Commerce.

peachment is not limited to the commission of acts, but that the clause fixing the tenure of Federal judges to during good behavior, has a broader significance in facts, means just what it says. The appointment of Federal judges by the President and the confirmation of the Senate is the exercise of "political" power and the unseating of a judge is the exercise of a political power by the Senate, representing the States and the people."

RECEIVE AUDITOR'S REPORT

"I have carefully checked his records and find that all moneys due the county have been turned over to your treasurer and properly receipted for. There are no criminal delinquents on his docket.

"Various funds in his care covering matters of probate, minors, etc., $13,752.71, have been carefully handled. I have verified balances shown on his pass books with banks in which they are deposited.

"It appears that his vault is crowded. I recommend that additional book shelves of the character now in use be provided by placing additional shelves on top of cases, extending same to the ceiling, in order that the records of the county in his care may continue to be so placed that they are readily accessible. In this connection I wish to call your attention to fact that suitable racks and compartments should be installed in basement's vaults. The records there are in a very unsatisfactory condition. I consider this most important.

"The compensation received in this office is entirely from fees, the amount of same I have no means of ascertaining.

The recommendation as to the increased vault room was referred to the Court House Committee, Col. John VanB. Metts, chairman, for further report.

Register of Deeds.
The Register of Deeds' office: "The only source of income for the county from this office is from marriage licenses, the money being turned over to the treasurer monthly; the State's portion is turned over to the sheriff. This office also issues all business licenses, and the money is collected by the sheriff. I have checked these records and found all moneys properly accounted for. The records all appear to be in good shape.

"The same recommendation in regard to additional shelving for Clerk Superior Court applies here also.

"The compensation of this office is from fees received. I have no means of ascertaining full amount received per annum.

Upon motion the portion of the report recommending that more room in the vault be secured in the Clerk's office was also left with the Court House Committee for report.

The following reference to the county attorneys was left with the chairman: "Besides their regular duties they collect delinquent taxes, for which they receive 10 per cent. of amount recovered. This is in addition to their annual compensation of $1,000.

"I have not attempted to list these delinquent taxes. There are open items dating as far back as 1871, and these open items I am informed, amount to between $25,000 and $30,000, of which it is estimated that about 10 per cent. are collectible.

"I am further informed that many errors were made in original listings, and that some of taxes charged were on land now in Pender county. However, it is a question for you to decide as to the wisdom of a revision of these lists to date."

The report as to county attorneys was also referred to the chairman.

WILSON PREDICTS PARTY SOLIDARITY

that great impulse that now moves the whole people of the United States. "I do not foresee any serious division of counsel in the Democratic party as a National body. On the contrary, I find every evidence of solidarity. I see every evidence that men who have not hitherto yielded their argument to the movement of the age are now about to yield their argument. I will not say they will. They do not seem to be acting under compulsion—they are beginning to yield their argument to the common judgment of the Nation. Because I find in discussing questions of business, contrary to the impression which in some editorial rooms—that in speaking to me of business, I am speaking to men whose vision is swinging around to the path which the Nation has marked out for itself."

"This Nation is full of honorable men who have been engaged in large business in a way in which they thought they were permitted to do both by their consciences and the law. But they have had their eyes closed to their ledgers; they have had their energies so absolutely absorbed in the undertakings with which they were industrially identified that they have not until the Nation spoke loud raised their eyes from their books and papers and seen how the things they were doing stood in relation to the fortunes of mankind.

"Now they are beginning to see these relationships and as they see these relationships they are beginning to feel the refreshment of men who look away from a particular task and extend their eyes to the fortune of men lying outside their usual ken, beyond their touch—the great bodies of men who would go a long with them, hope and struggle and achieve.

"You cannot whip a Nation into line. You cannot drive their leaders before you. You have got to have a spirit that thrills the whole body and I believe that that spirit is now beginning to thrill the whole body.

"A man can accomplish a great deal more in business, as I need hardly tell you, by the belief that people have in him that faith that inspires. And some men have made the profound mistake so far as their individual success is concerned of trying to succeed not by persuasion, not by confidence, but by creating the consciousness that they can spoil the careers of the men who do not work."

"I suppose some people have the idea that I love to fight just for the fun of it. Now, that is not in the least my temperament. I am really a very tame, amenable person; but I do love to feel in my blood the splendid satisfaction of fighting for something, something that is bigger than myself, and trying for the time at least to think I am as big as the thing I am fighting for."

"That is solid satisfaction and when I can, for the time being, represent the Democratic party and find that the Nation as a whole is thawing out towards the Democratic party, and more and more coming to believe that the Democratic party can do the thing which the country has been waiting for, then I enjoy the immense satisfaction of being part of a thing that is so much bigger than I am, that I can dream, at any rate, that I am taking my own measure by the think I belong to."

Telegrams came from Democratic committeemen throughout the Union congratulating the Governor in his halting today. New Jersey's ballot will be carried to Washington by Fitzwilliam McMaisters Woodrow, a cousin of the President-elect and a student of Princeton University.

Tomorrow the New Jersey Legislature will convene and will receive Governor Wilson's final message.

The Washington, Jan. 13—Elected in 48 States met today and formally elected Woodrow Wilson to the Presidency and Thomas R. Marshall to the Vice Presidency of the United States.

Returns prepared by the electors chosen at the polls last November are now on their way by mail to Washington to the president-elect of the Senate. Another set of these returns will be brought in person by an elector chosen from each State, to be canvassed February 12th, in joint session of the Senate and the House, when Governor Wilson formally will be proclaimed President.

In two of the States Utah and Vermont, four votes each were cast for President Taft for President and Nicholas Murray Butler for Vice President, the latter having been named by the Republican National Committee to succeed the late James S. Sherman on the Republican ticket.
