George A. Newell, the defendant, whose paper, the Iron Ore, of Ishpeming, Mich., alleged that Col. Roosevelt "got drunk and that not infresat at a table with his lawyers, William P. Belden, of Ishpeming, and Horace Andrew, of Cleveland. He appeared exhausted from his serious illness and sat most of the time with his eyes closed. The former President was one of a number occupying seats within the railing, and by his side during most of the afternoon sat Mr. Garfield. Myron Sherwood, a local lawyer, and mine owner, a casual visitor at the trial, by chance occupied the seat on Col. Roosevelt's left, but they found time to whisper a few words to each other which seemed to be of a jocular and pleasing nature, the former President smiling and Sherwood choking off a laugh with difficulty. The spectators only comfortably filled the room as entrance was barred after all seats had been taken. During the day Judge Richard C. Flannigan, who presided, received a elegram from Minneapolis as follows: Don't let this sensational trial continue until I have arrived." It was signed Jacob Miles. Judge Flannigan turned the message over to Frank Tyree, who was one of Roosevelt's guards while President, and here as a witness. Chief of Police of Miles' City telegraphed that he has been placed under arrest.

James H. Pound, of Beloit, questioned the venire for the plaintiff. His assistant attorneys are William H an Benschoten, of New York, and W i. Hall, of Marquette. The Detroit lawyer made it a point to ask possijurors as to their acquaintance with the principals in the defendant's legal camp, and about their acquaintance with H. O. Young. Mr. Young was elected to Congress from the Marquette district as a Republican, but the Progressive candidate, McDonald, set up a claim in the House that he had a moral right to the election as a large number of pernocently used erroneous ballots. Beore a decision was reached at Washington Young resigned. Counsel for the plaintiff are interested in the rethat remarks made by Young really inspired Newell to write the aleged libelous article. Opposed counsel who put the questions differently, asked if a venireman would be prejudiced against either party to the suit: community while the plaintiff is a resident of the American Fed against State, prejudice you against the plaintiff?" was the way in effect that Mr. Pound put it. The President's Statement. statement: "I think that the public ought to know the extraordinary exertions being made by the lobby in certain alterations of the tariff bill. Washington has seldom seen so numerous, so industrious, or so insidious a lobby. The newspapers are being filled with paid advertisements calculated to mislead the judgment of public men not only, but also the public opinion of the country itself. There is every evidence that money without limit is being spent to sustain this lobby and to create an appearance of a pressure of public opinion antagonistic to some of the chief items of the tariff bill.

"It is of serious interest to the country that the people at large should have no lobby and be voiceless in these matters, while great bodies of astute men seek to create an artificial opinion, and to overcome the interests f the public for their private profit. is thoroughly worth the while of the people of this country to take knowledge of this matter. Only public opinion can check and destroy it. "The government in all its branch-

May Free-list Wheat. Following the statement made several days ago by Senator Williams, of the Finance sub-committee which has the agricultural schedule under consideration that the duty on live stock and the products and grains and their products would be equalized, it was reported today that the committee had agreed to put wheat on the free ist along with wheat flour. In the Underwood bill wheat is given a duty of ten cents a bushel while wheat flour is free of duty. It also was reported that the committee probably would recommend removal of the 10 per cent. duty on cattle, sheep and hogs in conformity to the free listing of all fresh meats in the Underwood
