Suffragettes Will Answer Attack Today-Speaker Denies Assertions Made by Advocates of Votes for Women.

Washington, Dec. 4.--Women opposed to equal suffrage had their inning today before the House Committee on -Rules. They entered a vigorous protest against the resolution which would create a suffrage standing committee in the house of Representatives. Yesterday the suffragists appeared favoring such a committee.

Scores of women from various parts of the country, marshaled by Mrs. Arthur Dodge, of New York, appealed to the committee not to grant the suffragists' plea. Tomorrow the suffragists will answer the attack, Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, of Chicago, having been chosen to sum up Though the anti-suffrage women occupied much of the day, their argument was closed by a man, Everett P. Wheeler, of New York, representing the Man Suffrage Association. Holding aloft a picture of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Association for World Manager Manage tional American Association for man Suffrage, Mr. Wheeler said: "When I saw this person here yesterday shake her clenched fist and declare 'we demand our rights,.' I said to myself 'Clenched fists mean fight,'

Working Women Opposed. Woman's speakers declared working been before the committee on ex- needed the franchise and were strongly in favor of it. It was contended that the suffrage movement was sporadic in its nature and that the ballot was not wanted by as many women as the suffragists declare. Mrs. Dodge said the speakers represented "more than 90,000 American women, all over voting age. Miss Alice Hill Chittenden declared the equal suffrage question should be left to the States; that there were more than two and a half million women of voting age in New York, the majority of them foreign born, and that it should not be left to other States to say whether they should be added to the New York electorate. Mrs. P. D. Oliphant, secretary of the New Jersey association, opposed to woman suffrage, said her organization was less than two years old with a membership of more than 1,000 wo-men, 90 per cent of them wage earn-ers. She said she had been campaigning among the grangers of her State whom she found, both men and women, to be unalterably opposed to wo-a factory worker, declared that working girls do not want the ballot.

"It would be better," she said, "for the men to get increased salaries that they might marry and take the girls out of the factories.' Would Decrease Efficiency.

That the efficiency of the electorate would be decreased by equal suffrage was asserted by Mrs. Lucy J. Price, of Cleveland, who contended women of the non-intelligent class would vote just as their husbands are voting now by their leaders. Mrs. Emmeline Pitt, of Pittsburg, secretary of the Iron Trades Central Council, declared that "not 25 per cent of the American working women are interested in the ballot. The liquor question was discussed by Mrs. F. J. Goodwin, of New Jer-sey, who cited examples of the triumph of the liquor interests where women have the ballot. Eight out of nine prohibition States in the Union, she said, still have male suffrage Miss Ella Dorsey, of the District of Columbia, said that men who control government ever have and ever will be influenced by good women.
