

JNO. C. PARRISH DEAD

Well Known Robeson Citizen—Maxton News Notes (Special Star Correspondence.) Maxton, N. C., April 10.—Mr. Jno. C. Parrish, a contractor and for five terms mayor of Maxton and later superintendent of the engineering force of the public road construction of Robeson county, died here at his home last night.

About 7 o'clock Mr. Parrish was seen and talked with by different ones on the streets and seemed in his usual good health. At about 9 o'clock he was found in an unconscious condition on the street leading to his home. Near him was his bicycle from which he had fallen. On being carried to his home nearby and an examination being made it was found that he had suffered a stroke of paralysis. In spite of all the efforts of his physician he never rallied and died about 2 o'clock this morning. He is survived by a wife, two sons, Will and Marvin, and by three daughters, Misses Katie, May and Lillie.

The funeral will take place at Carolina Presbyterian church, of which he was a member, near his old homestead about 14 miles from Maxton tomorrow morning. Mr. B. F. Maness returned from Charlotte last night where he had been to consult an oculist in regard to an accident he had a few days before. While superintending the erection of a house a nail flew out from under the hammer of one of the carpenters and struck him in the eye. As a result of this unusual accident he will lose the sight of the member.

FRED OLIVER DEAD

Well Known Charlotte Citizen Passed Away at Early Hour Charlotte, N. C., April 10.—The city was shocked on awakening this morning to hear that Mr. Frederick Oliver, one of its most prominent men and foremost citizens, had passed in the night, his death occurring at 10 minutes after 1 o'clock at his residence, on Sunnyside avenue, Piedmont Park. Mr. Oliver's death was sudden, but not without warning, as he had been almost acutely sick for several days, and not well for some months, he suffering with chronic rheumatism and shortness of breath. The immediate cause of his death was pneumonia, resulting from a cold he contracted Friday last, while working in the city. He became overheated, and afterward developed a severe cold. Through Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights he was unable to sleep, his family being up with him the greater part of the nights. With his characteristic vigor and energy he insisted on attending to his business up to yesterday. As late as yesterday he remained indoors, being scarcely able to breathe, and complaining of his head. He was delirious at times, throughout the afternoon, but rallied mentally before night.

His breathing which was labored became better about 12:30, and Mrs. Oliver and Miss Alice Oliver, his daughter, who were the only persons in the house, felt relieved, but continued their watch. At 2 o'clock Mr. Oliver breathed deeply several times, and in a few minutes death came, the end being free from suffering and gentle as sleep.

GREAT HEALTH MEETING

Experts to Gather at Greenville, S. C., For a Conference (Special Star Correspondence.) Greenville, S. C., April 10.—Health workers from four States will gather in Greenville May 19th to 24th to attend a Municipal Sanitary Congress, and to take part in the various discussions of pressing health problems of today. Invitations have been sent to practically every important city in South Carolina, and to the larger cities of North Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee, asking them to take part in this unique congress. Replies already received from a number of them, indicate that there will be a representative attendance from every section of this territory.

Dr. J. Adams Hayne, of Columbia, State health officer, for South Carolina, will preside over the gathering. Dr. W. S. Rankin, of Raleigh, State health officer of North Carolina, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address on an important phase of the public health problems of the present day, and letters have been received from various other cities assuring their interest in the gathering and stating that they will be well represented. The congress will be held during the "Made-in-Greenville" Exposition, the Pure Food and Health Exposition, the Greenville Horse Show, and other interesting events, and a general home-coming week is also planned for the Mountain City during these days.

Dr. Clarence E. Smith, commissioner of health, for Greenville, has charge of the plans for the Sanitary Congress.

COLD STORAGE PRODUCTS.

Prices Have Become Higher Since Industry Was Commercialized. Washington, April 10.—Higher prices for cold storage products have been the rule ever since the industry became a commercialized industry, as shown by data for more than 30 years back collected by the department of Agriculture. George K. Holmes, chief of the division of production and distribution of the department, has discovered from a comprehensive study of these figures that from 1902 to 1911, there was a general but not invariable rise in prices as compared with the preceding years before cold storage was a developed industry. As to uniformity of prices, he finds that the contentions of the cold storage interests that cold storage has counted for uniformity of prices, is largely true, although it is not true for all commodities nor for all comparisons of years and periods of years.

There is a tendency towards such uniformity, he says, in dressed poultry, butter, eggs and mutton while the reverse is true as to fresh beef and fresh pork.

Calcutta, India, April 10.—A detachment of Chinese troops today attacked a battalion of police attached to a British surveying party on the frontier of Burma. The hill men in considerable numbers joined forces with the Chinese. The British column repulsed the attack, but sustained a few casualties. Among the wounded was Sir Charles Bernard, chief commissioner and head of the surveying party.

COTTON MILL MEN.

American Manufacturers Conclude Session in Washington—Tariff. Washington, April 10.—The final session of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association ended today with the election of officers. The nominations committee, appointed on the first day of the convention, has prepared a slate.

Reports of the secretary and treasurer and of the committee on resolutions and the committee on tariff and other legislation were read. The following officers and members of the board of governors were elected: President, S. W. Cramer, Charlotte, N. C.; vice president, T. I. Hickman, N. C.; secretary and treasurer, C. B. Bryant, Charlotte, N. C. The new board members are G. H. Lanier, Georgia; E. E. Calloway, Georgia; J. D. Hammett, South Carolina; A. A. Thompson, North Carolina; Scott Maxwell, Alabama; Arthur R. Shary, Massachusetts; and C. B. Armstrong, North Carolina.

During the discussion of the proposed reduction in cotton tariff rates, Retiring President Erwin took issue with Secretary Redfield, who declared that if the cotton industry needed protection, its members "would be industrial cowards."

Erwin declared that Secretary Redfield knew nothing regarding the cotton industry and that he would not have made his remark if he had been familiar with conditions. "I am satisfied," continued Mr. Erwin, "that President Wilson will insist that certain measures be enacted in conformity with party pledges; possibly free wool, free steel and free sugar. But I have never seen any pledge regarding free or nearly free cotton. If there had been such a party pledge, Mr. Wilson would not be President of the United States today."

The report of the committee on tariff on cotton becomes law, it will "do irreparable injury to the industry because a condition of depression in cotton manufacturing that will be appalling."

MONEY FOR 'GETTES.

The Militants Secure Contributions of 15,000 Pounds Sterling. London, April 10.—"Our answer to the government's cat an mouse is 15,000 pounds added to our war chest tonight," said "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, in closing the suffragette meeting at Albert Hall, over which she presided. It was the biggest meeting ever held by the Women's Social and Political Union.

The subscriptions included two for 1,500 pounds ($7,500) each and two for 1,000 pounds each. Among the American contributors were Mrs. August Belmont and Mrs. J. J. White of New York, and Miss Scott-Troy of San Francisco.

Great laughter greeted the announcement of a subscription of half of a crown, accompanied by a bogus note, signed by the chancellor of the exchequer, David Lloyd-George. The note read: "I have great pleasure in presenting to you my first dividend from my Marconi wireless shares."

In opening the meeting Mrs. Drummond said: "Fight on! Fight on! That is the message that Mrs. Pankhurst would send us from Holloway jail, were she able to get it out, and fight on is what we intend to do."

Mrs. Drummond won applause when she quoted incendiary passages from the speeches of Sir Edward Carson, Andrew Bonar Law and Frederick E. Smith, on the new republic. Introducing for "men" the word "women," and for "ulster," "votes for women."

Since the government did not arrest these politicians for such "incitements to violence" she presumed that it is safe for her to repeat what they said with the slight changes made.

Mr. Wilson is called upon to exercise a Brand New Office. Washington, April 10.—Woodrow Manich, who first saw the light of day March 4th, in Wapato, Yakima county, Wash., is to have for his Godfather the President of the United States, and a telegram announcing the honor will be received by his proud father, Peter Manich, today.

Manich wrote to the President in German and the letter had to be translated. He informed the President that young Woodrow was the 16th child that had been born to him and Mrs. Manich and that he, Mrs. Manich and his sons and daughters of voting age were all Democrats and had cast a vote for the Democratic ticket when the new arrival reached the age of 21, he, too, would vote the Democratic ticket or a riot in the Manich family would follow.

Three-Year-Old Daughter of Holly Springs Merchant the Victim of Fire. Raleigh, N. C., April 10.—The 3-year-old daughter of W. L. Brewer, a merchant of Holly Springs, 20 miles south of Raleigh, was burned to death today while playing with matches in the child alone, went for a pail of water. When she returned, finding the little girl enveloped in flames, she dashed the water on her and extinguished the fire, but the child soon died from the injuries.

Atlanta, Ga., April 10.—Delegates from several Southern cities attended the opening sessions today and tonight of the 25th annual Southern conference of the Unitarian Church. President Charles H. Patterson, of New Orleans, presided at the afternoon session and delivered his annual address. Rev. George K. Holmes, of New Orleans, was the principal speaker at tonight's session.

BRAZIL IS FIRST.

South American Nation Cables Recognition of New Chinese Republic. Peking, April 10.—The Brazilian government, anticipating similar action on the part of the United States, has cabled to the Chinese government its recognition of the new republic. The Brazilian and Chinese flags were displayed together over the government offices today.

Recruiting started abroad yesterday that Li Yuan Hung, vice president of the republic and long the rival of President Yuan Shi Kai for the leadership, had been assassinated, are declared to be untrue. Both the President and Vice President are constantly guarded in fear that their political opponents may be plotting against them.

Duchess Operated Upon Chronic Intestinal Obstruction Disclosed by Hospital Surgeon. London, April 10.—The Duchess of Connaught was operated upon this morning at Clarence House by William Arbuthnot Lane, chief surgeon of Guy's Hospital. The operation was a severe one but was borne well by the Duchess. The night bulletin on the condition of the Duchess of Connaught announces that she is making good progress, the pulse and temperature being normal.

The operation disclosed chronic intestinal obstruction, due to inflammatory causes. When a bouquet from Miss Zeelie Emerson was handed to Mrs. Drummond there was an outburst of cheers. George Lansbury, ex-socialist member of the House of Commons, demanded the immediate release of Mrs. Pankhurst and her fellow prisoners and abandonment of the "torment of forcible feeding." He urged the militants to continue to burn and destroy property.

If a leader is taken away," he said, "let a dozen women step forward and take her place. This is a war in which we shall do our best to preserve human life but show no regard for property of any kind."

The whole audience rising responded lustily to a call for three cheers for Mrs. Pankhurst.

Samuel Behrends For Councilman Third Ward. If you own a house or expect to own one; if you rent a house or expect to rent one, what profit do you own a house, vacant, because exorbitant taxation makes the rent so high that a tenant cannot pay it, or how can new people come to a city, where too high a taxation prevents the erection of dwellings for them? Let us make both ends meet. We have a good city, if evenly balanced.
