House Caucus Adopts Original Cotton and Wool Tariff Schedules

Western Senators Say Mr. Wilson Overstepped Bounds in Interfering With Legislative Matters-Representations.

Washington, April 16 .- The Democratic caucus voted decisively late today to support the wool schedule of the Underwood tariff bill, placing raw wool on the free list, after Representative Underwood had made a stirring appeal for the support of the caucus. By a vote of 190 to 42, an amendment offered by Representative Dies, of Texas, to place raw wool on the dutiable list, was rejected.

Representative Dies' amendment proposed to place a duty of 15 per cent. ad valorem on raw wool, he and other champions of dutiable wool asserting that this was the judgment of the Ways and Means Committee before President Wilson saw the bill and suggested a change.

Majority Leader Underwood, in attempt at valorization in this counwinding up the discussion, warmly de try but the 20,000 bags of coffee was fended both the committee and the part of the security for a loan made ad a right to make suggestions to a Congress relating to the tariff, that the bill as a whole met with the chief executive's approval when he first read it as it came from the com- by April 10th the suit would be dis-

"Out of 4,000 and more items in the bill", said Mr. Underwood, "the President only made two suggestions, those affecting the sugar and wool schedules. It seems to me that we should accept those suggestions from the President of the United States."

Representatives Rainey, of Illinois, and Harrison, of New York, also spoke on behalf of the committee, defend-ing its action and the attitude of the President. The attack upon the committee and the President began as soon as the insurgent Democrats began consideration of the bill. Representative Alexander, of Missouri, declared the committee overstepped all proper bounds in holding up President Wilson as a club over the heads of the members and that the President had exerted "undue influence" in having wool placed on the free list in the Representative Dies insisted that the government was made up of three distinctive branches with separate duties to perform. "It is not only the right of Congress," he said, "to originate revenue measures, but its exclusive right and any attempt from another branch of the government to dictate or interfere with that right should not be permitted by this body."

The debate on this phase of the tariff fight was heated and prolonged. Unofficially it was said at the White House that the campaign to make Mr. Moore Secretary of Agriculture had been extensive; that members of Congress in various parts of the country had been canvassed and that a letterwriting campaign had been conducted mong Weather Bureau employes. Prof. Moore has been a target for attack in Congress. Virginia's Chief Executive Has Attack of Appendicitis

Richmond, April 16.—Governor Wm. Hodges Mann, is ill at the executive mansion tonight with a mild form of appendicitis. While members of his family expressed some uneasiness over his condition, his physicians stated that it was not serious and that it was not likely an operation would be performed or that he would be removed to a hospital. Two physicians who were called into consultation today confirmed the diagnosis that he was suffering with appendicitis. As a result of his illness the Governor was unable tonight to speak at the opening session of the Conference for Education in the South and the reception which was to follow at the mansion was cancelled. At midnight the physicians announced that he was resting easily and that there were no alarming developments.
